French Find Mass Grave Of Algerians

400 To 500 Slain For Plot To Betray Nationalist Cause

PARIS (AP)—Political tensions and violence built up Monday in France and French overseas territories, six days before the vote on Premier De Gaulle's projected Fifth Republic. The most sensational development was a story of Algerian mass atrocity as told by the French.

Algerian rebel partisans appeared to be increasing their sabotage efforts in France itself.

An explosion ripped through a big auto tire and rubber goods plant in the suburbs of Paris. Two persons were killed and 21 injured. Laboratory experts said tests indicated the blast had been set off by saboteurs.

Algerian nationalists opened a campaign of sabotage, bombings and shooting on the French home front Aug. 25, striking first at industrial targets. Fourteen French police and soldiers have been slain since then.

In Algeria, French authorities said the bodies of 400 to 500 nationalist rebels were found in a mass grave in the Kabilyie mountains about 100 miles east of Algiers.

An official announcement said the dead were members of a rebel unit, slain for plotting to betray the nationalist cause. The French said the bodies had been mutilated.

French troops moved into the area, a stronghold of the nationalist rebellion, and opened an attack on rebel hideouts.

France meanwhile protested formally to Morocco, Tunisia and Libya over their recognition of the four-day-old Algerian rebel government. Highly placed sources said no more serious action is envisaged and diplomatic ties would not be cut.

France said last week it would consider recognition of the rebel regime an unfriendly gesture.

Official government sources in Paris publicly condemned Sunday's attack on the constitution proposals by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. But privately the same sources were anything but dismayed by Khrushchev's stand.

Faubus Plans To Reopen High Schools Next Week

Racial Problem Brought Before Dixie Governors

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Monday he expects to reopen high schools in Little Rock next Monday, or possibly later in the week, after a vote on the question of admitting Negroes.

The Arkansas governor made the statement at the Southern Governors Conference.

He has proposed a plan for operating the schools as private institutions.

"We don't anticipate any legal difficulty," said Faubus, "but there could be litigation brought by the federal government. If they want to tie everything up and keep the schools closed further, that will be their responsibility."

Florida's Gov. LeRoy Collins brought the integration controversy squarely before the governors in a speech suggesting that it become "the first order of business" of Congress next January.

National Calamity Feared

As things are going, Collins said, the dispute could lead to a "national catastrophe." He did not elaborate on the nature of such a calamity.

Faubus closed four Little Rock schools when the U.S. Supreme Court refused to grant a 30-month delay for integrating them.

The referendum, required under state law, will be held Saturday to determine whether Little Rock citizens prefer to reopen the schools on a private, segregated basis.

Faubus said the question of who will operate the schools will depend on how the vote comes out.

"Tragically I see little hope for pulling out of this crisis—short of national catastrophe — if we continue to follow the present pattern of events," Collins said at the opening business session.

McKeldin Plans Resolution

His speech, focusing attention on integration although it was not on the agenda, drew varying reactions from other governors.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland said "It is realistic to place the primary dependence for obedience to the law on local school boards.

"We do not need an act of Congress to spell out for us what the decision of the Supreme Court has made so clear—that a citizen is a citizen," McKeldin said.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia said he has prepared a resolution that will counter one McKeldin said he would place before the conference. McKeldin has said his resolution would call for support of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, or in effect, integration.

At a press conference earlier, Griffin said his proposal would put the conference on record to protect the government "of the several states against all federal encroachment."

Top Assistant To Ike Blasts "Vilification"

President, "With Sadness," Accepts Aide's Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sherman Adams resigned under fire Monday night as President Eisenhower's top assistant.

The former New Hampshire governor said that he has been beseiged by "a campaign of vilification" by those seeking to remove him from public life and it is clear these efforts "have been intended to destroy me and in so doing to embarrass the administration and the President of the United States."

Adams announced his decision to get out of the second highest job in the White House in a dramatic nationwide television-radio appearance. He said his action is "final and unqualified. It is not open to reconsideration."

Adams had flown to Newport, R. I., Monday morning for a surprise conference with Eisenhower at the latter's vacation headquarters, then hurried back to Washington and completed arrangements for the broadcast.

Eisenhower accepted the resignation "with sadness."

Accepted Goldfine Favors

Back of the resignation is the disclosure last June that Adams accepted costly gifts and favors from wealthy Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine while Goldfine was in difficulty with two federal agencies.

Adams acknowledged accepting the favors, but said he got no favored treatment for Goldfine from any federal agency.

The clamor for Adams to quit rose loudly at the time, died down a bit, then thundered out again after the Republicans took a stunning licking in the Sept. 8 Maine election — in which the Goldfine case was a factor.

Adams said that in making his decision to resign—he did so within the past few days—one factor he considered was whether staying on in his high position "might possibly diminish the chances which my party has of regaining control of the Congress in the November elections."

He said it was a difficult decision to make.

Wrongdoing Denied

Adams said he had tendered the resignation in Monday's conference with Eisenhower at Newport and the President had accepted it, to become effective as soon as an orderly transition can be arranged for the transfer of his duties and responsibilities.

Speaking slowly, deliberately and solemnly, Adams read a thousand-word text.

"I am now about to retire, after nearly six years, from the position in which I have served with pride and which I have given my best efforts to hold with honor," he said.

The chief executive's right hand man said "I have done no wrong." He said too, that it had never been his nature to run in the face of adversity.

"Against my distaste for giving any grounds whatever to the charge of retreating under fire," Adams continued, "against my desire to complete my duty during the remaining two years of the term for which President Eisenhower was elected, I must give full consideration to the effect of

U.S., Red China Envoys To Meet Again Thursday

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — With storm signals flying East and West, the United States and Communist China Monday resumed direct negotiations which American officials still hope will lead to a cease-fire in Formosa Strait.

With Peiping radio reiterating demands that Nationalist China evacuate the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu and that U. S. forces quit the area, U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Communist China's Wang Ping-nan met for an hour and 45 minutes. It was their third session since the current series of talks began a week ago.

That the session did not destroy all hope seemed evident when the two announced they will meet again Thursday at 3 p.m.

Neither Beam nor Wang would say anything more to reporters clustered in a drizzly fog outside Mysliwiecki Palace. Both sped off in limousines to their respective embassies—barely a block apart.

The word in Warsaw was, that unless there are definite signs of progress by this weekend, the United States will toss the problem to the United Nations General Assembly or Security Council.

Usually well-informed Communist sources said Red China was insisting on moving the whole problem of Formosa and the offshore islands to a high international level with Peiping represented as an equal.

Just who would be at such talks and at how high a level was not stated, but Red China was said to be demanding such a meeting outside the U. N., where the Nationalists hold China's seat. These sources expressed doubt an invitation to come to a U. N.-Formosa debate without membership would satisfy the Communist government.

Stabbed Dixie Negro Leader Has Pneumonia

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rev. Martin Luther King, Southern Negro integration leader who was stabbed and critically wounded by a Negro woman Saturday, has developed pneumonia, it was disclosed Monday.

A spokesman at Harlem Hospital said X-rays revealed a small patch of pneumonia in the right lower lung of the 29-year-old minister who led the successful bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala.

He said King was "still very comfortable" despite the added complication. Doctors were keeping a close watch over him. They said they hoped the pneumonia would not spread.

Mrs. Izola Ware Curry, 42, plunged a stiletto-like letter opener into King's chest while he was autographing copies of his new book in a Harlem department store. It took three surgeons more than two hours to remove the blade.

GE Strike Call Hinted By IUE

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) Monday warned that a strike may be called "before Oct. 1" against the General Electric Co.

Carey, in a keynote address at the opening of the union's eighth annual convention, said the strike will be called unless agreement is reached on employment security.

"In fact, I wouldn't assume that the strike won't take place before Oct. 1, in view of the company's refusal to bargain," he said.

Virgil B. Day, GE manager for union relations, later termed Carey's statement as "ridiculous demagoguery" and denied that that the company had refused to bargain.

Lodge Clashes With Gromyko In U.N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) —Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko clashed head-on Monday in a Soviet-American argument on China that was the sharpest exchange of the current United Nations General Assembly session.

Lodge, replying to Gromyko's attack on American policy in the Far East, gave the dour Russian a diplomatic dressing down that had delegates applauding at several junctures.

"Instead of villifying us," Lodge told the Assembly, "I suggest that the foreign minister of the Soviet Union use his influence—and we can all imagine how great or small that is—to persuade the Chinese Communists to stop their current attack on the island of Quemoy."

The Assembly technically was considering the recommendation of its Steering Committee that any debate on the China representation issue be deferred for at least another year. India, with strong Soviet support, offered amendments to the committee's report in an effort to have the Assembly reverse the shelving recommendation.

Despite the efforts of Gromyko and Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, Western diplomats predicted that the Assembly vote, expected Tuesday, would parallel last year's result when the world parliament balloted 48-27 against considering the China representation question.

Krishna Menon confined himself largely to legalistic arguments on why the Assembly could not refuse to take up the question now. But Gromyko delivered a 45-minute speech directed against U. S. policy.

UAW Modifies Chrysler Offer

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union Monday narrowed the areas of conflict in its contract talks with Chrysler Corp.

Douglas Fraser, administrative assistant to UAW President Walter P. Reuther, said the union presented Chrysler with a "modification of our original demands" in talks Monday morning. Reuther was expected to present counter offers to several other parts of the company's latest proposal later Monday.

Although Fraser refused to identify the "modifications" as new offers, it was obvious the latest union moves reduced the number of issues still blocking a settlement with Chrysler.

He did not reveal details of the modifications, however.

Fraser emphasized the union did not modify its demands in all areas. This was believed to be an indication that there was basic agreement on the issues which were not covered in the new union overtures.

Discount Rate Hiked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board Monday authorized the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston to increase its discount rate from 1¾ to 2 per cent, effective Tuesday.

Lewis' Miners Slated To Get Fat Pay Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis Monday was reported about to nail down another fat pay boost and welfare fund royalty hike for the nation's soft coal miners.

At the same time the government announced a 50-cents-an-hour boost in the wage rates that producers must pay to be eligible to sell coal under federal contract.

This has the effect of raising labor costs of nonunion producers and of making union producers more receptive to giving Lewis extra union concessions.

Lewis, 78, president of the United Mine Workers Union, was reported to have negotiated a tentative agreement calling for a $1.20 daily wage increase for about 180,000 UMW miners plus 10 cents a ton increase in the welfare fund royalty, and other improvements. The welfare fund royalty is now 40 cents a ton.

Lewis' headquarters had no comment on the reported agreement, but the executive committee of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. was reported set to meet in Pittsburgh Tuesday to decide on the deal.

The veteran UMW president has let the present soft coal contract extend a year beyond the time it could have been terminated in a bid for improvement.

He reportedly has held secret negotiations with Edward G. Fox, president of the Bituminous Coal Operations Assn., arguing that a threat of world war and improving business prospects warrant a new miners pay boost.

Coal production has been running nearly 25 per cent below 1957 levels but Lewis was reported to have argued the coal industry had to recognize that other industries are granting labor gains.

A $1.20 increase in the miners daily wage would boost the basic pay figure from a present $22.25 to $23.45. There were also rumors of a possible additional 80 cent daily wage boost next April.

Pvt. Elvis Sails For 18 Months Duty In Europe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pvt. Elvis Presley bid his rock 'n' roll fans farewell Monday and sailed aboard an Army transport for an 18-month tour of duty in Europe.

"The first place I want to go is to Paris and look up Brigitte Bardot," said the singer at a news conference before his departure.

Presley, slimmer by 12 pounds since he entered the Army last March, carried a book titled "Poems That Touch the Heart" during the 40-minute session with newsmen at the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

He said he has no immediate plans for marriage.

Ike Winds Up R.I. Vacation

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—President Eisenhower wound up his late-summer vacation here Monday after a dramatic conference with embattled Presidential Aide Sherman Adams and a final round of golf.

The White House announced that Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower would fly back to Washington Tuesday, departing from the Quonset Point Naval Air Station at 9:30 a. m. e.d.t. aboard the presidential plane Columbine III.

Adams flew to Newport Monday morning for an unexpected series of meetings with the President and other members of the White House staff.

Adams conferred with Eisenhower in his vacation office for 75 minutes beginning at 8 a. m. and then spent 25 minutes in the office of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

The White House withheld until Monday announcement that the Eisenhowers would end their vacation Tuesday although the President was going back to Washington then for a White House luncheon for Latin American foreign ministers. The vacation started Aug. 29.

Noted Novelist Mary Roberts Rinehart Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Mary Roberts Rinehart, 82, died in her sleep Monday night in her home on Park Avenue.

Mrs. Rinehart wrote more than 60 novels and mysteries and was one of the most successful practitioners of her trade. Her first success was "The Circular Staircase" in 1908. It sold a million and a quarter copies.

U.S. Jets Raid Wrong Beach, No One Hurt

VALLETTA, Malta (AP)—Four U.S. jet fighters fired on three fishermen on a Malta beach which they had mistaken for a gunnery range, a statement from the governor's palace said today.

The Maltese fishermen escaped injury.

The planes made four low passes over the beach inside 30 minutes last Thursday. The statement said the jets came from the carrier Forrestal and added that the commander of the U.S. 6th Fleet had apologized personally.

A-Sub Skate Returns To U.S.

BOSTON (UPI) — The nuclear submarine Skate returned to the United States Monday after a six-week, 12,000-mile trip that included a cruise beneath the North Pole.

The Skate berthed at Boston Naval Shipyard alongside another historic vessel, the U. S. S. Constitution, or Old Ironsides, which fought in the War of 1812.

The sleek underwater vessel was met by Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, controversial "father of the atom submarine," who boarded the Skate as personal representative of Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates.

Cmdr. James F. Calvert, skipper of the nation's third atomic sub, said at a news conference that the purpose of the trip was to prove that a submarine could not only sail beneath the polar ice but could also make surfacings in the Arctic Sea from time to time.

Calvert jokingly added that while the Skate surfaced at Alpha, a floating ice station manned by a group of International Geophysical Year scientists, the crew swapped several gallons of ice cream for polar bear steaks.

"The steak was inedible," he laughed. "I don't think the Eskimos really eat it."

Negroes Return To Van Buren Schools; Little Rock Inaugurates TV Classes

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Eleven Negroes returned to the high and junior high schools in Van Buren, Ark., Monday without a hand or voice being raised against them.

Their return, two weeks after an anti-integration strike of 78 white students, apparently ended the second biggest integration crisis in Arkansas.

The biggest crisis is in Little Rock, where Gov. Orval E. Faubus has closed four high schools.

The Little Rock School Board started six hours of television lessons on three commercial television stations Monday for 3,480 students of the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

The lessons - by - TV plan put educational television to the greatest test in its history. A sampling of representative students, white and Negro, indicated they don't think it a substitute for real school.

One of 26 automobiles in a student demonstration for segregation in Little Rock hit R. L. McGoodwin, 67, and seriously injured him. The accident broke up the demonstration.

Integration developments outside Arkansas:

—White students in Charlottesville, Va., circulated petitions asking Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr., to reopen their high school, which he shut down to prevent racial integration.

—Two parent groups in Charlottesville registered elementary school pupils for private school in basements and a bank building near the University of Virginia.

—Arkansas' Gov. Orval E. Faubus, at the conference of Southern governors, in Lexington, Ky., said he favors consideration of a resolution asking the federal government to "respect the rights guaranteed to the states by the Constitution and cease unwarranted interference in state matters".

Fifteen white teachers lectured Little Rock High School students on th educational TV program today.

The sets for the educational shows looked exactly like the front of classrooms, with oak desks for the teachers and blackboards for them to write assignments and problems upon.

Republicans Say Adams Had No Other Alternative

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans, fighting an uphill battle to capture control of Congress, said Monday night that Sherman Adams' resignation was the only step possible for the good of the party.

Rep. Richard H. Simpson (Pa.), chairman of the House GOP Campaign Committee, said Adams "should have resigned earlier."

Simpson said Adams' announcement in a nationwide radio and TV broadcast was "in line with the policies of the Eisenhower administration in its efforts to avoid keeping in office individuals where questionable practices are alleged."

But GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn charged that Adams was forced out "by the most outrageous use of innuendo and gossip and disregard of American principles of fair play in the history of congressional investigation procedures."

However, Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler charged that Adams "made no effort to refute the damaging facts of the House investigation which revealed what even the President himself admitted were imprudent acts."

Butler said he would ask the networks which carried Adams' speech to assign the same time Tuesday night to the Democratic National Committee "in order that the public may hear both sides of the Adams controversy."

Alcorn said Adams' resignation "shows the stern stuff this remarkable man is made of—a complete subordination of self to a sense of loyalty to the President and to the Republican administration."

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union Monday narrowed the areas of conflict in its contract talks with Chrysler Corp.

Douglas Fraser, administrative assistant to UAW President Walter P. Reuther, said the union presented Chrysler with a "modification of our original demands" in talks Monday morning. Reuther was expected to present counter offers to several other parts of the company's latest proposal later Monday.

Although Fraser refused to identify the "modifications" as new offers, it was obvious the latest union moves reduced the number of issues still blocking a settlement with Chrysler.

He did not reveal details of the modifications, however.

Fraser emphasized the union did not modify its demands in all areas. This was believed to be an indication that there was basic agreement on the issues which were not covered in the new union overtures.

Discount Rate Hiked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board Monday authorized the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston to increase its discount rate from 1¾ to 2 per cent, effective Tuesday.

Lewis' Miners Slated To Get Fat Pay Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis Monday was reported about to nail down another fat pay boost and welfare fund royalty hike for the nation's soft coal miners.

At the same time the government announced a 50-cents-an-hour boost in the wage rates that producers must pay to be eligible to sell coal under federal contract.

This has the effect of raising labor costs of nonunion producers and of making union producers more receptive to giving Lewis extra union concessions.

Lewis, 78, president of the United Mine Workers Union, was reported to have negotiated a tentative agreement calling for a $1.20 daily wage increase for about 180,000 UMW miners plus 10 cents a ton increase in the welfare fund royalty, and other improvements. The welfare fund royalty is now 40 cents a ton.

Lewis' headquarters had no comment on the reported agreement, but the executive committee of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. was reported set to meet in Pittsburgh Tuesday to decide on the deal.

The veteran UMW president has let the present soft coal contract extend a year beyond the time it could have been terminated in a bid for improvement.

He reportedly has held secret negotiations with Edward G. Fox, president of the Bituminous Coal Operations Assn., arguing that a threat of world war and improving business prospects warrant a new miners pay boost.

Coal production has been running nearly 25 per cent below 1957 levels but Lewis was reported to have argued the coal industry had to recognize that other industries are granting labor gains.

A $1.20 increase in the miners daily wage would boost the basic pay figure from a present $22.25 to $23.45. There were also rumors of a possible additional 80 cent daily wage boost next April.

Pvt. Elvis Sails For 18 Months Duty In Europe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pvt. Elvis Presley bid his rock 'n' roll fans farewell Monday and sailed aboard an Army transport for an 18-month tour of duty in Europe.

"The first place I want to go is to Paris and look up Brigitte Bardot," said the singer at a news conference before his departure.

Presley, slimmer by 12 pounds since he entered the Army last March, carried a book titled "Poems That Touch the Heart" during the 40-minute session with newsmen at the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

He said he has no immediate plans for marriage.

Ike Winds Up R.I. Vacation

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—President Eisenhower wound up his late-summer vacation here Monday after a dramatic conference with embattled Presidential Aide Sherman Adams and a final round of golf.

The White House announced that Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower would fly back to Washington Tuesday, departing from the Quonset Point Naval Air Station at 9:30 a. m. e.d.t. aboard the presidential plane Columbine III.

Adams flew to Newport Monday morning for an unexpected series of meetings with the President and other members of the White House staff.

Adams conferred with Eisenhower in his vacation office for 75 minutes beginning at 8 a. m. and then spent 25 minutes in the office of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

The White House withheld until Monday announcement that the Eisenhowers would end their vacation Tuesday although the President was going back to Washington then for a White House luncheon for Latin American foreign ministers. The vacation started Aug. 29.

A-Sub Skate Returns To U.S.

BOSTON (UPI) — The nuclear submarine Skate returned to the United States Monday after a six-week, 12,000-mile trip that included a cruise beneath the North Pole.

The Skate berthed at Boston Naval Shipyard alongside another historic vessel, the U. S. S. Constitution, or Old Ironsides, which fought in the War of 1812.

The sleek underwater vessel was met by Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, controversial "father of the atom submarine," who boarded the Skate as personal representative of Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates.

Cmdr. James F. Calvert, skipper of the nation's third atomic sub, said at a news conference that the purpose of the trip was to prove that a submarine could not only sail beneath the polar ice but could also make surfacings in the Arctic Sea from time to time.

Calvert jokingly added that while the Skate surfaced at Alpha, a floating ice station manned by a group of International Geophysical Year scientists, the crew swapped several gallons of ice cream for polar bear steaks.

"The steak was inedible," he laughed. "I don't think the Eskimos really eat it."

Noted Novelist Mary Roberts Rinehart Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Mary Roberts Rinehart, 82, died in her sleep Monday night in her home on Park Avenue.

Mrs. Rinehart wrote more than 60 novels and mysteries and was one of the most successful practitioners of her trade. Her first success was "The Circular Staircase" in 1908. It sold a million and a quarter copies.

U.S. Jets Raid Wrong Beach, No One Hurt

VALLETTA, Malta (AP)—Four U.S. jet fighters fired on three fishermen on a Malta beach which they had mistaken for a gunnery range, a statement from the governor's palace said today.

The Maltese fishermen escaped injury.

The planes made four low passes over the beach inside 30 minutes last Thursday. The statement said the jets came from the carrier Forrestal and added that the commander of the U.S. 6th Fleet had apologized personally.

Negroes Return To Van Buren Schools; Little Rock Inaugurates TV Classes

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Eleven Negroes returned to the high and junior high schools in Van Buren, Ark., Monday without a hand or voice being raised against them.

Their return, two weeks after an anti-integration strike of 78 white students, apparently ended the second biggest integration crisis in Arkansas.

The biggest crisis is in Little Rock, where Gov. Orval E. Faubus has closed four high schools.

The Little Rock School Board started six hours of television lessons on three commercial television stations Monday for 3,480 students of the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

The lessons - by - TV plan put educational television to the greatest test in its history. A sampling of representative students, white and Negro, indicated they don't think it a substitute for real school.

One of 26 automobiles in a student demonstration for segregation in Little Rock hit R. L. McGoodwin, 67, and seriously injured him. The accident broke up the demonstration.

Integration developments outside Arkansas:

—White students in Charlottesville, Va., circulated petitions asking Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr., to reopen their high school, which he shut down to prevent racial integration.

—Two parent groups in Charlottesville registered elementary school pupils for private school in basements and a bank building near the University of Virginia.

—Arkansas' Gov. Orval E. Faubus, at the conference of Southern governors, in Lexington, Ky., said he favors consideration of a resolution asking the federal government to "respect the rights guaranteed to the states by the Constitution and cease unwarranted interference in state matters".

Fifteen white teachers lectured Little Rock High School students on th educational TV program today.

Republicans Say Adams Had No Other Alternative

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans, fighting an uphill battle to capture control of Congress, said Monday night that Sherman Adams' resignation was the only step possible for the good of the party.

Rep. Richard H. Simpson (Pa.), chairman of the House GOP Campaign Committee, said Adams "should have resigned earlier."

Simpson said Adams' announcement in a nationwide radio and TV broadcast was "in line with the policies of the Eisenhower administration in its efforts to avoid keeping in office individuals where questionable practices are alleged."

But GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn charged that Adams was forced out "by the most outrageous use of innuendo and gossip and disregard of American principles of fair play in the history of congressional investigation procedures."

However, Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler charged that Adams "made no effort to refute the damaging facts of the House investigation which revealed what even the President himself admitted were imprudent acts."

Butler said he would ask the networks which carried Adams' speech to assign the same time Tuesday night to the Democratic National Committee "in order that the public may hear both sides of the Adams controversy."

Alcorn said Adams' resignation "shows the stern stuff this remarkable man is made of—a complete subordination of self to a sense of loyalty to the President and to the Republican administration."

Chebab Takes Over In Lebanon Today

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Increasing strife between Christians and Moslems threatened revolt-torn Lebanon with more violence Monday night, eve of Maj. Gen. Fuad Chebab's installation as compromise president.

The Christian Phalange, a semi-military group that fought the rebels during the four-month crisis, announced Monday night that two rebels were shot and killed and several others wounded in a running battle-of-snipers in the past 24 hours.

A Phalange spokesman said the rebels started the fighting by hurling a bomb.

Tensions in this divided country have mounted dangerously since the kidnaping on Friday of a Christian Phalange newspaperman, an outspoken critic of the rebels and of U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser. It was the killing of a pro-Nasser newspaperman that touched off the rebellion against outgoing President Camille Chamoun last spring.

The sniper skirmish was another in a series of menacing actions by the Phalange and the Moslen rebels since newspaperman Fuad Haddad was last seen being dragged by two armed men into the rebel Basta sector of Beirut on Friday.

The Lebanese army was taking stringent measures to prevent the opposing forces from any action that could disrupt the transition from Chamoun to Chehab. Chehab was a compromise candidate elected by parliament.

All leaves were cancelled and the troops placed on a fully-mobilized status. The army clamped a 24-hour curfew on the city and doubled patrols in an effort to guard against serious disturbances. A semi - blockade was thrown about the city as an added precaution.

But the Christian Phalange defied the curfew and began throwing up barricades around the Christian sector of Beirut while armed Phalangists stood guard against possible attack.

Quotas Clamped On Lead, Zinc Imports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower clamped quotas on imports of lead and zinc Monday to protect "distressed" American producers of the metals from foreign competition.

Senators from lead and zinc producing states immediately applauded the move.

But some of this country's closest allies, who depend on exports of the metals to bring them badly-needed U. S. dollars, had said in advance they view the quotas "with grave alarm."

French Fail To Deny A-Bomb Test Report

PARIS (AP)—The French government said Monday a rash of newspaper stories predicting early testing of a French atomic bomb did not come from official sources. There was no denial of the stories themselves.

The French government has been working on atomic explosives and there has been widespread public speculation that a test in the Sahara is likely soon.

Return To D.C. Milk Marketing Controls Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Resumption of federal marketing controls for milk in the Washington area was recommended Monday with a proposed minimum to farmers of $5.70 a hundred pounds.

As advanced by Edwin G. Nourse, economic adviser to former President Truman in 1946-49, the proposed rate would apply in the months of July through March. A seasonal reduction to $5.10 per hundredweight would prevail during April, May and June.

Nourse, who headed a special milk price study committee for the Agriculture Department, recommended that the minimum prices be tried for 12 to 18 months after which a new review would be made.

Federal minimum prices in the Washington milk marketing area were abandoned in 1947. Nourse's study committee was set up in 1956 at the request of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Assn.

Under supply and demand conditions in the area in recent years, the price to producers has been $6.22 per hundredweight in many cases.

To refer to this rate as the standard, however, is "seriously misleading," said Nourse. He said the producers association receives several prices for fluid milk and the average of these is considerably lower than the $6.22 price.

The area in which the proposed minimum price would hold includes the District of Columbia and Arlington, Fairfax and Prince William counties and the City of Alexandria, all in Virginia. In Maryland it would apply to Montgomery, Charles, St. Mary's and Calvert counties, part of Frederick County and Prince Georges County excluding Laurel.

He mentioned the factor of Republican chances in Congress, and went on to say that he believes he now can best serve Eisenhower and contribute to the support of his objectives by stepping down.

On television, Adams' thick silver hair stood out prominently. It contrasted with his dark blue suit and tie.

At the start, televiewers saw him with both hands on the lectern, with two amplifiers slanted over his manuscript.

He looked a little gaunt, in contrast to the chipper appearance he made when he went out to the Washington Redskins football game with the Chicago Bears Sunday.

Adams seemed to have dry lips. He wet them with his tongue increasingly as the 10 minutes wore on. There was one dry swallow that seemed to indicate the strain he was feeling as he wound up 20 years of public service. He gave no clue as to where he would go from the White House.

Throughout, he was precise, in his New England pronunciations.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty passed out copies of the Adams speech to reporters at the instant Adams went on the air. Along with it he distributed a presidential statement.

In this, Eisenhower expressed high praise for the man who has stood by his side since the 1952 presidential campaign, helping guide the national destiny. The President said Adams had served his country well and "your total dedication to the nation's welfare has been of the highest possible order."

"I accept your resignation with sadness," Eisenhower said. "You will be sorely missed by your colleagues on the staff and by the departments and agencies of the government, with which you have worked so efficiently."

More Supplies Reach Quemoy By Sea And Air

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The blazing crisis in Formosa Strait moved into its second month with the Nationalists pushing through the Red artillery blockade once more with supplies for the Quemoys.

News of a supply run to Quemoy by ship and Little Quemoy by air came shortly after it was learned that the Nationalists had carried out their first known air drop to Quemoy Sunday. Half a ton of badly needed medical supplies was dropped by parachute.

Top U.S. and Nationalist military chiefs wound up strategy huddles and the ranking American officer, Adm. Harry D. Felt, scheduled a meeting with Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek Tuesday.

What the military men discussed was not disclosed but it is believed one of the major topics was getting supplies flowing steadily to the Quemoys off the Red mainland.

Despite the fact the Nationalists have run the Red blockade nine days in a row, the supply needs of the battered offshore islands was still serious. Badly needed are medical supplies. Doctors report that the mortality rate among the Quemoy wounded is high because there is no refrigeration for drugs, or a blood bank. Anesthetics are being rationed.

Red shelling as the crisis became a month old was relatively light. Monday, the Quemoys took 3,615 shells, the Nationalist Defense Ministry reported. That was the lightest bombardment in nine days.

Since Aug. 23 the Reds — by Nationalist count — have battered the Quemoy complex with 325,000 shells. It is estimated the Nationalists fired back nearly 11,000 rounds. The Nationalists have claimed victories in three air battles and six naval clashes.

Crippled Air Force Plane, 48 Aboard, Lands Safely

HONOLULU (UPI)—A Military Air Transport Service Super Constellation with 38 passengers and crew of 10 landed safely at Hickam Air Force Base at 3:11 p. m. (9:11 p. m. e.d.t.) Monday after flying at least 200 miles with two of its foor engines dead and a third running rough.

The plane was en route from Wake Island to Hickam. It was flown by a Navy crew and based at Moffett Naval Air Station near San Francisco.

Two Air Force SC54s intercepted it west of Hawaii and flew alongside as the crew fought to avoid ditching. Radar observers here said it would have gone down if the third engine had failed.

The destroyer escort Durant, a radar picket ship on the route, was alerted.

For a time it was thought the plane would land at an emergency field on Kauai, 96 miles closer than Honolulu, but it held sufficient altitude to reach its original destination.

ESTHER WILLIAMS TO ESTABLISH DISTRIBUTORSHIP IN CUMBERLAND

1959 Distributor Appointment Program Just Starting

The International Swimming Pool Corporation, world's leading manufacturer of home and motel swimming pools, has just launched the largest new distributor appointment program in the Company's history. International is the exclusive manufacturer of the famous Esther Williams Pools and is expanding manufacturing, service and training facilities in order to serve an additional 500 communities.

Backed by the biggest swimming pool publicity and advertising campaign ever announced in the industry, the new distributor appointment program is scheduled to be completed within six weeks.

This market has been selected by International's Marketing Committee for one of the new distributorships. An Esther Williams marketing executive will personally consult with home owners and motel owners and consider applications for the Esther Williams distributorship in this area (see box below).

DISTRIBUTOR QUALIFICATIONS

Good character, a successful business background and a desire to build your own business are the prime qualifications for an Esther Williams distributorship.

The home and motel swimming pool business has become one of America's fastest growing new industries. The Esther Williams Pool is the undisputed leader in this new industry, accounting for 30 to 40% of all the permanent-type pool business.

Industry sales have more than doubled every year for the past three years. Trade experts, however, point out that pool sales have not yet reached boom stage. Sales on a gigantic scale are expected to begin in 1959 and continue for many years to come.

No franchise fee is required of a new Esther Williams distributor. Distributor appointed will be expected to make a modest investment in self-liquidating inventory with big profit potential. Construction experience is not a requirement.

ATTENTION HOME OWNERS

If you have an acquaintance who is interested in the exclusive Esther Williams distributorship in this area, contact the Division Marketing Manager at the address or telephone in box at right. If your recommendation is appointed, you will be entitled to an Esther Williams Family Swimming Pool at dealer cost!

America's Largest-Selling Family and Motel Pool To Be Available In This Area

Esther Williams, glamorous president of International Swimming Pool Corporation and world famous authority on swimming and swimming pools.

At a recent distributor conference, Esther Williams observed that, "It is truly amazing how quickly a community becomes swimming pool conscious following the appointment of the distributor for our complete line of family and motel pools."

Many swimming pool authorities credit Miss Williams as being the major influence in speeding up the trend to family swimming pools—a trend that is sweeping across America and making the backyard family pool a sound investment, as well as the new and accepted adjunct to American family living.

At the same conference Miss Williams also explained, "I believe there are four basic reasons why the Esther Williams Pool is outselling all others by a wide margin.

"First, it's the safest pool with the exclusive safety walk all around, the flat play area and the safety cover. These features give parents peace of mind. Being the mother of three energetic children, I can assure you these wonderful features give me peace of mind.

"Secondly, an Esther Williams Pool is built to last because of the rigid construction standards established by our Engineering Department—poured concrete, steel reinforced throughout and covered with exclusive Perma-Seal Poolskin which eliminates costly painting expenses.

"The third basic reason is that an Esther Williams Pool is complete in every respect for convenience, maximum family fun and the most economical maintenance—everything including filter, underwater light, stainless steel ladder, laminated diving board and 10 other items. There are no hidden extras to buy.

"And, the fourth reason more people from coast to coast are buying this complete pool than any other is the integrity on the part of Esther Williams distributors to provide the finest possible pool at lowest cost."

The Division Marketing Manager for Esther Williams Pools,

is in Cumberland to consult with home owners interested in home pools and to talk with distributor applicants for this area. For an appointment call or write him at the address or number below:

The International Swimming Pool Corporation, world's leading manufacturer of home and motel swimming pools, has just launched the largest new distributor appointment program in the Company's history. International is the exclusive manufacturer of the famous Esther Williams Pools and is expanding manufacturing, service and training facilities in order to serve an additional 500 communities.

Backed by the biggest swimming pool publicity and advertising campaign ever announced in the industry, the new distributor appointment program is scheduled to be completed within six weeks.

This market has been selected by International's Marketing Committee for one of the new distributorships. An Esther Williams marketing executive will personally consult with home owners and motel owners and consider applications for the Esther Williams distributorship in this area (see box below).

DISTRIBUTOR QUALIFICATIONS

Good character, a successful business background and a desire to build your own business are the prime qualifications for an Esther Williams distributorship.

The home and motel swimming pool business has become one of America's fastest growing new industries. The Esther Williams Pool is the undisputed leader in this new industry, accounting for 30 to 40% of all the permanent-type pool business.

Industry sales have more than doubled every year for the past three years. Trade experts, however, point out that pool sales have not yet reached boom stage. Sales on a gigantic scale are expected to begin in 1959 and continue for many years to come.

No franchise fee is required of a new Esther Williams distributor. Distributor appointed will be expected to make a modest investment in self-liquidating inventory with big profit potential. Construction experience is not a requirement.

ATTENTION HOME OWNERS

If you have an acquaintance who is interested in the exclusive Esther Williams distributorship in this area, contact the Division Marketing Manager at the address or telephone in box at right. If your recommendation is appointed, you will be entitled to an Esther Williams Family Swimming Pool at dealer cost!

America's Largest-Selling Family and Motel Pool To Be Available In This Area

Esther Williams, glamorous president of International Swimming Pool Corporation and world famous authority on swimming and swimming pools.

At a recent distributor conference, Esther Williams observed that, "It is truly amazing how quickly a community becomes swimming pool conscious following the appointment of the distributor for our complete line of family and motel pools."

Many swimming pool authorities credit Miss Williams as being the major influence in speeding up the trend to family swimming pools—a trend that is sweeping across America and making the backyard family pool a sound investment, as well as the new and accepted adjunct to American family living.

At the same conference Miss Williams also explained, "I believe there are four basic reasons why the Esther Williams Pool is outselling all others by a wide margin.

"First, it's the safest pool with the exclusive safety walk all around, the flat play area and the safety cover. These features give parents peace of mind. Being the mother of three energetic children, I can assure you these wonderful features give me peace of mind.

"Secondly, an Esther Williams Pool is built to last because of the rigid construction standards established by our Engineering Department—poured concrete, steel reinforced throughout and covered with exclusive Perma-Seal Poolskin which eliminates costly painting expenses.

"The third basic reason is that an Esther Williams Pool is complete in every respect for convenience, maximum family fun and the most economical maintenance—everything including filter, underwater light, stainless steel ladder, laminated diving board and 10 other items. There are no hidden extras to buy.

"And, the fourth reason more people from coast to coast are buying this complete pool than any other is the integrity on the part of Esther Williams distributors to provide the finest possible pool at lowest cost."

The Division Marketing Manager for Esther Williams Pools,

is in Cumberland to consult with home owners interested in home pools and to talk with distributor applicants for this area. For an appointment call or write him at the address or number below:

Devereux, Tawes "Court" Maryland Women's Vote

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland's candidates for governor held hands with the woman voter Monday — figuratively speaking — and tried to lure her to their respective ballot boxes.

There was much political-type sweet talk.

Republican James Devereux told the ladies that it's most times the woman who leads the man to the ballot box in off-year elections.

"I am courting you, each of you, every one of you," he told the Maryland Women's Council.

Democrat J. Millard Tawes, speaking at the same luncheon, told them that "where women are available, it would be my policy as governor to make the very fullest use of their talents."

Both candidates singled out women who have made good in politics and government on the state and national level.

Both heaped praises on the fairer sex.

Women, Devereux said, have proved "as good at holding political office as in casting politjcal votes. You often display remarkable discrimination and judgment," he said.

Tawes said "so many of the issues which confront us today are in fields which come particularly within the sphere of a woman's influence and understanding."

Devereux told them that the American woman "has fired many a political boss" through her action at the polls.

"It is usually the feminine voter," he said, "who takes the time to study and appraise the issues of an off-year election or special election.

"It is the wife who usually briefs her husband and marches him to the polls" the Republican candidate said.

He told the women's council that "being the high-minded people you are, you did not ask for specific plums for certain 'deserving' persons. Likewise I do not reply with offers of plums to buy these 'deserving' because that is the sort of vote-getting patronage we both abhor."

He cited, however, a section of the GOP state platform which says "the quality of status between women and men in the government of Maryland is now a matter of fact and accomplishment" and added "that is my platform."

Tawes said "I hope that we can have even greater participation by women in government in the future. He said where available he would use women "particularly in those fields where their judgment, ideals and sense of moral standards can be most helpful."

Pair Jailed For Armed Robbery

EASTON, Md. (AP) — Two youths were jailed on armed robbery charges Monday after a hitchhiker said he was stripped at knife-point of all his clothing and $10.

Talbot County State's Atty. Henry Turner said that Charles Lemuel Greer, 18, of Parkington, and Charles Joseph Bowers, 21, of Bristol, Tenn., were held under $5,000 bond each for the grand jury. Both were jailed when they couldn't make bond.

A juvenile picked up by State Police at the same time as the other two was released.

Irvin M. Shotwell, 20, said he was hitchhiking on U.S. 50 south of nearby Wye Mills Sunday when he was given a ride by a car carrying three occupants. He said he was forced to remove all his clothes and then — minus clothes and $10 — was turned loose.

There was a slight drizzle at the time but in the dark Shotwell, of Bushwood in St. Mary's County, made his way to a nearby farmhouse where he borrowed some clothes and called police.

Later two troopers stopped a car at the Chesapeake Bay Bridge and brought its three occupants to Easton.

Seafood Company Safe Found Looted

BALTIMORE (AP) — About $2,800 in cash and another $2,800 in checks was reported missing Monday from a safe at the Bay Island Seafood Co.

Police Lieut. James Rawlings said there were no signs of forced entry to the safe or building.

William King, an owner, told police "I was amazed when I went to the safe and opened it and discovered the money missing," Monday.

Police began a check of persons who have access to the building and those who might know the safe's combination.

Vandals Cause Heavy Damage To New School

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Brooklyn Park Junior - Senior High School, newest and largest in adjoining Anne Arundel County, was wrecked by vandals over the weekend.

Every classroom in the Hammonds Lane school just across the city line was damaged. The preliminary estimate of $10,000 was believed far too low.

Police said the three-story building was entered over the weekend. The destruction was discovered Sunday by a teacher who planned to make preparations for Monday's classes.

A special crew of 30 maintenance employes was rounded up to clear away the mess so that classes could be conducted Monday.

Police said it must have taken hours for the vandals to cause so much destruction.

Desks and cupboards were ransacked. Chalk, pencils, books and other school articles were scattered over the floors. Communication equipment was ripped from the walls. Overhead lights were smashed. Every workshop was entered, and the equipment damaged or ruined.

Two large cafeteria refrigerators were forced open. Large quantities of meat, eggs and other perishables were tossed on the floor to spoil.

The paint supply room was entered. Walls, ceilings and floors were smeared.

The vandals tore fire extinguishers from the walls, and used them as battering rams to gain entry to the various rooms.

Chicago Woman Fails In Bid To Have Maryland Medical License Registered

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Chicago woman who paid a Marylander $500 for a medical license lost out Monday in her attempt to have it registered.

Dr. Elizabeth A. Grealis, 50, of Chicago, a chiropractor, had written Baltimore City Court that she wished to withdraw her suit. Instead, Judge John T. Ticker granted a motion by Asst. Atty. Gen. James H. Norris Jr. to dismiss the suit "with prejudice" and charge the plaintiff court costs.

Dr. Grealis, in out-of-court testimony, said she obtained the license without a Maryland examination in January or February from Dr. Robert H. Reddick of Baltimore.

The license was pre-dated, she said, to show issuance May 27, 1957, shortly after she obtained what she termed a medical degree in homeopathy from Fremont College in California—after nine months of study.

The chiropractor said she was told at Fremont that she could seek a license from Dr. Reddick. She also took a four-year course in chiropractics in Los Angeles, she said.

Dr. Reddick has been in and out of Maryland courts for more than two years, mainly on charges of issuing medical licenses without authority. He is now appealing a conviction in Circuit Court, that carried a five-year prison term, for forgery of medical credentials.

The Attorney General's Office said the only medical license held by four members of the Fremont College medical school faculty were ones issued by Dr. Reddick, which are therefore void.

"I just can't say enough for Blue Cross!"
says Harry E. Hall, Driver, Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., Towson

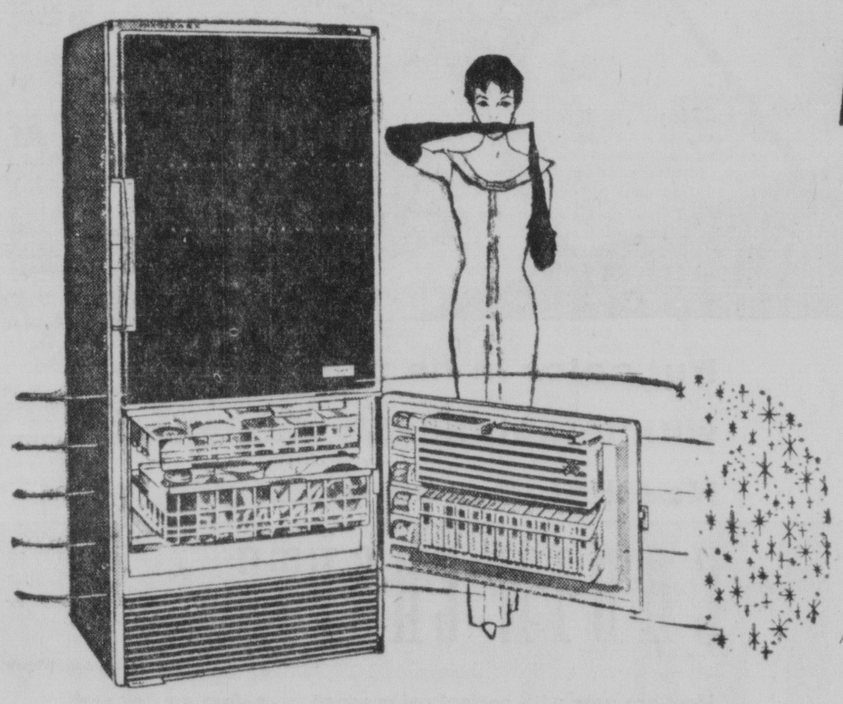

"It was a fortunate thing for me that our company, the Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., decided to provide its employees with a Blue Cross program. My wife and I have been subscribers for a long time, but until recently, when she was hospitalized, I guess we never really appreciated Blue Cross. Believe me, I just can't say enough for Blue Cross now! Without it, that hospital bill would have been a real setback to us. And what's more, I didn't have to get involved in filing claims; Blue Cross handled the whole thing direct with the Hospital."

Blue Cross provides care rather than cash, paying the hospital directly for services covered by your membership. Ask your employer how you can join. Or call the Blue Cross office listed in your telephone directory.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Is Your Charm Slipping?

Coming from a man, the following letter contains enough of a message to stand alone as a lesson in charm.

"My girl (I hope some day to make her my wife) is a real charmer in all respects but one—table manners. Naturally, it is too delicate a subject for me to mention. But just a few words from you and I think she would realize that her habits in eating might be improved.

"Actually, she is a very intelligent and highly cultured person. She knows which fork to use, etc. But, she eats with just too much gusto, if you know what I mean. There's no delicacy. And everyone at the table is aware of how very, very much she is enjoying her food.

"When she stirs her coffee, you'd think she was beating a cake. She spoons her soup toward her instead of away . . . and even ducks her head a bit toward her spoon. She breaks her bread and rolls into large bites. Altogether, she gives an impression of real hunger.

"Perhaps these criticisms seem a bit superficial, but we frequently are asked to dine with people who are very important to my vocational success. As my wife, it could make quite a bit of difference to our future whether she gives an impression of culture and finesse—or fluffs it.

"There's another thing, too. When I think of 365 days a year and the possibility of living to celebrate a golden anniversary and all the meals that we might share in between, it seems to me that watching someone 'gulp' food instead of gracefully dining in a relaxed manner could become quite an ordeal.

"I'm sure you'd be doing a lot of people a favor by pointing out the importance of learning how to eat nicely, noiselessly and without offending the sensibilities of others at the table."

Mapleside Homemakers Plan Achievement Day

Mapleside Homemakers Club held its regular business meeting at First EUB Church, with Mrs. Charles Moore, vice president, presiding.

The meeting opened with the flag salute led by Mrs. Boyd Hosier, and the collect was read in unison. The history of the hymn of the month, "This Is My Father's World," was given by Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie, music chairman, and sung by the group. Roll call was answered by 35 members and four guests.

Mrs. James R. Smith reported on the fall tour to Gettysburg, Pa., September 30 and announced the deadline for reservations is Wednesday. She also thanked her committee for the demonstration given during Fair Week and reported it was well received.

Mrs. Laura Twigg, home furnishing chairman, reported on planning the new program for the coming year. Mrs. Dolan Lewis, food and nutrition chairman, discussed "Having and Planning a Good Breakfast."

Mrs. Joseph Kuhlman gave her reports on "Family Teamwork," and the executive board meeting held at the Public Library September 8. She announced the County Achievement Day luncheon will be held at the LaVale Methodist Church, October 8.

The club will observe its Achievement Day, October 16, with a covered dish luncheon. Mrs. Glenn Diehl urged all members to bring something to display and appointed Mrs. Anna Morin and Mrs. Boyd Hosier to assist her with the display.

The constitution and by-laws were read by Mrs. Karl Taschenberger, secretary. Mrs. Wesley Taylor was elected vice president and Mrs. Taschenberger, secretary, each to serve two years.

A dried flower demonstration, showing how to collect, dry and arrange flowers for winer bouquets, was given by Mrs. Harry Miller.

A tea honoring new members followed the meeting, with each one being given a fall corsage. They are Mrs. Kenneth Rodger, Mrs. O. William Smith, Mrs. Robert Nimon, Mrs. A. L. Wills and Mrs. Bessie Hensel.

Guests were Mrs. John Nickles, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Harry Miller, Frostburg club, Mrs. Frances Riggleman, and Mrs. J. Henry, McCoole club.

Mrs. Walter Weise, 503 Pennsylvania Avenue, is a surgical patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Church Unit Plans Supper

Jean Rowland Circle of Melvin Methodist Church met in the church social room with Mrs. Goldie Streett conducting the program on the theme "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Betty Thomas read the Scripture. Sections of the Lord's Prayer were read and discussed by Mrs. Vincent DelaGrange, Mrs. Helen McGuire, Mrs. Flossie Andrews, Mrs. Ruby Roby, Mrs. Edith Riggleman, Mrs. Elva Dom, Mrs. Mary Twigg, Mrs. Betty Adams, Miss Joyce Reed and Mrs. Norma Mangus.

Songs sung by the group during the evening were "Take Time to be Holy," "Have Thine Own Way Lord," and "God Will Take Care of You." Mrs. Helen Walters was organist.

Miss Dorothy Streett reported that the circle's missionary, Elston Rowland, is in the United States. The circle will sell a novelty cup and saucer with the Lord's Prayer printed on the saucer, which can be purchased from any member.

Mrs. Betty Adams, president, read the constitution which was then discussed by the group. Plans and arrangements were made for a Fellowship supper to be held October 1 at 6 p. m.

Other members attending were Mrs. Barbara Perdew and Miss Ethel Elbin.

Double M Club Plans Activities

The Double M Club held its regular monthly meeting at Fairview Avenue Church with Harold Hawkins presiding.

Plans were made for a progressive party to be held in October. Gladys Baker was appointed to contact a firm about selling Christmas tape for the club.

Refreshments were served by Gladys Baker and Hilda Hawkins.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zucker, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maxey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Groves and Jesse Baker.

Mrs. Nell Jordan Honored On Birthday

Empty School Bus Struck By Small Truck

A small pickup truck rammed into a school bus occupied only by the driver at 8 a. m. yesterday on U. S. 40 in LaVale.

Cpl. Harry S. Bosley of the State Police, who investigated, said only one person was injured, the driver of the truck G. Martin, 47, of RD 3, Frostburg.

Cpl. Bosley said both vehicles were in motion at the time of the mishap which occurred in front of the old State Police Barracks.

Martin was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital where his condition is reported as "good." Attaches said the man sustained abrasions and appeared in a state of shock when admitted.

Police said Martin was traveling east on the highway when he attempted to make a left turn into Grant Drive and collided with the bus which was westbound.

The driver of the bus, Carl C. Geary, 47, of Mt. Savage, was not injured in the crash.

Police said considerable property damage was caused to the front ends of both vehicles.

Traffic was tied up for a short time before Cpl. Bosley arrived on the scene.

Police indicated the truck driver would be charged with a motor vehicle violation.

Police noted that around 8 a. m. each morning a number of school children gather in the immediate area to wait for the bus.

New Teachers In County To Be Honored By Group

The Allegany County Teachers Association will hold a dinner next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Bruce High School in honor of the new teachers in the county system.

Miss Mary E. Murray, president, said the speaker will be Milson C. Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Guests of the association, besides the 42 new teachers, will include Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Ralph R. Webster; Dr. Charles L. Kopp, former superintendent; Orville B. Boughton, president of the Retired Teachers Association, and Robert Dubel, assistant executive secretary of MSTA.

Other guests will include members of the Board of Education, State Sen. Charles M. See and the candidates and incumbents of both the Board of Commissioners of Allegany County and the House of Delegates.

Election of a vice president and two members of the legislative committee will be held. Nominations for these offices should be sent to Miss Margaret King, Pennsylvania Avenue School, before next Monday. The association agenda for the year will be announced at the dinner meeting.

Mrs. Veronica Schleifman and Miss Yola Hudson of the Fort Hill faculty are co-chairmen of the dinner.

City Extends Deadline On Water, Sewer Bills

Deadline for water and sewage bill discounts has been extended from Wednesday until Thursday because of the Fairgo "Cumberland Day" half-day holiday.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder and Water Commissioner G. Ray Light made the announcement yesterday. City offices and departments will close at noon Wednesday and other business establishments have been urged to grant a half-day holiday so employes can attend the races.

Mrs. Roeder also told the Mayor and Council yesterday that approximately $40,000 in real estate taxes have been paid to date and it appears that the city will not have to borrow money for operating expenses.

As finance commissioner, Mrs. Roeder had been given routine permission to borrow as much as $100,000 if the need arose. It was explained this practice has been used before, between the time the tax levy was set and revenue from taxes began to come in for city operations.

In other financial transactions, the council approved payment of $1,000 to New York Factors, Inc., representing the balance due on the sewage treatment plant. In a memo note, Street Commissioner John J. Long said Dorr-Oliver Inc., has assumed responsibility for a dresser cap on the sample tube of the secondary digestor of the plant and consulting engineer Robert T. Regester had advised this was the only item to be corrected and the balance due should be paid.

Other payments included $7.50 to Lucile Roeder, 808 Trost Avenue, for overpayment on a meter box installed at 48 Holland Street and not used; and $1,000 to John W. Rollins Jr., and William Torkington, CPAs, for the annual city audit. In addition council ordered 250 copies of the audit printed.

PE Acquires Land For New Lines

Deeds have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court granting the Potomac Edison Company rights of way for the maintenance of their lines in the Mt. Savage area.

Individuals granting the firm the rights of way were Edawrd and Elva S. Emerick, William A. and Elsie E. Moore, William H. and Dorothy Imes, George J. and Elizabeth J. Weatherholtz and Ella Winfield.

Information on the deeds disclosed that the utility firm also was granted permission to erect poles on the Moore and Weatherholtz land.

In another deed filed yesterday, the State Roads Commission obtained .19 acre of land from Lawrence C. and M. Dorothy Smith in connection with the relocation of U. S. Route 40 on the west slope of Polish Mountain.

Four Suspects In Theft Being Returned Here

State and county authorities left Cumberland yesterday for Ohio to return four youths being held there in connection with the breaking and entering at Mason's Snack Bar on Baltimore Pike.

Trooper 1/c Jack Browning, Edwin R. Lilya, criminal investigator for Allegany County, and two representatives of the Sheriff's office made the trip.

The four will return Florence Etta Edwards, 20, and Carole Virginia Heavener, 16, both of Glen Burnie, and Harry William Martin, 24, and Charles Howard Brown, 21, both of Baltimore.

The four were apprehended in Newark, Ohio, during an attempted breaking and entering last week. It was later learned by authorities here that they had been involved in a breaking and entering at Mason's last Tuesday morning.

The four, according to police, walked away with a large safe containing $200 in cash and some valuable papers from the snack bar.

Jaycees Plan Project To Beautify City Entrance

A project to beautify the entrance of Cumberland along Route 40 at the west end of the city will be undertaken jointly by the City Street Department and the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property, made the announcement yesterday after a conference with the Jaycees Civic Improvement Committee.

The area to be improved runs along Route 40 for 300 yards eastward from the Wills Creek bridge between the highway and the flood control wall.

Long said the Street Department will grade the long, narrow strip and plant posts for railings around it.

Then the Jaycees will landscape it, plant grass and supply picnic benches where motorists may stop to enjoy the scenery of the Narrows. The spot also affords a good view of the west end of the flood control work.

The strip is partly owned by the Thomas Litzenberg Sr. family and Thomas Litzenberg Jr. assured cooperation from the owners. The city is the owner of the remainder of the land.

The Jaycee committee undertaking the job is Charles Workman, Walter Hansel, Hugh A. McMullen, Bruce Douglas, John McVeigh and Robert Esler.

Long said Dorr-Oliver Inc., has assumed responsibility for a dresser cap on the sample tube of the secondary digestor of the plant and consulting engineer Robert T. Regester had advised this was the only item to be corrected and the balance due should be paid.

Other payments included $7.50 to Lucile Roeder, 808 Trost Avenue, for overpayment on a meter box installed at 48 Holland Street and not used; and $1,000 to John W. Rollins Jr., and William Torkington, CPAs, for the annual city audit. In addition council ordered 250 copies of the audit printed.

PE Acquires Land For New Lines

Deeds have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court granting the Potomac Edison Company rights of way for the maintenance of their lines in the Mt. Savage area.

Individuals granting the firm the rights of way were Edawrd and Elva S. Emerick, William A. and Elsie E. Moore, William H. and Dorothy Imes, George J. and Elizabeth J. Weatherholtz and Ella Winfield.

Information on the deeds disclosed that the utility firm also was granted permission to erect poles on the Moore and Weatherholtz land.

In another deed filed yesterday, the State Roads Commission obtained .19 acre of land from Lawrence C. and M. Dorothy Smith in connection with the relocation of U. S. Route 40 on the west slope of Polish Mountain.

Four Suspects In Theft Being Returned Here

State and county authorities left Cumberland yesterday for Ohio to return four youths being held there in connection with the breaking and entering at Mason's Snack Bar on Baltimore Pike.

Trooper 1/c Jack Browning, Edwin R. Lilya, criminal investigator for Allegany County, and two representatives of the Sheriff's office made the trip.

The four will return Florence Etta Edwards, 20, and Carole Virginia Heavener, 16, both of Glen Burnie, and Harry William Martin, 24, and Charles Howard Brown, 21, both of Baltimore.

The four were apprehended in Newark, Ohio, during an attempted breaking and entering last week. It was later learned by authorities here that they had been involved in a breaking and entering at Mason's last Tuesday morning.

The four, according to police, walked away with a large safe containing $200 in cash and some valuable papers from the snack bar.

Jaycees Plan Project To Beautify City Entrance

A project to beautify the entrance of Cumberland along Route 40 at the west end of the city will be undertaken jointly by the City Street Department and the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property, made the announcement yesterday after a conference with the Jaycees Civic Improvement Committee.

The area to be improved runs along Route 40 for 300 yards eastward from the Wills Creek bridge between the highway and the flood control wall.

Long said the Street Department will grade the long, narrow strip and plant posts for railings around it.

Then the Jaycees will landscape it, plant grass and supply picnic benches where motorists may stop to enjoy the scenery of the Narrows. The spot also affords a good view of the west end of the flood control work.

The strip is partly owned by the Thomas Litzenberg Sr. family and Thomas Litzenberg Jr. assured cooperation from the owners. The city is the owner of the remainder of the land.

The Jaycee committee undertaking the job is Charles Workman, Walter Hansel, Hugh A. McMullen, Bruce Douglas, John McVeigh and Robert Esler.

FIGURE FORUM

Co-eds at the University of Cincinnati are learning it takes more than a shape to shine these days.

Mrs. Janet M. Thomas, director of the campus Modern Dance Club, has been working with a group of co-eds in what they call a "figure forum." She feels there has been too much emphasis on women's dimensions and not enough on what is "really important"—poise and grace in motion or at rest.

Mrs. Thomas believes "the world's best shape isn't enough, and even without the best shape everyone can make progress in learning to form the body to pleasant contours and to make it flow into satisfying and visually pleasant movement."

How? Mrs. Thomas suggests lessons can be learned from the dancer. These lessons are applied here.

Starting position is important as Paulette Dorsel and Nancy Mofford do torso twist to slenderize waist, but Paulette, left, does it correctly.

Postures, from bad to perfect: Paulette Dorsel slumps: Emma Moses' is fairly good, while Ellen Harris achieves the ultimate by taking deep breath.

Shirley King holds stick against Ellen Harris' spine so she can feel each vetebra being aligned.

Jeanne Hubble's high-heeled feet can ward off aches and pains by adopting the dancer's lunge position and then bouncing up and down on the heel of the rear foot.

An Oriental dance? No, it's a chest-firming exercise demonstrated by co-ed Diane Lengel.

Sit on the floor with a cup of tea at a party? It can be graceful if you know dancer's deep-knee bend. Ellen Harris, left, demonstrates. Caryl Stuckey and Therese Crittenden adopt it to party dress and company manners.

Amcelle Makes Supervisory Changes

Top supervisory positions are affected in appointments at Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation as announced yesterday by William P. Humphreys, production manager.

John A. Hancox, 801 MacDonald Terrace, extrusion manufacturing superintendent at the plant, has been appointed to a post to handle special assignments for the production manager.

E. James Scott, 114 Wilmont Avenue, has been promoted to succeed Hancox as superintendent. These appointments were effective yesterday, according to Humphreys.

Scott came to Celanese in 1946 upon graduation from the University of Maryland where he majored in chemical engineering. A graduate of Allegany High School, he also attended Potomac State College prior to enrolling at the University. He is a veteran of World War II, having served with the Army Chemical Warfare Service in the South Pacific.

Prior to his appointment as assistant superintendent of extrusion manufacturing in April 1956, Scott had been assigned to various technical and supervisory positions at the local plant. He has also visited affiliated plants in Canada and Mexico as a technical advisor.

He is married to the former Peggy Bible of this city and they have two daughters and one son. He is a member of Central Methodist Church where he is chairman of the church board. He holds the post of esquire in the Elks and is a member of the Pool Committee of the Celanese Athletic Association.

Mr. Hancox, a native of Derby, England, came to Cumberland in 1924 when the Amcelle Plant was being built. His first assignment was that of a shift supervisor in the Extrusion Manufacturing Department, and he was appointed superintendent of the department in March 1956. He is married to the former Mabel Dean of Cumberland and they have one son.

Hancox is a member of Ohr Lodge 131, A.F. & A.M., Cumberland Lions and the Official Board of Centre Street Methodist Church.

Baptists Plan Prayer Service

Second Baptist Church will hold a series of cottage prayer meetings this week in preparation for the observance of Mission Emphasis Week, according to Rev. Cornelius B. Davis, pastor.

The Mission Week program, Rev. Mr. Davis said, will be observed by all Baptist churches in Allegany and Garrett counties from September 27 through October 3.

The cottage prayer meetings, he continued, will be held daily at 7:30 p. m. The schedule of meetings follows:

Today, at the home of Mrs. Eva Thompson, 21 Virginia Avenue, Kenneth Robinson, leader, and at the home of Harry Long, 100 East First Street, Marshall Adams, leader.

Wednesday's meeting will be held at the church with Rev. Mr. Davis as leader, and beginning at 8 p. m. Thursday's meeting will also be held at the church with Mrs. William Popp as leader.

Meetings on Friday will be held at the home of W. A. Adams, 308 Grand Avenue, Carl Cookerly as the leader, and at the home of Peter Smith, 913 Louisiana Avenue, Marvin Simpson, leader.

Many Maryland Farmers Seek Soil Bank Data

Maryland farmers are visiting their local ASC offices in record numbers to request information on what the soil bank program can do on their farms, Julius P. Parran, chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said yesterday.

Most of these request that rental rates be set up for placing part or all of their eligible cropland into the conservation reserve next year, Mr. Parran stated. Maryland farmers will have until October 10 to ask for rental rates and until October 24 to make formal application for the program if they desire.

Under the conservation reserve program, the farmer voluntarily reduces his acreage of cultivated crops or tame hay under a 3 to 10-year contract as a surplus adjustment measure. In return he receives rental payments on the land taken out of production. During the time the land is in the conservation reserve it cannot be used for cropping or grazing and must be devoted to erosion - protective conservation uses. The government shares the cost of carrying out land, water, or wildlife conservation practices on the reserved land.

At present 455 farmers in Maryland have approximately 16,667 acres in the conservation reserve under contracts entered into during the 1956-58 period. Total rental payments under these existing contracts amount to about $180,000 per year.

For the 1959 program, the chairman said, the annual rental rate will be higher for many farms than in the earlier years of the program. The national average payment rate will be $13.50 per acre for contacts beginning next year, compared with the $10-per-acre rate previously in effect. The average annual rental rate in Maryland is $17 for 1959.

When the county committee sets a maximum annual payment rate for a farm, Chairman Parran said, it considers productivity, agricultural value and rental rates for similar land in the area. While individual farm rates will vary above and below the county average rate, they may not be greater than 20 per cent of the estimated value of the land on the particular farm, without regard to physical improvements or location. The top limit for any farm is $25 per acre.

Mr. Parran urged each farmer who is interested in the advantages of the 1959 conservation reserve to be sure and visit the county office here before October 10. The farmer should bring acreage and yield information for his farm for the past two years.

The average American will consume his weight in food in about 50 days.

District UMW President Aiding In Strike Talks

The president of District 16, United Mine Workers, here is serving on a commission that has been appointed to iron out difficulties at a West Virginia mine.

The mine, Consolidation No. 9, of the Mountaineer Coal Company near Fairmont, figures prominently in Western Maryland Railway Western Division traffic as 100 cars a day are moved from there through Cumberland.

John C. Mayo, president of this district, was named with Joseph Yablonski, president of District 5, Pittsburgh, by John L. Lewis, UMW president, to the UMW commission. Both men, international executive board members, succeeded on Saturday in ending the walkout.

The miners at Consolidation No. 9 walked out Wednesday in a dispute over seniority rights with respect to layoffs and reemployment.

Saturday Mayo and Yablonski addressed the crowd of 1,000 miners who gathered in the union hall at Monongah, W. Va., near Fairmont. After the session, Mayo said representatives of District 31 locals voted unanimously to end the strike and go back to work while the union and company arbitrate.

Mayo left here yesterday for Fairmont where he and Yablonski will act as intermediaries with District 31 representatives and coal company officials during the settlement of the seniority issue.

District UMW President Aiding In Strike Talks

The president of District 16, United Mine Workers, here is serving on a commission that has been appointed to iron out difficulties at a West Virginia mine.

The mine, Consolidation No. 9, of the Mountaineer Coal Company near Fairmont, figures prominently in Western Maryland Railway Western Division traffic as 100 cars a day are moved from there through Cumberland.

John C. Mayo, president of this district, was named with Joseph Yablonski, president of District 5, Pittsburgh, by John L. Lewis, UMW president, to the UMW commission. Both men, international executive board members, succeeded on Saturday in ending the walkout.

The miners at Consolidation No. 9 walked out Wednesday in a dispute over seniority rights with respect to layoffs and re-employment.

Saturday Mayo and Yablonski addressed the crowd of 1,000 miners who gathered in the union hall at Monongah, W. Va., near Fairmont. After the session, Mayo said representatives of District 31 locals voted unanimously to end the strike and go back to work while the union and company arbitrate.

Mayo left here yesterday for Fairmont where he and Yablonski will act as intermediaries with District 31 representatives and coal company officials during the settlement of the seniority issue.

EX-LAKIN HEAD DIES

Maryland Garden Clubs Enter Landscape Field

The Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland have recently created a new department for garden club work called "Landscape Design."

The new category is aimed chiefly at helping owners of small places make the most of beautifying the grounds, local garden club officials said last night.

The state chairman of this department is Mrs. Wendell Allen of Baltimore, a well-known garden club official who has visited Cumberland flower shows and clubs on numerous occasions.

All local clubs have been asked to appoint chairmen for this new activity and members of the garden clubs have been invited to attend an important meeting in Baltimore on Thursday. The meeting will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the auditorium of the Municipal Stadium.

Luncheon reservations for the meeting may be made through Mrs. George Henderson in Cumberland by telephoning PA 2-2108.

The principal speaker at the Baltimore session will be Stuart Ortloff, author of the standard book on landscape design and famous for his work in this field.

Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. James Pitkethly are planning to represent the Garden Club of Cumberland at the Baltimore meeting.

Two Claimants Awarded Gems

SNOW HILL, Md. (AP) — Two claimants have recovered, through court action, a jewel box of diamonds lost three years ago.

Daniel T. Prettyman, Worcester County state's attorney, instituted the replevin action for recovery of the jewels on behalf of Judy Clogg and Mrs. Sandra Clogg, both of Baltimore.

The jewels were lost in a 1955 tragedy in which six persons drowned. They were found by Jack Hatter, a clammer, on the Big Egging Beach in Chincoteague Bay, near Assateague Island.

Prettyman said Hatter asked a $1,000 reward for return of the diamonds.

The six persons who drowned, when their outboard motorboat capsized during a storm in March of 1955, were Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell D. Clogg of Baltimore; their son, Judson, 8; their daughter, Chanel Dorothy, 8, and Mrs. and Mrs. William Bennett Pollard, also of Baltimore.

The diamonds consist of a diamond pendant with 50 small stones, a man's diamond ring, a woman's diamond dinner ring and other smaller pieces. A man's large solitaire ring is still missing Prettyman said.

Council Adopts Plan To Require Driver Training

BALTIMORE (AP)—A committee report calling for legislation requiring driver training in Maryland public high schools was adopted Monday by the Legislative Council.

The 1958 General Assembly failed to act on similar legislation.

The report of the council's Motor Vehicles Committee suggested that the driver education program be supported by a $4 increase in the fee for instruction licenses. The fee is now $1.

The committee also recommended that the Legislative Council, between-sessions screening arm of the General Assembly, investigate the present method of setting automobile insurance rates.

The report also urged:

A change in the law which permits persons with up to 20-70 vision to drive without glasses, setting the limit at 20-40.

A change in the auto manslaughter law to create another category, negligent homicide, which would simply require proof of driving in "reckless disregard of the safety of others."

A law enabling magistrates to suspend motor vehicle operators licenses. At present they can only recommend suspension to the state commissioner of motor vehicles.

Legislation to permit local authorities to regulate pedestrian traffic with special "walk" lights.

Petersburg High Wins Vo-Ag Awards

Nelson Makes Int. All-Star Team 5th Time

MONTREAL (UPI) — Rocky Nelson of the Toronto Maple Leafs, named the International League's most valuable player last week, Monday was selected on the league all-star team a record fifth time, by a unanimous vote.

Pennant - winning Montreal placed four men on the 1958 team while Toronto and Columbus each had two, and Havana, Richmond and Miami one each.

The team, selected by 33 members of the league's Baseball Writers' Assn., is made up of Nelson at first base; Sparky Anderson, Montreal, at second; Woody Smith, Miami, at third; Elio Chacon, Havana, shortstop; Solly Drake, Montreal; Jiim Pendleton, Columbus, and Deron Johnson, of Richmond, in the outfield; Tim Thompson, Toronto, catcher; Bennie Daniels, Columbus, right-handed pitcher, and Tom LaSorda, of Montreal, left - hander.

The selection of Montreal's Clay Bryant as manager of the year was announced earlier.

Steven Kienhofer Marks 6th Birthday

Steven Kienhofer was honored on his sixth birthday last evening with a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kienhofer at their home, 716 Columbia Avenue.

Balloon decorations and the cake carried out the birthday theme and prizes were awarded for games.

Attending were Bradley Metzger, Michial Broome, Debra Shrout, Monica Lewis, Kelly Miller, Carol Dawson, Darla Lewis, Gregory Miller, Steven Shrout, Jimmie Kienhofer, Cheryl Miller, Frank Kienhofer, Mrs. Bernard Miller, Mrs. Galen Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller, Mrs. Galen Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lewis and Mrs. Otis Trost.

'Spacemen' End Endurance Test

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—A 10-day endurance test ended Monday for a German-born scientist and a master sergeant, who emerged from a space chamber at the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base weary but in good spirits.

The men, Dr. Bruno Balke, 53, and senior M. Sgt. Samuel G. Karst, 34, of Greenville, S. C., started the test Sept. 12.

Preliminary indications were that the test was highly successful, according to Dr. Robert Clark, head of the Psychological Department of the School of Aviation Medicine. The two were given psychological tests when they emerged from the chamber.

SRC Buys Property For Route 40 Work

The Maryland State Roads Commission has acquired property on the west slope of Polish Mountain for use in relocation work along U.S. Route 40.

The property was sold by Lawrence C. Smith and M. Dorothy Smith to the SRC, according to a deed filed in the land records office of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Economic Stability For Latin America

Secretary of State Dulles and foreign ministers of Latin American countries face a tough assignment when they sit down in Washington for "informal discussions" today and tomorrow. The objective is agreement on how to promote economic stability in the republics to the south. Falling prices for coffee and mineral exports, rising prices for imported goods, and serious currency inflation plague many of the Latin nations.

Two intangible factors complicate the search for remedies: (1) Central and South Americans feel they have been denied their rightful share of the billions of economic aid distributed by the United States; (2) Washington is wary of being called on to do all the financing of any development programs agreed upon. At an economic conference in Buenos Aires a year ago, Treasury Secretary Anderson tried to convince the Latins that sources of investment capital were ample, that in fact "the Latin American republics have been successfully competing and obtaining a sharply expanded flow of new capital funds."

The Latin countries, however, still found it difficult to accumulate necessary foreign exchange and insisted they needed aid for development projects that would reduce their dependence on imports. Brazil's president Kubitschek urged President Eisenhower to review the problem and called for a summit conference of American presidents. If War Comes . . .

In all the discussions of war and peace, little thought is given to the inevitable changes that another war must produce. Just as World War I destroyed the Hapsburg and Romanov Empires and as World War II developed the vast Soviet Universal State, so World War III, if it ever occurs, will mark the completion of economic and political changes which its predecessors set in motion. Fundamental historic changes are slow although they appear, in this age of television and radio, to happen overnight.

The most important historic development of the 20th Century is the reduction of the British Empire. This was due to many causes, some even voluntary. It produced a number of independent nations such as India, Ceylon, Burma, the Arab countries, Ghana and others, but also it placed an emphasis upon the independence of Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand to which the world had not been accustomed. The substitution of the Commonwealth of Nations (without the prefix British) for the Empire left a lacuna in international relations which nothing else has thus far filled.

Economically, Great Britain was, for several centuries, the center of the world. London was the capital of money. The pound sterling determined the value of all currencies. British manners were standard among gentlemen and in the glorious 19th Century, British ideas coursed the intellectual universe.

Also was lost for Britain that economic leadership which made for world stability. No country has succeeded to Britain's position. New York has not replaced London as a banking center and cannot under prevailing laws which forbid men to be bankers and insist upon their being supervised clerks. The kind of world-wide banking, depending upon sound judgment and swift decision, which made London so important, does not exist in New York. Even today, when America has had a long chance at economic leadership, the money markets of London, Amsterdam and Zurich are still as important, if in some respects not more so, than New York.

But a third general war will be more than Great Britain can take, particularly as its geographical position is such that it, like France and Germary, will be telescoped between the two principal combatants. NATO seemed the solution to this problem but NATO was conceived without courage or foresight. The idea was right but it was worked out in small and narrow terms.

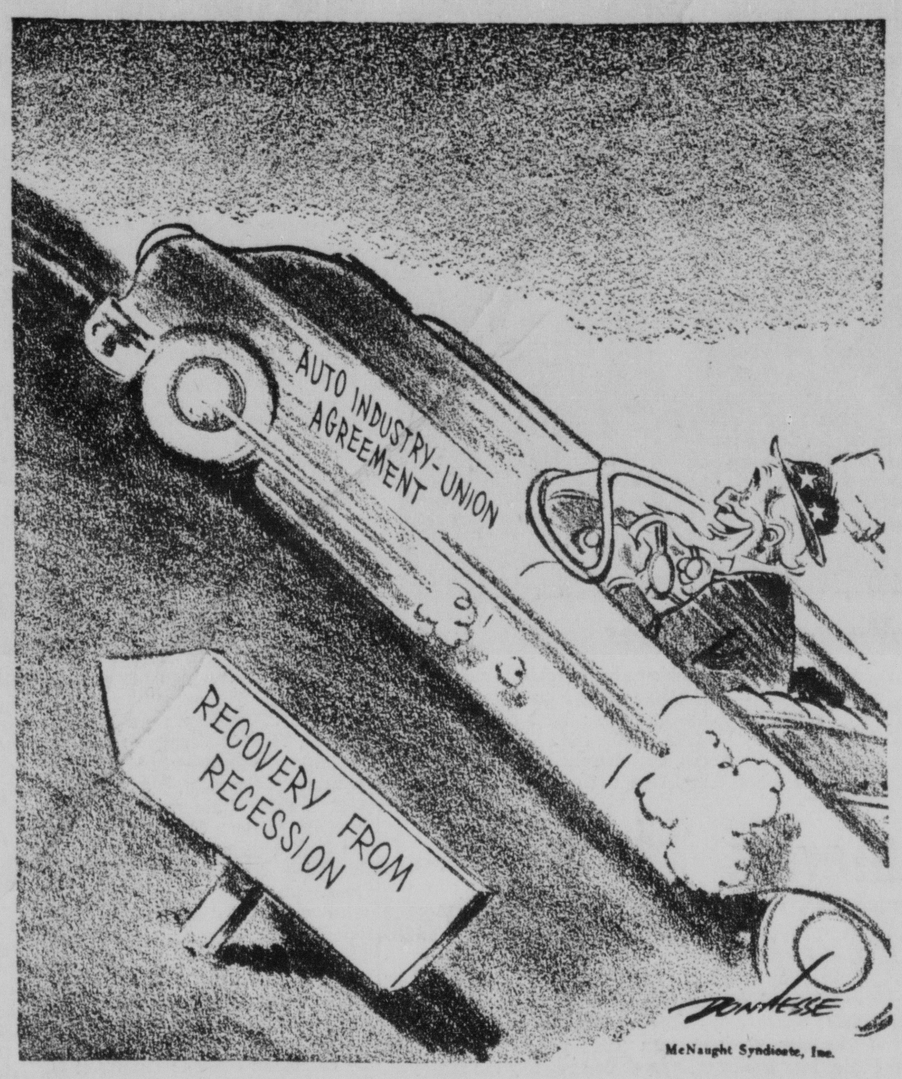

Let us look at the enemy: the Soviet Universal State, as a military instrument, holds the heartland of the Eurasian continent, from East Germany to the Pacific, from the Arctic to the South China Sea. It is an amazing stretch of contiguous territory with no ocean intervening and no differing independent nations lying anywhere within its boundaries. This vast area holds close to a billion human beings, most of whom have never known human liberty in any form. The area is held together by a system of Oriental satrapism, to which the people are traditionally accustomed. There is a basic ideology, Marxism-Leninism, which is more a slogan than a faith. This power has just established by a shuttlecock process its ability to shift its center of offensive action from Lebanon to Fukien Province in China, from the Middle East to Quemoy and Matsu. It is a flexible, centralized system and its present tactic is to push the United States around.

Can the differing, independent, often quarrelling states of the West meet such an organized power? On one issue alone, China, how many varieties of view are there in the West? Even the United States and Canada cannot reach an agreement because each is dealing with the problem not as an element of a continuing war but as something that is important in local politics.

The friendly meeting between Chancellor Adenauer and General de Gaulle may be an augury of much to come. However, it may very soon be necessary for the English-speaking countries to review their relations to each other, and to their allies.

President's Firm Policy May Prevent World War

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — There is a commendable firmness in the heroic way by which President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are conducting American policy toward Red China and its military ally, the Soviet Union. It's a firmness that can save mankind from a world war. Had the same firmness been exhibited by the West toward Hitler in the 1930s, World War II might never have happened.

The same kind of influences, unfortunately, which were prevalent in Europe and brought on the Second World War have been manifest in recent weeks in this country. There has been unwitting and unintentional encouragement given to the dictators in Moscow and Peiping. Whether motivated by political partisanship or by misguided pacifism or by some of the "let's-do-business-with-Hitler" selfishness that today is calling out for recognition of Red China "as a fact," the truth is this apparent acceptance of the Communist viewpoint has afforded Nikita Khrushchev an opportunity to take advantage of American dissension and disunity.

Close examination of the latest letter from the Soviet Premier shows that he adopts virtually every one of the points which have been made by the anti-Administration spokesmen in this country when they argue the China problem. There are, for instance, the claims, frequently reiterated, that Chaing Kai-shek represents no one but himself, or that the offshore islands belong to the mainland of China anyhow, or that they aren't worth fighting for, or that the President and Mr. Dulles do not represent true American public opinion and are trying to provoke a war. Emphasis on this line of argument has misled many a man on the street in this country.

The Soviet Premier repeats all this with a confidently expressed feeling that he has American public opinion back of him. But where Khrushchev miscalculates is in his demand that the United States get out of Formosa.

Up to now there have been in this country some serious advocates of "two Chinas" — that is, a trusteed Formosa and a Communist China on the mainland, each independent and each to be admitted to the United Nations. This plan has been urged as a compromise. But from the pen of Khrushchev comes now the word that it is all or nothing and that he wants America to cease aiding the Nationalist government on Formosa. He warns that the Red forces intend to take Formosa over completely. It's a demand for unconditional surrender.

In a sense Khrushchev confirms the soundness of the point made all along by President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles that the offshore islands were really sought by Red China as a base from which to attack and conquer Formosa. The United States, however, has a mutual protection treaty with the Nationalist government on Formosa, which now holds the offshore islands. Hence, an attack on Quemoy could be the beginning of an attack on Formosa.

This is a simple piece of military strategy. Yet many Americans, apparently anxious for peace at any price, have overlooked it and have tried to make it appear that Quemoy by itself could be surrendered without causing the collapse of the Nationalist Army of 500,000 and of the military forces of the free governments of the Philippines, South Korea and Vietnam. It is incomprehensible just why any American would urge a step that could mean the throwing away of the potential use of a million armed men now ready to defend American interests in the Far East. To yield to that doctrine means, of course, increasing the draft calls of American boys in order to protect the American position in the Far East.

Yet that has been the direction in which the critics of the Administration have been drifting. They belittle Chiang Kai-shek and discourage the Chinese people who still believe in freedom. For Formosa is only a symbol of the yearnings of millions of Chinese for freedom. To abolish that symbol and to give the impression that it is just one man who wants to see Formosa protected against the Communists is to play into the hands of the Reds. It could encourage them to make a miscalculation about the strength of America's determination and the extent to which the American people would back up their own government. Such a gamble could bring on a world war.

The refusal of President Eisenhower officially to receive the Khrushchev letter is, of course, just a gesture. What the Soviet Premier wrote had already been widely published. The President has made the point nevertheless that, at the very time when negotiations between Ambassadors from Red China and the United States are trying at conferences in Poland to work out a ceasefire and peace agreement on the whole problem of Formosa, the Soviet leader comes up with a demand for the expulsion of American forces from Formosa and the withdrawal of the American fleet from that area. He does not want to confine the issue to the offshore islands alone.

Firmness could bring peace in the Far East, but any policy of the United States becomes weak and ineffective abroad unless all Americans stand firm behind the President. For the Communists must be convinced that all factions here are uniting in demanding a renunciation of the use of force in the Far East.

This brink diplomacy is as exciting as opening crocodile eggs at the wrong end.

It means you're wearing chips for epaulets, running a rannigan against the opposition and toeing the scratch on parallels.

Our portfolians are as cagey as a pet store. They have reached the state where they can give you a hot-foot without breaking a blister.

Four or five years of this gives your pulse the big beat. It's like sleeping over the boiler of Fulton's first steamboat.

There have been times when we were on edge like a file index.

It could go either way like rain on the Great Divide.

At those critical interludes we were fortunate our man had his hair parted exactly in the middle.

Streptomycin Cures Tularemia In A Hurry

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The hunter who develops tularemia from an infected rabbit or squirrel gets a break when the disease is recognized and treated early. Prompt recovery follows the use of streptomycin.

Tularemia is chiefly a disease of wild animals such as rabbits, squirrels, woodchucks, fox, coyotes, and insects such as ticks and deer flies. Man enters the picture by handling the infected carcass, consuming tainted meat, or by the bite of an infected, bloodsucking fly or tick.

When the disease is acquired while butchering the animal a sore develops three to seven days after exposure in the place where the causative organisms entered the body, usually on a finger or hand. Shortly thereafter, headache, chills, and fever occur. The temperature shoots up to 104 degrees F. and remains at this level for weeks unless treatment is started.

Meanwhile, the lesion becomes red and swollen and breaks open after coming to a head. The glands in the armpits and groins swell and become tender to the touch. The individual feels miserable, with generalized aching and weakness.

Unless streptomycin is used, the condition may go on for several weeks before the body's immunity takes over control. Convalescence is prolonged, with gradual reduction in fever, lassitude, muscular aching, and irritability. Diagnosis is made by special skin and blood tests. In some instances, the disease attacks the lungs and leads to pneumonia; in others, the skin escapes and the glands receive the brunt of the attack. A few develop tularemia of the eye or of the gastrointestinal tract.

One attack produces partial immunity. Many reinfections have been reported. There is no preventive vaccine so that hunters must be careful in areas where the disease is known to exist. Butchers and housewives ought to wear rubber gloves when handling wild rabbits. The organisms are destroyed by heat, which means that infected meat is rendered harmless by thorough cooking.

INFLAMED PANCREAS

C. F. writes: How is pancreatitis treated?

REPLY

By using drugs that control pain, quiet the pancreas, and eliminate infection. Acute pancreatitis may be associated with shock, which requires blood transfusions and other intravenous fluids. Diet plays an important role in the treatment of chronic pancreatitis. In some instances, removal of the gall bladder is recommended to eliminate the source of infection.

SUN CANCER

T. W. writes: How is skin cancer caused by exposure to the sun?

REPLY

The cause of cancer, including that of the skin, is not known. Since skin cancers are most common over exposed areas, sunlight is blamed. It may be caused by the irritation or the rays produce certain chemicals in the skin, leading to malignancy.

TORN GULLET

H. T. writes: What causes rupture of the esophagus?

REPLY

Tumor, perforated diverticulum, or swallowing a sharp object such as a fishbone. Spontaneous rupture also may follow a heavy meal or an alcoholic debauch in persons with unrecognized inflammation of the esophagus.

BEER BELLY

W. D. writes: Why does drinking a lot of beer cause a beer belly?

REPLY

The combination of too many calories and too much sitting.

TOMORROW: Smallpox isolation in the '90s.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Chiang Not Opposed To World War To Reinstate Nationalist Regime

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Coming back to active work in the nation's capital after sitting on a farm in Maryland, one gets the impression that the United States is skating dangerously close to the brink of war abroad, torn by racial bitterness at home, and that not much is being done about either.

History shows that times of internal dissention — such as that created over Little Rock — are when dictators strike. England and France, to say nothing of the United States, were in the throes of internal disagreement when Hitler struck Poland in the same month of September, 19 years ago.

Recent history also shows that the Chinese Nationalists have always wanted a world war to save the Chiang Kai-shek regime; and that the Chinese Communists, bulging with a surplus population they can't feed, have publicly boasted they can afford to lose half their 600,000,000 people in war and still have plenty left.

In view of this, the John Foster Dulles policy of skating close to the brink may be more dangerous that he thinks.

At any rate, here are the backstage diplomatic developments in the most serious crisis confronting Dulles brinkman shop:

IKE SHIES OFF — President Eisenhower got quite upset last week over a series of confidential messages from friendly western European leaders warning that if we got into war over Quemoy we would have to fight alone . . . . Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, attached to Eisenhower's staff when we were fighting side by side in World War II, was the most blunt. He warned that the British people would never fight to save an island less than four miles from the Chinese Communist mainland. This, he said, would be like Britain's trying to hold Staten Island against American artillery blasting it from Manhattan, only a few miles away. . . . Only allied leader who supported the President's tough Formosan policy was Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany who believe a tough policy toward the Communist bloc may help German unification. . . . After getting these telegrams Ike turned the heat on his Secretary of State to work out some kind of deal with the Chinese Reds at Warsaw.

CHAING DOESN'T SHY—Even if Dulles succeeds in getting a deal with the Chinese Reds for the neutralization of Quemoy, he'll have a hard time getting a deal with Chiang Kai-shek. The Generalissimo, who let a Formosan rabble sack the American Embassy in Taipei two years ago and steal the secret U.S. code, has been threatening to fight alone if the United States makes a deal at Warsaw. He has vowed to American diplomats that he will order his troops to fight to the death rather than let Quemoy be neutralized. The slaughter of his troops, Chiang says, will disgrace the United States before the eyes of the world and make it clear that an American promise to help is a mere scrap of paper. . . . Chiang may not be bluffing. He has nothing to lose from a world war, and a lot could be gained. Intercepted Chinese Nationalist telegrams which Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon read to the Senate some time ago showed that Chiang's government instructed its diplomats Dec. 5, 1949: "Our hope of world war so as to rehabilitate our country is unpalatable to the American people.". . . Another cable, July 14, 1950, near the start of the Korean War, read: "The war in Korea will be extended. . . . We must be patient at this time."

BOMBING THE MAINLAND—Chiang met with the U.S. commander, Adm. Roland Smoot, on the Pescadores Islands a few days ago, at which time the Generalissimo tried to force a showdown. He demanded the right to bomb Communist artillery on the mainland which have been shelling Quemoy. John Foster Dulles complained at the United Nations that these were Russian-made guns, which is true. Chiang wanted to bomb them with American-made jets. . . .Admiral Smoot, however, said no. Reason: Bombing the Chinese mainland would lead to atomic retaliation from the Chinese Reds, might bring in Russia. Khrushchev has warned that Russia would come in if the Chinese mainland were attacked. . . . Chiang also demanded that American warships convoy supplies right up to the Quemoy beaches under Red shellfire. Again Admiral Smoot said no. No convoys beyond the three-mile limit. He suggested, diplomatically, that Chiang's forces not retreat under shellfire when they hit the Quemoy beaches. They have been turning tail the minute Red guns began to fire.

BACKSTAGE IN THE PENTAGON—The worried Joint Chiefs of Staff, meeting daily in Washington, have come to the same conclusion as Chiang — though they don't necessarily recommend it. They advise that the siege of Quemoy can't be lifted without bombing the Chinese artillery, three miles away on the mainland. . . . This is the step which our allies fear and Khrushchev warns would bring war. . . . Secretary of State Dulles has agreed to the principle of bombing the mainland—if necessary. Ike has not. He tells callers he wants a just and honorable peace but doesn't say how it's to be obtained. . . . Dulles wants to postpone bombing until after the Warsaw talks have tried to arrange for the neutralization of Quemoy. . . . But if Chiang Kai-shek won't accept neutralization, Mr. Dulles is right back where he started from—on the brink.

Where's That Report?

By Bob Considine

LITTLE ROCK — Among the more mystifying aspects of The Trouble, as the school integration problem has come to be known, is the dust that the Justice Department has permitted to gather on a 1,200 page report made here last year by the FBI.

There were as many G-men operating in the swarming crowds at Central High School a year ago at this time as there are now U.S. marshals on hand. The FBI function apparently was to ferret out whether the demonstrators were bound by any other conspiracy than racial intolerance. A secondary investigation must have been the scrutiny of Gov. Faubus' claim that he called out his National Guard and blocked the attendance of the nine Negroes assigned to Central High because he learned of "armed bands" converging on Little Rock from outside the state.

The FBI questioned newsmen—including this one — at great length. Gov. Faubus' foes confidently awaited the unveiling of a report which they felt certain would place behind bars all those responsible for making a sorry mess of what probably would have been a peaceful and hardly noticed integration program. In the ensuing year they have made repeated attempts to spring the report loose. But for reasons best known to itself, the Justice Department is harboring it.

Richard Butler, the distinguished attorney who unsuccessfully argued the Little Rock School Board's plea to the Supreme Court for a 2½-year breathing spell on integration, believes the chief hope of school desegregation in the South now is either a constitutional amendment (which he doubts would receive ratification of enough states) or "local option."

"Some counties would and could handle desegregated schools just as many places in the South and elsewhere maintain anti-liquor laws," he said. "A third of Arkansas's counties are dry, 25 years after Repeal."

Some hint of the enormous troubles that lie beyond Arkansas and Virginia, in the matter of carrying out the Supreme Court's school integration edict, may be gathered from an editorial which appeared recently in the Delta Democrat - Times of Greenville, Miss. It was applauded by the paper's readers.

With tongue an estimated half-in-cheek, the editorial reads:

"What with all these nosey newspapermen and preachers and Yankees and other such Communist trash, it's getting to where a Mississippi white man can't kill himself a niggah without getting his name in the papers and losing up to two or three days in court. Downright subversive, we call it.

"But, just like we always said, a fellow oughtn't to complain about conditions unless he's got an idea for improving them. Well, we got an idea on this one. Might be called the state's rights tax saving program.

"The way it would work would be something like this: Give every county one—maybe two—niggah killings for free. Might have to raise the ante in Holmes County a little, but two a year ought to be enough as a general rule. Any white fellow that went over the limit in one season would have to pay for the privilege. Not a fine, but a sort of assessment. Say $50, what with inflation and everything. The money would go to the family of the deceased, so they could move to Chicago if they don't like it here, and good riddance, too.

"Now of course we wouldn't rule out jury trials altogether. Let's say a county got real hoggish and went over the free limit two years in succession. To our way of thinking that would call for a jury trial. No, not for the killings but for giving the state a bad name."

Economic Stability For Latin America

Secretary of State Dulles and foreign ministers of Latin American countries face a tough assignment when they sit down in Washington for "informal discussions" today and tomorrow. The objective is agreement on how to promote economic stability in the republics to the south. Falling prices for coffee and mineral exports, rising prices for imported goods, and serious currency inflation plague many of the Latin nations.

Two intangible factors complicate the search for remedies: (1) Central and South Americans feel they have been denied their rightful share of the billions of economic aid distributed by the United States; (2) Washington is wary of being called on to do all the financing of any development programs agreed upon. At an economic conference in Buenos Aires a year ago, Treasury Secretary Anderson tried to convince the Latins that sources of investment capital were ample, that in fact "the Latin American republics have been successfully competing and obtaining a sharply expanded flow of new capital funds."

The Latin countries, however, still found it difficult to accumulate necessary foreign exchange and insisted they needed aid for development projects that would reduce their dependence on imports. Brazil's president Kubitschek urged President Eisenhower to review the problem and called for a summit conference of American presidents. On a flying trip to Brazil in August, Dulles went as far as agreeing to the foreign ministers' conference now about to meet.

Vice President Nixon, treated earlier to hostile receptions in Peru and Venezuela, had convinced the Administration of the need to reappraise U. S. policies toward Latin America. Milton Eisenhower, who visited Central America in July, also said on his return that the United States "must shore up its policies and programs with respect to Latin America." Firmness could bring peace in the Far East, but any policy of the United States becomes weak and ineffective abroad unless all Americans stand firm behind the President. For the Communists must be convinced that all factions here are uniting in demanding a renunciation of the use of force in the Far East.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

This brink diplomacy is as exciting as opening crocodile eggs at the wrong end.

It means you're wearing chips for epaulets, running a rannigan against the opposition and toeing the scratch on parallels.

Our portfolians are as cagey as a pet store. They have reached the state where they can give you a hot-foot without breaking a blister.

Four or five years of this gives your pulse the big beat. It's like sleeping over the boiler of Fulton's first steamboat.

There have been times when we were on edge like a file index.

It could go either way like rain on the Great Divide.

At those critical interludes we were fortunate our man had his hair parted exactly in the middle.

Streptomycin Cures Tularemia In A Hurry

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The hunter who develops tularemia from an infected rabbit or squirrel gets a break when the disease is recognized and treated early. Prompt recovery follows the use of streptomycin.

Tularemia is chiefly a disease of wild animals such as rabbits, squirrels, woodchucks, fox, coyotes, and insects such as ticks and deer flies. Man enters the picture by handling the infected carcass, consuming tainted meat, or by the bite of an infected, bloodsucking fly or tick.

When the disease is acquired while butchering the animal a sore develops three to seven days after exposure in the place where the causative organisms entered the body, usually on a finger or hand. Shortly thereafter, headache, chills, and fever occur. The temperature shoots up to 104 degrees F. and remains at this level for weeks unless treatment is started.

Meanwhile, the lesion becomes red and swollen and breaks open after coming to a head. The glands in the armpits and groins swell and become tender to the touch. The individual feels miserable, with generalized aching and weakness.

Unless streptomycin is used, the condition may go on for several weeks before the body's immunity takes over control. Convalescence is prolonged, with gradual reduction in fever, lassitude, muscular aching, and irritability. Diagnosis is made by special skin and blood tests. In some instances, the disease attacks the lungs and leads to pneumonia; in others, the skin escapes and the glands receive the brunt of the attack. A few develop tularemia of the eye or of the gastrointestinal tract.

One attack produces partial immunity. Many reinfections have been reported. There is no preventive vaccine so that hunters must be careful in areas where the disease is known to exist. Butchers and housewives ought to wear rubber gloves when handling wild rabbits. The organisms are destroyed by heat, which means that infected meat is rendered harmless by thorough cooking.

INFLAMED PANCREAS

C. F. writes: How is pancreatitis treated?

REPLY

By using drugs that control pain, quiet the pancreas, and eliminate infection. Acute pancreatitis may be associated with shock, which requires blood transfusions and other intravenous fluids. Diet plays an important role in the treatment of chronic pancreatitis. In some instances, removal of the gall bladder is recommended to eliminate the source of infection.

SUN CANCER

T. W. writes: How is skin cancer caused by exposure to the sun?

REPLY

The cause of cancer, including that of the skin, is not known. Since skin cancers are most common over exposed areas, sunlight is blamed. It may be caused by the irritation or the rays produce certain chemicals in the skin, leading to malignancy.

TORN GULLET

H. T. writes: What causes rupture of the esophagus?

REPLY

Tumor, perforated diverticulum, or swallowing a sharp object such as a fishbone. Spontaneous rupture also may follow a heavy meal or an alcoholic debauch in persons with unrecognized inflammation of the esophagus.

BEER BELLY

W. D. writes: Why does drinking a lot of beer cause a beer belly?

REPLY

The combination of too many calories and too much sitting.

TOMORROW: Smallpox isolation in the '90s.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

John Cameron Swayze tells about a time when he was engaged to address a ladies' luncheon club on the subject of Chinese history and philosophy. He did his best, then asked the chairwoman, "Why did you ask me to make China my subject?"

"We wanted the talk to be appropriate," was the explanation. "We are now going to serve a chow mein luncheon."

At recess time on Monday at school, young Walter's chum asked, "Was that girl's party on Saturday as good as you expected it to be?" "Was it!," echoed young Walter. "Boy, I ain't hungry yet!"

Chiang Not Opposed To World War To Reinstate Nationalist Regime

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Coming back to active work in the nation's capital after sitting on a farm in Maryland, one gets the impression that the United States is skating dangerously close to the brink of war abroad, torn by racial bitterness at home, and that not much is being done about either.

History shows that times of internal dissention — such as that created over Little Rock — are when dictators strike. England and France, to say nothing of the United States, were in the throes of internal disagreement when Hitler struck Poland in the same month of September, 19 years ago.

Recent history also shows that the Chinese Nationalists have always wanted a world war to save the Chiang Kai-shek regime; and that the Chinese Communists, bulging with a surplus population they can't feed, have publicly boasted they can afford to lose half their 600,000,000 people in war and still have plenty left.

In view of this, the John Foster Dulles policy of skating close to the brink may be more dangerous that he thinks.

At any rate, here are the backstage diplomatic developments in the most serious crisis confronting Dulles brinkman shop:

IKE SHIES OFF — President Eisenhower got quite upset last week over a series of confidential messages from friendly western European leaders warning that if we got into war over Quemoy we would have to fight alone . . . . Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, attached to Eisenhower's staff when we were fighting side by side in World War II, was the most blunt. He warned that the British people would never fight to save an island less than four miles from the Chinese Communist mainland. This, he said, would be like Britain's trying to hold Staten Island against American artillery blasting it from Manhattan, only a few miles away. . . . Only allied leader who supported the President's tough Formosan policy was Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany who believe a tough policy toward the Communist bloc may help German unification. . . . After getting these telegrams Ike turned the heat on his Secretary of State to work out some kind of deal with the Chinese Reds at Warsaw.

CHAING DOESN'T SHY—Even if Dulles succeeds in getting a deal with the Chinese Reds for the neutralization of Quemoy, he'll have a hard time getting a deal with Chiang Kai-shek. The Generalissimo, who let a Formosan rabble sack the American Embassy in Taipei two years ago and steal the secret U.S. code, has been threatening to fight alone if the United States makes a deal at Warsaw. He has vowed to American diplomats that he will order his troops to fight to the death rather than let Quemoy be neutralized. The slaughter of his troops, Chiang says, will disgrace the United States before the eyes of the world and make it clear that an American promise to help is a mere scrap of paper. . . . Chiang may not be bluffing. He has nothing to lose from a world war, and a lot could be gained. Intercepted Chinese Nationalist telegrams which Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon read to the Senate some time ago showed that Chiang's government instructed its diplomats Dec. 5, 1949: "Our hope of world war so as to rehabilitate our country is unpalatable to the American people.". . . Another cable, July 14, 1950, near the start of the Korean War, read: "The war in Korea will be extended. . . . We must be patient at this time."

BOMBING THE MAINLAND—Chiang met with the U.S. commander, Adm. Roland Smoot, on the Pescadores Islands a few days ago, at which time the Generalissimo tried to force a showdown. He demanded the right to bomb Communist artillery on the mainland which have been shelling Quemoy. John Foster Dulles complained at the United Nations that these were Russian-made guns, which is true. Chiang wanted to bomb them with American-made jets. . . .Admiral Smoot, however, said no. Reason: Bombing the Chinese mainland would lead to atomic retaliation from the Chinese Reds, might bring in Russia. Khrushchev has warned that Russia would come in if the Chinese mainland were attacked. . . . Chiang also demanded that American warships convoy supplies right up to the Quemoy beaches under Red shellfire. Again Admiral Smoot said no. No convoys beyond the three-mile limit. He suggested, diplomatically, that Chiang's forces not retreat under shellfire when they hit the Quemoy beaches. They have been turning tail the minute Red guns began to fire.

BACKSTAGE IN THE PENTAGON—The worried Joint Chiefs of Staff, meeting daily in Washington, have come to the same conclusion as Chiang — though they don't necessarily recommend it. They advise that the siege of Quemoy can't be lifted without bombing the Chinese artillery, three miles away on the mainland. . . . This is the step which our allies fear and Khrushchev warns would bring war. . . . Secretary of State Dulles has agreed to the principle of bombing the mainland—if necessary. Ike has not. He tells callers he wants a just and honorable peace but doesn't say how it's to be obtained. . . . Dulles wants to postpone bombing until after the Warsaw talks have tried to arrange for the neutralization of Quemoy. . . . But if Chiang Kai-shek won't accept neutralization, Mr. Dulles is right back where he started from—on the brink.

Where's That Report?

By Bob Considine

LITTLE ROCK — Among the more mystifying aspects of The Trouble, as the school integration problem has come to be known, is the dust that the Justice Department has permitted to gather on a 1,200 page report made here last year by the FBI.

There were as many G-men operating in the swarming crowds at Central High School a year ago at this time as there are now U.S. marshals on hand. The FBI function apparently was to ferret out whether the demonstrators were bound by any other conspiracy than racial intolerance. A secondary investigation must have been the scrutiny of Gov. Faubus' claim that he called out his National Guard and blocked the attendance of the nine Negroes assigned to Central High because he learned of "armed bands" converging on Little Rock from outside the state.

The FBI questioned newsmen—including this one — at great length. Gov. Faubus' foes confidently awaited the unveiling of a report which they felt certain would place behind bars all those responsible for making a sorry mess of what probably would have been a peaceful and hardly noticed integration program. In the ensuing year they have made repeated attempts to spring the report loose. But for reasons best known to itself, the Justice Department is harboring it.

Richard Butler, the distinguished attorney who unsuccessfully argued the Little Rock School Board's plea to the Supreme Court for a 2½-year breathing spell on integration, believes the chief hope of school desegregation in the South now is either a constitutional amendment (which he doubts would receive ratification of enough states) or "local option."

"Some counties would and could handle desegregated schools just as many places in the South and elsewhere maintain anti-liquor laws," he said. "A third of Arkansas's counties are dry, 25 years after Repeal."

Some hint of the enormous troubles that lie beyond Arkansas and Virginia, in the matter of carrying out the Supreme Court's school integration edict, may be gathered from an editorial which appeared recently in the Delta Democrat - Times of Greenville, Miss. It was applauded by the paper's readers.

With tongue an estimated half-in-cheek, the editorial reads:

"What with all these nosey newspapermen and preachers and Yankees and other such Communist trash, it's getting to where a Mississippi white man can't kill himself a niggah without getting his name in the papers and losing up to two or three days in court. Downright subversive, we call it.

"But, just like we always said, a fellow oughtn't to complain about conditions unless he's got an idea for improving them. Well, we got an idea on this one. Might be called the state's rights tax saving program.

"The way it would work would be something like this: Give every county one—maybe two—niggah killings for free. Might have to raise the ante in Holmes County a little, but two a year ought to be enough as a general rule. Any white fellow that went over the limit in one season would have to pay for the privilege. Not a fine, but a sort of assessment. Say $50, what with inflation and everything. The money would go to the family of the deceased, so they could move to Chicago if they don't like it here, and good riddance, too.

"Now of course we wouldn't rule out jury trials altogether. Let's say a county got real hoggish and went over the free limit two years in succession. To our way of thinking that would call for a jury trial. No, not for the killings but for giving the state a bad name."

Road Contracts Are Awarded In West Virginia

Area Projects Are Included

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Road Commission said Monday work was expected to start soon on the first West Virginia segment of Interstate 77.

A contract for grading and draining about two miles of the roadbed for the multi-lane highway was awarded to Boso & Ritchie of Ravenswood after approval by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The Ravenswood firm submitted a low bid of $1,959,593 for the project near Goldtown in Jackson County just off present U. S. 21. Interstate 77 originates in Canton, Ohio and its terminus is Charlotte, N. C. It will enter West Virginia at Williamstown and will exit near Princeton.

Work already is under way in West Virginia on Interstate 81 in the Eastern Panhandle, Interstate 70 in the Wheeling area, and Interstate 64 in Cabell and Putnam Counties. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost, the state 10 per cent on these projects.

The SRC also announced Monday contract awards for three other federal aid projects in the state: They include:

Berkeley County Relocation of .4 miles of Sec. 28 at Blairton; Evvin C. Riggleman, Moorefield, $74,032.

Wetzel - Marshall — Construction of guard rails along W. Va. 2 between New Martinsville and Moundsville; Andersons' Inc., Charleston, $30,667.

GOP Chairman Praises Area Organization

KEYSER — Dan Louchery, Republican state chairman, complimented area Republican leaders for their large turnout at the pre-election rally and planning sessions held in Petersburg Wednesday, where 94 county and district committees and organization officers were present. Mineral, Tucker, Hardy, Grant, Hampshire and Pendleton county leaders, met in separate sessions with state Chairman Louchery throughout the day.

Following the long session day, Mr. Louchery said: "I want to tell all those present that I am greatly pleased with the help and enthusiasm shown." Continuing he said "I have found this same kind of cooperation and interest in all of the 17 area rallies held during this trip through this part of the state.

With Mr. Louchery were Fred O. Blue, former Young Republican State president and now vice-chairman of the state; Mrs. Frederick Becker, state president of the Republican Women's Club and Roy Winden, director of organization for Young Republic Clubs. State and national candidates were also in attendance with Senator John B. Hoblitzell leading the group.

Complete plans for the campaign were presented and explained by Mr. Louchery and his co-workers from the opening of the campaign down to closing of the polls. One of the high points, he said, is the strong precinct organization, with an incentive bonus to be paid the precinct captain who exceeds his vote quota.

Road Contracts Are Awarded In West Virginia

Area Projects Are Included

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Road Commission said Monday work was expected to start soon on the first West Virginia segment of Interstate 77.

A contract for grading and draining about two miles of the roadbed for the multi-lane highway was awarded to Boso & Ritchie of Ravenswood after approval by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The Ravenswood firm submitted a low bid of $1,959,593 for the project near Goldtown in Jackson County just off present U. S. 21. Interstate 77 originates in Canton, Ohio and its terminus is Charlotte, N. C. It will enter West Virginia at Williamstown and will exit near Princeton.

Work already is under way in West Virginia on Interstate 81 in the Eastern Panhandle, Interstate 70 in the Wheeling area, and Interstate 64 in Cabell and Putnam Counties. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost, the state 10 per cent on these projects.

The SRC also announced Monday contract awards for three other federal aid projects in the state: They include:

Berkeley County Relocation of .4 miles of Sec. 28 at Blairton; Evvin C. Riggleman, Moorefield, $74,032.

Wetzel - Marshall — Construction of guard rails along W. Va. 2 between New Martinsville and Moundsville; Andersons' Inc., Charleston, $30,667.

Pocahontas — Paving 5 miles of Sec. 25 between Rimel and the Greenbrier County line; Sam Finley Inc., Atlanta, Ga., $65,357.

Mineral Co. GOP Leaders Meet Candidates

GOP Chairman Praises Area Organization

KEYSER — Dan Louchery, Republican state chairman, complimented area Republican leaders for their large turnout at the pre-election rally and planning sessions held in Petersburg Wednesday, where 94 county and district committees and organization officers were present. Mineral, Tucker, Hardy, Grant, Hampshire and Pendleton county leaders, met in separate sessions with state Chairman Louchery throughout the day.

Following the long session day, Mr. Louchery said: "I want to tell all those present that I am greatly pleased with the help and enthusiasm shown." Continuing he said "I have found this same kind of cooperation and interest in all of the 17 area rallies held during this trip through this part of the state.

With Mr. Louchery were Fred O. Blue, former Young Republican State president and now vice-chairman of the state; Mrs. Frederick Becker, state president of the Republican Women's Club and Roy Winden, director of organization for Young Republic Clubs. State and national candidates were also in attendance with Senator John B. Hoblitzell leading the group.

Complete plans for the campaign were presented and explained by Mr. Louchery and his co-workers from the opening of the campaign down to closing of the polls. One of the high points, he said, is the strong precinct organization, with an incentive bonus to be paid the precinct captain who exceeds his vote quota.

America's Cup Second Race Is Declared "No Contest"

Columbia Is Loser In Race Against Time

U.S. Yacht Leads But Is Stopped By Time Limit Gun

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ABOARD COAST GUARD CUTTER OFF NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) —American defender Columbia lost a mad, frustrating race against time Monday and saw a second straight America's Cup victory over British Sceptre wrenched from her hand by a time limit gun.

The sleek, Yankee ghost of the sea was four miles from home and a good half-mile ahead of her puffing British rival when the blast sounded from the race committee boat declaring it "no contest."

Gun Stops Race

Under the rules, a 24-mile triangular race such as Monday's event must be completed within 5½ hours from the start. They started at 12:20 p.m. (EDT). The gun sounded at 5:50 p.m.

There will be no race Tuesday. The British, exercising their prerogative under the rules of the competition, decided to take the day off. They will haul the Sceptre out of the water and have it slicked up for the renewal of racing on Wednesday.

The rival sloops panted for air for almost 3½ hours on the becalmed Atlantic during the first eight-mile leg.

It was not until late on the opening leg that a light, almost unnoticeably northerly wind turned into a mild southwesterly wind of growing velocity which allowed the boats to get under way.

Sceptre, capitalizing on a technical blunder by Columbia's skipper Briggs Cunningham early in the race, forged to the front during the first part of the opening leg. Then she built up a 200-yard lead rounding the first marker.

Columbia Leads

Propelled by winds which increased to eight knots, Columbia overcame the disadvantage midway of the second leg of the giant triangular and showed the way during the remainder of the race.

Now the British challenger, a humiliated loser by more than eight minutes in last Saturday's opening test, must wait until Wednesday to see whether she has a chance to wrest back the ugly bottomless mug which the schooner America took away from her shores 107 years ago.

U. S. SKIPPER—Briggs Cunningham, 51-year-old Yale grad, yachtsman and auto racer, is the skipper of the Columbia, the U. S. yacht that is engaging the British yacht Sceptre in America's Cup races off Newport, R. I. Cunningham has appeared in sports car races at the Cumberland Municipal Airport in recent years.

President's Cup Regatta Is Won By Miss U.S. I

WASHINGTON (UPI)—George Simon's Miss U.S. I won the 27th running of the $30,000 President's Cup regatta Monday by amassing 969 American Power Boat Assn. (APBA) points.

The roaring hydroplane from Detroit, piloted by Don Wilson, had only to finish the 30-mile final heat in order to out-point the other three contenders for the coveted cup.

This year's race was run under a total-point system with the craft scoring the most points in the three heats declared the winner.

Wilson racked up 800 points in the two preliminary heats for a commanding lead. Simon instructed his pilot to take his time Monday and assure the victory.

Breathless II, owned by J. P. Murphy of Piedmont, Calif., and driven by his son Jay, finished second in the first race she has completed this year. Breathless scored 750 APBA points.

Miss Bardahl, owned by Ole Bardahl, the oil manufacturer, finished first in the final heat scoring 400 APBA points. The score brought her total for the meet to 654 for third place.

Deposed British Skipper Sees U.S. Yacht As Victor

LONDON (AP)—The man who was replaced as skipper of the Sceptre, Britain's hope in the America's Cup yachting races, said Monday he would be surprised if the trim, white craft wins a single race from the U.S. yacht Columbia.

"The Americans have a faster boat and a slicker crew. It's not sour grapes on my part," said Capt. Jim Slorence. "In fact that I think they did right in dropping me in favor of Capt. Stanley Bishop. He's more experienced."

But Slorence sounded bitter in commenting on chances of the Sceptre in the best-of-seven series now under way off Newport, R.I.

"If Sceptre is to win a race," he said, "the Americans will have to make mistakes—and that's not very likely."

Orioles Score Fourth In Row Over Senators

Nieman's Two-Run Double Wins, 2-0

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Bob Nieman's two-run pop-fly double in the third inning gave the Baltimore Orioles a 2-0 victory, their fourth straight, over the Washington Senators Monday night behind the six-hit pitching of Hal Brown.

The game marked the fourth straight in which the Senators have been blanked by the same score, last three shutouts having been at the hands of the Boston Red Sox. In addition, the Senators tied a major league record shared by six clubs, the last of which was the 1931 Cincinnati Reds, by being shut out for the fourth successive time.

Brown won his seventh game in 12 decisions as he struck out five, walked three and allowed only two men to reach second base. Russ Kemmerer, his mound opponent, lost his 15th against six wins, but he deserved a better fate.

Brown drew a walk off Kemmerer with one out in the third inning and went to third on a double by Bob Boyd. Nieman lifted a pop fly to short left field on which shortstop Rocky Bridges seemed to have the range. But at the last moment, he stepped aside and left fielder Faye Throneberry missed a diving catch. Both Oriole runners scored on the play.

Keyser Holds 3rd Spot In State "AA" Ratings

Terra Alta Gridders Head "A" Division

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—It's East Bank, Ceredo-Kenova and Terra Alta at the top of the three divisions of West Virginia high school football after three weekends of play.

Unofficial ratings compiled Monday by United Press International, based on the system and the records of the Secondary School Activities Commission, give East Bank a 12.50 mark, followed by Morgantown with 12.30 in Class Triple-A.

In Class Double - A, Ceredo has a wide lead, with a point rating of 12.30, followed by Clarksburg Roosevelt-Wilson with 11.17.

Terra Alta Leads

Terra Alta so far also has a good lead in Class A with a mark of 9.00. Mark Twain is second with 8.00.

Defending champion Weirton is tied for third with Elkins, at 12.00, in Class AAA, while defending AA champion Huntington Vinson is fourth in its class. Keyser is third with a mark of 10.60 while Vinson stands at 10.50.

Defending Class A champion Ravenswood has a 1-2 record but has played only one game which counts for rating purposes and won it. Defeated teams, like Charleston, are not out of it either, should they keep going strong hereout. But their ratings are too low now to put them among the leaders.

Here are the unofficial ratings of teams undefeated in class, which are eligible for championship consideration and have played more than one game in class:

The Ratings

Class AAA: East Bank 12.50, Morgantown 12.30; Elkins 12.00; Weirton 12.00, Parkersburg 11.30, Barboursville 11.30, Fairmont West 9.16, Welch 8.18.

Class AA: Ceredo - Kenova 12:30, Roosevelt - Wilson 11.17, Keyser 10.60, Huntington Vinson 10.50, Monogah 10.30, Poca 10.30, Mullens 9.50, Benwood 9.30, Weston 9.30, Follansbee 9.25, Grantsville 9.00, Hinton 9.00, Gassaway 9.00, Gauley Bridge 8.30, Fayetteville 6.6.

Class A: Terra Alta 9.00, Mark-Twain 8.00, Winfield 7.50, Masontown 7.30, Middlebourne 7.00, Amigo Byrd-Prillerman 7.00, Williamstown 7.00, Fairview 6.60, Barrackville 6.30, Green Bank 6.00, Hamlin 6.00, War Excelsior 6.00.

Get Dog Ready For The Hunting Season

Hunters will get a great deal more satisfaction and enjoyment out of their days afield if they start early to get their dogs ready for the hunting season, states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

A dog can't be at the top of his form or even in adequate condition if he's been confined to a kennel yard, or tied to a doghouse, for most of the summer. It won't be his fault if he tires easily or slows down to a disinterested walk after a few minutes work. In fact, adds the Center, it is well known that dogs often go into hysteria or fits, especially on warm days, if they are given hard exercise after long inactivity.

There is more to taking a dog hunting than just unsnapping his tie-chain, says the Center. He needs short daily walks or work, gradually lengthened, to build up his muscles and endurance. Stamina comes from within so he needs plenty of good rations. He can't be very energetic, or his nose may be "off" if he's run down from debilitating internal parasites, or from fighting a dense population of fleas or lice. It takes little time and money to have him checked for worms by a veterinarian, and treated, if necessary. There are excellent commercial dips and other types of preparations that will rid him of fleas.

You can make a dog move by pushing him along but it is only his own desire that can make him hunt, states the Center. If you take pride in your hunting dog's condition, he will make you proud of his work in the field.

Jay Will Miss World Series

Milwaukee Pitcher Has Finger Fracture

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Pitcher Joey Jay of the Milwaukee Braves will be operated on Monday night for an injured finger and will miss the World Series which starts here next week, the Braves announced.

A batted ball fractured Jay's left ring finger at St. Louis last week. For a while it was thought the finger was improving but X-rays Monday showed it was not. Dr. Bruce Brewer, club physician, will perform the surgery. The Braves said Jay will be in Milwaukee hospital for two days and will wear a cast for three weeks.

The Braves said they will ask Commissioner Ford Frick for permission to use Ernie Johnson, veteran relief pitcher recently recalled from Wichita, in Jay's place.

Maryland's Upset Failed To Surprise Redskins' Mentor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There was one person who wasn't a bit surprised at the 34-0 shellacking Wake Forest handed Maryland last Saturday.

Coach Joe Kuharich of the professional Washington Redskins, it can now be told, privately predicted the upset several days ago.

Kuharich, whose team was quartered for two weeks in Winston-Salem during the National Football League's exhibition season, watched Wake Forest work out several times.

"I think they'll score at least three times against Maryland on passes," he told anyone who'd listen. "That kid quarterback of theirs (Norman Snead) is a honey and their pass patterns are real sharp."

Turned out Kuharich was a pretty good prophet. Snead threw three touchdown passes, tying an Atlantic Coast Conference record.

WVU Names Captains For Oklahoma Game

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —Quarterback Dick Longfellow and tackle Bill Trosso were named Monday by Coach Art Lewis as co-captains for West Virginia in its game Saturday against Oklahoma at Norman.

Trozzo, a hard - hitting 230-pounder, is the bulwark of the Mountaineer line. He joined West Virginia last fall and became a regular, after attending Notre Dame for a year and a half.

Longfellow, at 5-foot-9 and 175 pounds, is one of West Virginia's smaller players but has proved he can withstand considerable punishment. He also is regarded as the Mountaineers' best defensive quarterback in several years.

Phils Beat Bucs In 14 Frames, 3-2

21 Pirates Whiff, Set Major Record

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Dave Philley batted in the winning run with one out in the 14th inning Monday night as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated Pittsburgh, 3-2, in a game in which 21 Pirates struck out for a major league record.

The record was set in the first game of a twi-night double-header as starting pitcher Seth Morehead fanned 12 in nine innings, reliever Dick Farrell struck out two in two innings and winning pitcher Jack Meyer fanned seven in three innings. Meyer struck out the first six men who faced him in the 12th and 13th.

Loser Ronnie Kline, who went all the way for Pittsburgh, struck out five for a grand total of 26 in the ball game.

The previous record was 20 strikeouts by one team set in a 15-inning game between the St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators, July 25, 1913. The previous national League record was 18, the Cubs vs. the Braves, June 14, 1952, and the cubs vs. the Giants, May 2, 1956.

The Phillies won the game when Bob Young singled with one out in the 14th, Ed Bouchee bounced a single into right field, sending Young to third and Philley singled past short for the tie-breaking run.

Meyer's victory was his second against six losses.

St. Nick To Reopen Without Telecasts

NEW YORK (UPI) — Matchmaker Teddy Brenner announced Monday that boxing programs would be resumed at the St. Nicholas Arena Sept. 29 without TV and that Jose Torres would meet Otis Woodward in the feature 10-rounder.

Brenner said Rudell Stitch of Louisville, Ky., would meet Isaac Logart of Cuba in a return bout at St. Nicholas Oct. 6. Stitch outpointed Logart at Louisville Aug. 27.

Brenner said telecasts of Monday night bouts at St. Nicholas might be resumed later.

Penalty Is Light For Latest Episode Of $100,000 Beauty

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Williams was fined a nominal $50 Monday by American League President Will Harridge for letting his bat get out of hand along with his temper.

Thus ended another episode for the Boston Red Sox' $100,000 per year batting star, who twice before had been fined by the league for carrying his bat work too far and once for spitting without using a cuspidor.

Bat Struck Woman

In a fit of temperament, Williams Sunday tossed his bat after taking a called third strike. It went into the stands and struck Mrs. Gladys Heffernan, 69-year-old housekeeper for Joe Cronin, Red Sox general manager.

Mrs. Heffernan, a Williams fan, suffered a contusion over her left eye.

A weeping Williams rushed to the box seat railing and was told by Mrs. Heffernan that she was all right and that she knew he didn't mean to do it.

Williams apparently has been agonized by his latest tantrum. Because of this mental suffering Harridge undoubtedly was not as Harsh as some quarters expected.

Talks With Cronin

Harridge talked to Cronin by telephone before making an unembelished announcement that the 40-year-old Williams was assessed $50 for violating the bat-throwing regulation.

There was no further comment other than Harridge explaining that a $50 fine is not mandatory and that each incident of bat tossing is judged on its own merits.

The league president had before him a full report from Umpire in Chief Bill Summers, who worked the game in which Boston blanked Washington 2-0.

Softball Series To Resume Today

The third game of the County Softball League's best-of-five final series between Stringtown and Kennell's Mill is scheduled for today at 6 p. m., at Kennell's Mill.

Stringtown holds a 2 to 1 edge in games won.

The home team is required to turn over the field to the visitors at 5:45 p. m., so that that game will start promptly at 6 p. m.

Kershner Lost To Terrapins

Halfback To Miss Next Three Games

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Ted Kershner, No. 1 Maryland left halfback injured in the Wake Forest game, will miss the next three games, the Terps learned Monday.

Officials said X-rays taken at University Hospital in Baltimore showed that the injury was definitely a shoulder separation. The 21-year-old senior from Martinsburg, W. Va., will miss games with North Carolina State, Clemson and Texas AM & M.

Coach Tommy Mont moved up Gene Verardi, Freeport, Pa., junior, to replace Kershner, and sophomore Dwayne Fletcher of Front Royal, Va., took over the No. 2 spot.

Mont ran his men full speed in a two-hour scrimmage Monday. The first portion was spent on pass defense, a major weakness at Wake Forest last Saturday.

After looking over a movie of the game, Mont made several other lineup changes. At left tackle, junior Ed Nickla of Brooklyn, N. Y., was moved from the second string to first. Two others moved up to the second string were sophomore Everett Cloud of Falls Church, Va., at fullback, and Pete Boinis, Washington sophomore, at left guard.

Dubuque Dropped As Chicago Farm

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox said Monday that the club has decided not to renew its working agreement with the Dubuque Packers in the Class D Midwest Baseball League.

A White Sox spokesman said that the decision was made because the "playing facilities were not up to what we had hoped they would be."

Whether the Sox will seek another club in the Midwest League has not been determined. In Class D baseball, the Sox have an agreement with Holdrege in the Nebraska League.

Rosewall Cops Title

PARIS (UPI) — Ken Rosewall of Australia won the championship in the Paris professional tennis tournament Monday by defeating Lew Hoad, his former Davis Cup partner, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

America's Cup Second Race Is Declared "No Contest"

Columbia Is Loser In Race Against Time

U.S. Yacht Leads But Is Stopped By Time Limit Gun

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ABOARD COAST GUARD CUTTER OFF NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) —American defender Columbia lost a mad, frustrating race against time Monday and saw a second straight America's Cup victory over British Sceptre wrenched from her hand by a time limit gun.

The sleek, Yankee ghost of the sea was four miles from home and a good half-mile ahead of her puffing British rival when the blast sounded from the race committee boat declaring it "no contest."

Gun Stops Race

Under the rules, a 24-mile triangular race such as Monday's event must be completed within 5½ hours from the start. They started at 12:20 p.m. (EDT). The gun sounded at 5:50 p.m.

There will be no race Tuesday. The British, exercising their prerogative under the rules of the competition, decided to take the day off. They will haul the Sceptre out of the water and have it slicked up for the renewal of racing on Wednesday.

The rival sloops panted for air for almost 3½ hours on the becalmed Atlantic during the first eight-mile leg.

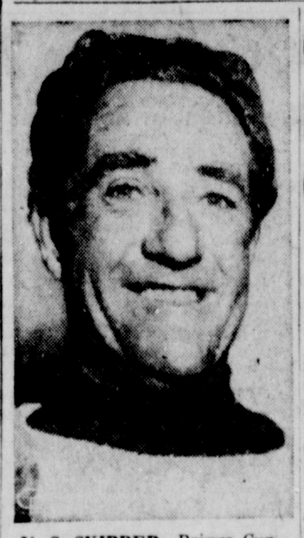

It was hot until late on the opening leg that a light, almost unnoticeably northerly wind turned into a mild southwesterly wind of growing velocity which allowed the boats to get under way.

Sceptre, capitalizing on a technical blunder by Columbia's skipper Briggs Cunningham early in the race, forged to the front during the first part of the opening leg. Then she built up a 200-yard lead rounding the first marker.

Columbia Leads

Propelled by winds which increased to eight knots, Columbia overcame the disadvantage midway of the second leg of the giant triangular and showed the way during the remainder of the race.

Now the British challenger, a humiliated loser by more than eight minutes in last Saturday's opening test, must wait until Wednesday to see whether she has a chance to wrest back the ugly bottomless mug which the schooner America took away from her shores 107 years ago.

U. S. SKIPPER—Briggs Cunningham, 51-year-old Yale grad, yachtsman and auto racer, is the skipper of the Columbia, the U. S. yacht that is engaging the British yacht Sceptre in America's Cup races off Newport, R. I. Cunningham has appeared in sports car races at the Cumberland Municipal Airport in recent years.

President's Cup Regatta Is Won By Miss U.S. I

WASHINGTON (UPI)—George Simon's Miss U.S. I won the 27th running of the $30,000 President's Cup regatta Monday by amassing 969 American Power Boat Assn. (APBA) points.

The roaring hydroplane from Detroit, piloted by Don Wilson, had only to finish the 30-mile final heat in order to out-point the other three contenders for the coveted cup.

This year's race was run under a total-point system with the craft scoring the most points in the three heats declared the winner.

Wilson racked up 800 points in the two preliminary heats for a commanding lead. Simon instructed his pilot to take his time Monday and assure the victory.

Breathless II, owned by J. P. Murphy of Piedmont, Calif., and driven by his son Jay, finished second in the first race she has completed this year. Breathless scored 750 APBA points.

Miss Bardahl, owned by Ole Bardahl, the oil manufacturer, finished first in the final heat scoring 400 APBA points. The score brought her total for the meet to 654 for third place.

Deposed British Skipper Sees U.S. Yacht As Victor

LONDON (AP)—The man who was replaced as skipper of the Sceptre, Britain's hope in the America's Cup yachting races, said Monday he would be surprised if the trim, white craft wins a single race from the U.S. yacht Columbia.

"The Americans have a faster boat and a slicker crew. It's not sour grapes on my part," said Capt. Jim Slorence. "In fact that I think they did right in dropping me in favor of Capt. Stanley Bishop. He's more experienced."

But Slorence sounded bitter in commenting on chances of the Sceptre in the best-of-seven series now under way off Newport, R.I.

"If Sceptre is to win a race," he said, "the Americans will have to make mistakes—and that's not very likely."

Orioles Score Fourth In Row Over Senators

Nieman's Two-Run Double Wins, 2-0

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Bob Nieman's two-run pop-fly double in the third inning gave the Baltimore Orioles a 2-0 victory, their fourth straight, over the Washington Senators Monday night behind the six-hit pitching of Hal Brown.

The game marked the fourth straight in which the Senators have been blanked by the same score, last three shutouts having been at the hands of the Boston Red Sox. In addition, the Senators tied a major league record shared by six clubs, the last of which was the 1931 Cincinnati Reds, by being shut out for the fourth successive time.

Brown won his seventh game in 12 decisions as he struck out five, walked three and allowed only two men to reach second base. Russ Kemmerer, his mound opponent, lost his 15th against six wins, but he deserved a better fate.

Brown drew a walk off Kemmerer with one out in the third inning and went to third on a double by Bob Boyd. Nieman lifted a pop fly to short left field on which shortstop Rocky Bridges seemed to have the range. But at the last moment, he stepped aside and left fielder Faye Throneberry missed a diving catch. Both Oriole runners scored on the play.

Keyser Holds 3rd Spot In State "AA" Ratings

Terra Alta Gridders Head "A" Division

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—It's East Bank, Ceredo-Kenova and Terra Alta at the top of the three divisions of West Virginia high school football after three weekends of play.

Unofficial ratings compiled Monday by United Press International, based on the system and the records of the Secondary School Activities Commission, give East Bank a 12.50 mark, followed by Morgantown with 12.30 in Class Triple-A.

In Class Double - A, Ceredo has a wide lead, with a point rating of 12.30, followed by Clarksburg Roosevelt-Wilson with 11.17.

Terra Alta Leads

Terra Alta so far also has a good lead in Class A with a mark of 9.00. Mark Twain is second with 8.00.

Defending champion Weirton is tied for third with Elkins, at 12.00, in Class AAA, while defending AA champion Huntington Vinson is fourth in its class. Keyser is third with a mark of 10.60 while Vinson stands at 10.50.

Defending Class A champion Ravenswood has a 1-2 record but has played only one game which counts for rating purposes and won it. Defeated teams, like Charleston, are not out of it either, should they keep going strong hereout. But their ratings are too low now to put them among the leaders.

Here are the unofficial ratings of teams undefeated in class, which are eligible for championship consideration and have played more than one game in class:

The Ratings

Class AAA: East Bank 12.50, Morgantown 12.30; Elkins 12.00; Weirton 12.00, Parkersburg 11.30, Barboursville 11.30, Fairmont West 9.16, Welch 8.18.

Class AA: Ceredo - Kenova 12.30, Roosevelt - Wilson 11.17, Keyser 10.60, Huntington Vinson 10.50, Monogah 10.30, Poca 10.30, Mullens 9.50, Benwood 9.30, Weston 9.30, Follansbee 9.25, Grantsville 9.00, Hinton 9.00, Gassaway 9.00, Gauley Bridge 8.30, Fayetteville 6.6.

Class A: Terra Alta 9.00, Mark Twain 8.00, Winfield 7.50, Masontown 7.30, Middlebourne 7.00, Amigo Byrd-Prillerman 7.00, Williamstown 7.00, Fairview 6.60, Barrackville 6.30, Green Bank 6.00, Hamlin 6.00, War Excelsior 6.00.

Get Dog Ready For The Hunting Season

Hunters will get a great deal more satisfaction and enjoyment out of their days afield if they start early to get their dogs ready for the hunting season, states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

A dog can't be at the top of his form or even in adequate condition if he's been confined to a kennel yard, or tied to a doghouse, for most of the summer. It won't be his fault if he tires easily or slows down to a disinterested walk after a few minutes work. In fact, adds the Center, it is well known that dogs often go into hysteria or fits, especially on warm days, if they are given hard exercise after long inactivity.

There is more to taking a dog hunting than just unsnapping his tie-chain, says the Center. He needs short daily walks or work, gradually lengthened, to build up his muscles and endurance. Stamina comes from within so he needs plenty of good rations. He can't be very energetic, or his nose may be "off" if he's run down from debilitating internal parasites, or from fighting a dense population of fleas or lice. It takes little time and money to have him checked for worms by a veterinarian, and treated, if necessary. There are excellent commercial dips and other types of preparations that will rid him of fleas.

You can make a dog move by pushing him along but it is only his own desire that can make him hunt, states the Center. If you take pride in your hunting dog's condition, he will make you proud of his work in the field.

Jay Will Miss World Series

Milwaukee Pitcher Has Finger Fracture

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Pitcher Joey Jay of the Milwaukee Braves will be operated on Monday night for an injured finger and will miss the World Series which starts here next week, the Braves announced.

A batted ball fractured Jay's left ring finger at St. Louis last week. For a while it was thought the finger was improving but X-rays Monday showed it was not. Dr. Bruce Brewer, club physician, will perform the surgery. The Braves said Jay will be in Milwaukee hospital for two days and will wear a cast for three weeks.

The Braves said they will ask Commissioner Ford Frick for permission to use Ernie Johnson, veteran relief pitcher recently recalled from Wichita, in Jay's place.

Maryland's Upset Failed To Surprise Redskins' Mentor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There was one person who wasn't a bit surprised at the 34-0 shellacking Wake Forest handed Maryland last Saturday.

Coach Joe Kuharich of the professional Washington Redskins, it can now be told, privately predicted the upset several days ago.

Kuharich, whose team was quartered for two weeks in Winston-Salem during the National Football League's exhibition season, watched Wake Forest work out several times.

"I think they'll score at least three times against Maryland on passes," he told anyone who'd listen. "That kid quarterback of theirs (Norman Snead) is a honey and their pass patterns are real sharp."

Turned out Kuharich was a pretty good prophet. Snead threw three touchdown passes, tying an Atlantic Coast Conference record.

WVU Names Captains For Oklahoma Game

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —Quarterback Dick Longfellow and tackle Bill Trosso were named Monday by Coach Art Lewis as co-captains for West Virginia in its game Saturday against Oklahoma at Norman.

Trozzo, a hard - hitting 230-pounder, is the bulwark of the Mountaineer line. He joined West Virginia last fall and became a regular, after attending Notre Dame for a year and a half.

Longfellow, at 5-foot-9 and 175 pounds, is one of West Virginia's smaller players but has proved he can withstand considerable punishment. He also is regarded as the Mountaineers' best defensive quarterback in several years.

Phils Beat Bucs In 14 Frames, 3-2

21 Pirates Whiff, Set Major Record

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Dave Philley batted in the winning run with one out in the 14th inning Monday night as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated Pittsburgh, 3-2, in a game in which 21 Pirates struck out for a major league record.

The record was set in the first game of a twi-night double-header as starting pitcher Seth Morehead fanned 12 in nine innings, reliever Dick Farrell struck out two in two innings and winning pitcher Jack Meyer fanned seven in three innings. Meyer struck out the first six men who faced him in the 12th and 13th.

Loser Ronnie Kline, who went all the way for Pittsburgh, struck out five for a grand total of 26 in the ball game.

The previous record was 20 strikeouts by one team set in a 15-inning game between the St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators, July 25, 1913. The previous national League record was 18, the Cubs vs. the Braves, June 14, 1952, and the cubs vs. the Giants, May 2, 1956.

The Phillies won the game when Bob Young singled with one out in the 14th, Ed Bouchee bounced a single into right field, sending Young to third and Philley singled past short for the tie-breaking run.

Meyer's victory was his second against six losses.

St. Nick To Reopen Without Telecasts

NEW YORK (UPI) — Matchmaker Teddy Brenner announced Monday that boxing programs would be resumed at the St. Nicholas Arena Sept. 29 without TV and that Jose Torres would meet Otis Woodward in the feature 10-rounder.

Brenner said Rudell Stitch of Louisville, Ky., would meet Isaac Logart of Cuba in a return bout at St. Nicholas Oct. 6. Stitch outpointed Logart at Louisville Aug. 27.

Brenner said telecasts of Monday night bouts at St. Nicholas might be resumed later.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Williams was fined a nominal $50 Monday by American League President Will Harridge for letting his bat get out of hand along with his temper.

Thus ended another episode for the Boston Red Sox' $100,000 per year batting star, who twice before had been fined by the league for carrying his bat work too far and once for spitting without using a cuspidor.

Bat Struck Woman

In a fit of temperament, Williams Sunday tossed his bat after taking a called third strike. It went into the stands and struck Mrs. Gladys Heffernan, 69-year-old housekeeper for Joe Cronin, Red Sox general manager.

Mrs. Heffernan, a Williams fan, suffered a contusion over her left eye.

A weeping Williams rushed to the box seat railing and was told by Mrs. Heffernan that she was all right and that she knew he didn't mean to do it.

Williams apparently has been agonized by his latest tantrum. Because of this mental suffering Harridge undoubtedly was not as Harsh as some quarters expected.

Talks With Cronin

Harridge talked to Cronin by telephone before making an unembelished announcement that the 40-year-old Williams was assessed $50 for violating the bat-throwing regulation.

There was no further comment other than Harridge explaining that a $50 fine is not mandatory and that each incident of bat tossing is judged on its own merits.

The league president had before him a full report from Umpire in Chief Bill Summers, who worked the game in which Boston blanked Washington 2-0.

Softball Series To Resume Today

The third game of the County Softball League's best-of-five final series between Stringtown and Kennell's Mill is scheduled for today at 6 p. m., at Kennell's Mill.

Stringtown holds a 2 to 1 edge in games won.

The home team is required to turn over the field to the visitors at 5:45 p. m., so that that game will start promptly at 6 p. m.

Kershner Lost To Terrapins

Halfback To Miss Next Three Games

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Ted Kershner, No. 1 Maryland left halfback injured in the Wake Forest game, will miss the next three games, the Terps learned Monday.

Officials said X-rays taken at University Hospital in Baltimore showed that the injury was definitely a shoulder separation. The 21-year-old senior from Martinsburg, W. Va., will miss games with North Carolina State, Clemson and Texas AM & M.

Coach Tommy Mont moved up Gene Verardi, Freeport, Pa., junior, to replace Kershner, and sophomore Dwayne Fletcher of Front Royal, Va., took over the No. 2 spot.

Mont ran his men full speed in a two-hour scrimmage Monday. The first portion was spent on pass defense, a major weakness at Wake Forest last Saturday.

After looking over a movie of the game, Mont made several other lineup changes. At left tackle, junior Ed Nickla of Brooklyn, N. Y., was moved from the second string to first. Two others moved up to the second string were sophomore Everett Cloud of Falls Church, Va., at fullback, and Pete Boinis, Washington sophomore, at left guard.

Dubuque Dropped As Chicago Farm

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox said Monday that the club has decided not to renew its working agreement with the Dubuque Packers in the Class D Midwest Baseball League.

A White Sox spokesman said that the decision was made because the "playing facilities were not up to what we had hoped they would be."

Whether the Sox will seek another club in the Midwest League has not been determined. In Class D baseball, the Sox have an agreement with Holdrege in the Nebraska League.

Rosewall Cops Title

PARIS (UPI) — Ken Rosewall of Australia won the championship in the Paris professional tennis tournament Monday by defeating Lew Hoad, his former Davis Cup partner, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Injury Forces Gallant Man Out Of Woodward Stakes

Colt Will Miss Four Rich Races

Pops Split On Left Leg; Round Table Expected To Run

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gallant Man, a sore-legged colt with tender feet throughout his brilliant racing career, turned up Monday with an injury which forced his withdrawal from Saturday's $100,000 added Woodward Stakes and may end his racing years.

Trainer Johnny Nerud reported the little colt had "popped a split on the inside of his left front leg" in a workout Sunday. He said that it would be at least Nov. 10 before Gallant Man could resume training.

To Miss Rich Races

By that time it would be too late to make the four rich races for which Gallant Man was being pointed—the $75,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup on Oct. 18, the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International on Nov. 11, and the $50,000 Pimlico Special on Nov. 29, as well as the Woodward.

Ralph Lowe and the syndicate which recently paid $1,000,000 for a three-quarter share in the horse may decide to retire him to stud rather than bring him back for winter racing.

Gallant Man, winner of three of his five races this year, always has had suspect legs. He was purchased by Lowe in a draft of nine yearlings at a cost of $220,000 and at the time a veterinarian suggested he be left out because of his legs.

Lowe insisted Gallant Man be included in the purchase and thus acquired one of the country's best horses of the past two seasons. But throughout a career in which Gallant Man won 14 of his 26 races and earned $510,355 Nerud has had to nurse the little colt along.

Gallant Man's injury left Round Table as the only candidate for "horse of the year" honors still in training. Round Table, only $25,451 short of Nashua's all-time money-winning record, is expected to start in the Woodward.

Others Retired

Also knocked out by injury and already retired to stud were Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler and Calumet Farm's Tim Tam, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winners who broke down while trying to complete a sweep of the Triple Crown in the Belmont Stakes.

Miss Orestes Cops Atlantic City Feature

Greek Star Is 2nd In Empress Purse

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 22 (AP) — A. T. Taylor's Miss Orestes won today's Empress Purse at the Atlantic City Race Course. It was her initial turf victory of the season.

The 3-year-old filly was ridden by Howard Grant. She finished ahead of Joseph J. Colando's Greek Star. The latter had wrested brief command from D. G. Neuman's early pacesetter, General Rocket.

Miss Orestes was the favorite of the 11,788 fans and paid $5.20 $3.80 and $3.00. Backers of Greek Star received $4.60 and $3.60 and General Rocket had a $5.20 show return.

Miss Orestes had made her last start in the Miss America Handicap in which she ran sixth behind Dotted Line. Her previous turf engagement came in the Pageant Stakes and here she was the runnerup to Fall Wind. Each was at a mile and a sixteenth while today's test came at five and-a-half furlongs which she negotiated in 1.07 over a soft course.

Joe Culmone was the riding star in the earlier races riding three winners. He completed a $39.80 daily double on Depth Play, won the third on Helen Sag and fifth aboard High Leaf.

Jackpot For A Horse

BALTIMORE — The winner of the Pimlico Futurity will receive a purse of $125,016 if a dozen colts start in the race on Saturday, November 22. That figure will make it the second richest horse race in the world.

Preakness Win Counts

Injury Forces Gallant Man Out Of Woodward Stakes

Colt Will Miss Four Rich Races

Pops Split On Left Leg; Round Table Expected To Run

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gallant Man, a sore-legged colt with tender feet throughout his brilliant racing career, turned up Monday with an injury which forced his withdrawal from Saturday's $100,000 added Woodward Stakes and may end his racing years.

Trainer Johnny Nerud reported the little colt had "popped a split on the inside of his left front leg" in a workout Sunday. He said that it would be at least Nov. 10 before Gallant Man could resume training.

To Miss Rich Races

By that time it would be too late to make the four rich races for which Gallant Man was being pointed—the $75,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup on Oct. 18, the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International on Nov. 11, and the $50,000 Pimlico Special on Nov. 29, as well as the Woodward.

Ralph Lowe and the syndicate which recently paid $1,000,000 for a three-quarter share in the horse may decide to retire him to stud rather than bring him back for winter racing.

Gallant Man, winner of three of his five races this year, always has had suspect legs. He was purchased by Lowe in a draft of nine yearlings at a cost of $220,000 and at the time a veterinarian suggested he be left out because of his legs.

Lowe insisted Gallant Man be included in the purchase and thus acquired one of the country's best horses of the past two seasons. But throughout a career in which Gallant Man won 14 of his 26 races and earned $510,355 Nerud has had to nurse the little colt along.

Gallant Man's injury left Round Table as the only candidate for "horse of the year" honors still in training. Round Table, only $25,451 short of Nashua's all-time money-winning record, is expected to start in the Woodward.

Others Retired

Also knocked out by injury and already retired to stud were Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler and Calumet Farm's Tim Tam, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winners who broke down while trying to complete a sweep of the Triple Crown in the Belmont Stakes.

Arcaro Is Blanked

BALTIMORE—Premier jockey Eddie Arcaro holds a record for having won more than 400 stakes races in his career, but one of the richest ones has eluded him. He finished first on Privileged in the 1936 Pimlico Futurity, which now carries the world's second largest purse, but was disqualified on a foul.

Miss Orestes Cops Atlantic City Feature

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 22 (AP) — A. T. Taylor's Miss Orestes won today's Empress Purse at the Atlantic City Race Course. It was her initial turf victory of the season.

The 3-year-old filly was ridden by Howard Grant. She finished ahead of Joseph J. Colando's Greek Star. The latter had wrested brief command from D. G. Neuman's early pacesetter, General Rocket.

Miss Orestes was the favorite of the 11,788 fans and paid $5.20 $3.80 and $3.00. Backers of Greek Star received $4.60 and $3.60 and General Rocket had a $5.20 show return.

Miss Orestes had made her last start in the Miss America Handicap in which she ran sixth behind Dotted Line. Her previous turf engagement came in the Pageant Stakes and here she was the runnerup to Fall Wind. Each was at a mile and a sixteenth while today's test came at five and-a-half furlongs which she negotiated in 1.07 over a soft course.

Joe Culmone was the riding star in the earlier races riding three winners. He completed a $39.80 daily double on Depth Play, won the third on Helen Sag and fifth aboard High Leaf.

Jackpot For A Horse

BALTIMORE — The winner of the Pimlico Futurity will receive a purse of $125,016 if a dozen colts start in the race on Saturday, November 22. That figure will make it the second richest horse race in the world.

Preakness Win Counts

Favorites Cop Seven Races At Fairgo On Dapper Dan Day

Hours Later Is Victor In 7th On Card

Top Choices Set 50 Per Cent Mark In 56 Races Here

Top choices won seven of the eight races yesterday at Fairgo and hiked the average of winning favorites at the local half miler to the fantastic mark of 50 per cent for the first seven days of the Cumberland Fair Associations race meeting.

When Mrs. Sylvia's Gang Moll won the final race on the Dapper Dan Day program, it marked the 28th time in 56 races that a first choice in the wagering had finished on top and that's probably an all-time high for the Fairgo oval which has been in operation since 1925. The highest percentage for a 10-day meet here is 47 per cent. In the 12-day sessions of 1956 and 1957 the percentages were 36 and 35 per cent, respectively, for 96 races. The local meeting winds up on Saturday.

Air Warrior Pays $22.20

The only first choice that did not win yesterday was Yule Miss, which finished sixth in the fifth event. This race was won by Edward S. Voss, Jr.'s Air Warrior, a 10 to 1 shot. The 3-year-old Blue Warrior gelding, with Anthony Russo aboard, scored by three lengths over Jocelyn J., in the 6½ furlongs test, and was the first winner saddled by Mrs. George A. "Babe" Saportas, Jr., of Monkton, at this meeting. Introduced by J. Glenn Beall, Jr., treasurer of the Cumberland Fair Association, Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, of Bethesda, in whose honor the race was named, presented Juliar Robert Hale, assistant trainer of the winner, with a United States Savings Bond. Backers of Air Warrior in the mutuels received $22.20 for each $2 played on the nose.

Alfred W. Williams stepped to the winners' circle for the fourth time during the meeting when his Hours Later, 5-year-old bay son of Eight Thirty, captured the tenth running of The Dapper Dan Purse, the highlight of the seventh day's program which attracted a crowd of 3,388 persons. Hours Later scored by the margin of four lengths over Friendly Game and returned $5.40 for $2. The winner's time for the five panels was 57 4/5. Show money went to Notorious Lady.

William V. "Bill" Keegan, past president of the local chapter, introduced Al Abrams, of Pittsburgh, national president of the Dapper Dan organization, who presented a United States Savings bond to owner Williams, whose other winners at the local session were Delicious, Shamrock Green and La Villate.

Songai Is Repeater

William D. Thomas, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., saddled his third winner when Songai, a 9-year-old gelding, stepped off the 6½ furlongs in the sixth to edge Top Brass in the William V. "Bill" Keegan, named for the former Cumberland police and fire commissioner and horseman. Thomas received a bond from Keegan after the latter was introduced by Peter J. Carpenti.

Songai, incidentally, became the third two-times winner at the current session. The others are Salona, which copped a pair last week, and Kum On Doc, victor in yesterday's third.

The seven favorites that registered yesterday were En Queue ($4.40) in the first, Easter Bunny ($4.80) in the second, Kum On Doc ($3.80) in the third, Hoptoitboy ($6.00) in the fourth, Songai ($4.20) in the sixth, Hours Later ($5.40) in the seventh and Gang Moll ($4.80) in the final.

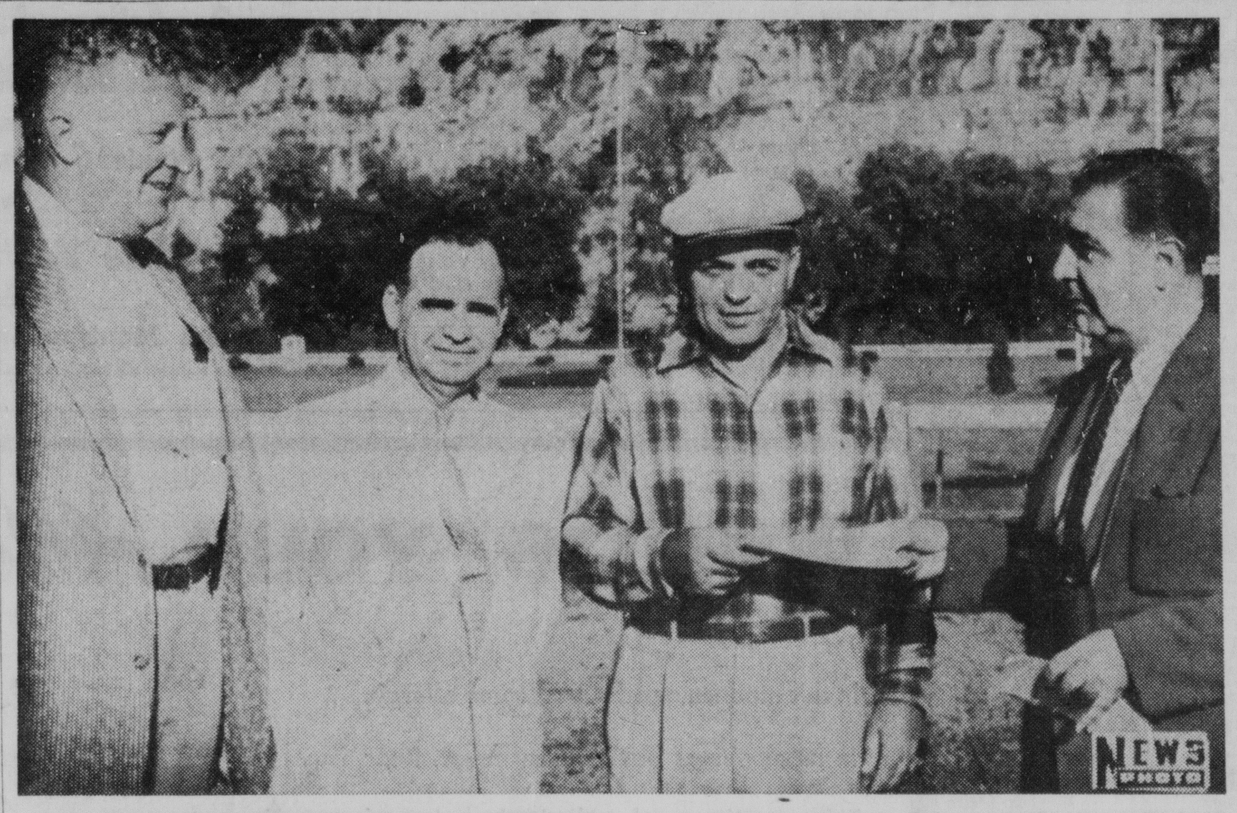

Those who played En Queue (1) and Easter Bunny (5) in the daily double received $11.60. The double pool was $20,464.

Lawrence "Larry" Reynolds, the classy apprentice rider, from Geneva, Ohio, registered a "double" yesterday and boosted his total winning mounts to 14. Carroll D. Lee picked up another win to up his total to five in the trainers' race.

Betting Up 7.45 Per Cent

Wagering on wash day amounted to $182,250 and soared the meet's handle to $1,383,242 which is $95,520 and 7.45 per cent more than the $1,287,72 that Bob Littleton's department handled for seven days in 1957. The day's handle topped the 7th day last year by $8,472 and 4.8 per cent and it was $5,582 better than the first Monday of this meeting.

Today is Baltimore Day at the races and the featured 7th event will be "The City of Baltimore." Post time for the opener is 2 p.m., EDT.

Fairgo Facts

By C. V. BURNS

The stewards yesterday announced the suspension of Jockey John Cruz during the remainder of the meeting and for ten days in addition—Monday, September 22 through October 9—for rough riding from the start to the first turn in the sixth race last Saturday.

Cruz was aboard Regal Pass which finished first but was disqualified, placed out of the money and Hugo You Go was moved into the win position.

Lawrence Reynolds, the top winning rider at Fairgo with 14 firsts to his credit, broke his maiden at Laurel on April 16, with Une Heure, owned by Alfred W. Williams, for whom he has won four races here.

"Larry" rode his first race at Bowie on St. Patrick's Day.

Last Saturday's program listed Carson Kirk as the rider of Tekram in the third race but Earl Phelps was aboard when the filly went postward.

Carson Kirk will be remembered as a great jockey in the 1940s. In fact, he was the riding ace here in 1943 with 22 winners and that record stood up until Bill Clark set an all-time high of 26 in 1955 at the last 10-day session.

Kirk excelled on the major tracks after leaving here. He rode The Doge, a good sprinter, who after being retired to the stud, sired such stars as Swoon's Son, a big money winner, and Dogoon. He also piloted Pilaster many times.

Carson has been trying to knock off enough weight so he can essay a comeback as a rider. There is a difference in the weight of colors and the heavy colors made him overweight last week so he was unable to ride.

Woody Kirk, a brother of Carson's, is riding here. He piloted his first winner at Charles Town in 1933.

Ralph, another brother, who rode his first winner at Fairgo at the age of 15, was fatally injured at the Charles Town track some years ago.

There were seven girls and three boys in the Kirk family, of Silver Spring, Md.

Guards, Chancellors Win In K. Of C. Loop

The Guards scored a 2-1 win over the Grand Knights and the Chancellors won by the same margin over the Recorders last night in the Knights of Columbus Duckpin League on the Club Recreation alleys.

Jack Steiner of the Grand Knights was high man for the evening with a 179-500. Norman Sell headed the Chancellors with 198-492, John Vocke paced the Recorders with 177-482, and "Ike" Law was high for the Guards with 194-435. The standings:

	W	L		W	L
Guards	7	2	Recorders	4	5
G. Knights	5	4	Chancellors	2	7

Campbell To Try For New Record

CONISTON, England (AP) — Donald Campbell Monday decided to risk his neck once again in his craving for speed on water.

He plans to try to smash his own world water speed record this week by piloting his jet hydroplane Bluebird at a speed of 250 m.p.h. over Lake Coniston in England's picturesque lake district.

It was at Coniston, on Nov. 7 last year, that the 37-year-old son of former speed king Sir Malcolm Campbell set the present record of 239.07 m.p.h. He hit that mark after narrowly missing death several times in previous high speed water runs.

Cannon Fire Is Belmont Park Victor

Bailey Pilots 16th Winner Of Meeting

ELMONT, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP) — Brandywine Stable's Cannon Fire scored an easy victory in the Jericho Purse at Belmont Park today. With Paul Bailey in the irons, Cannon Fire zoomed to the lead in the middle of the back stretch and once in front was never menaced.

The 4-year-old son of Cochise-Place card, packing top weight of 122 pounds, stepped the mile and a sixteenth in the moderate time of 1:44 1/5 in winning by five lengths from Charfran Stable's Dark Tale, the 6-5 favorite, who took the place by a length from Sunny Side Stables' Infantry.

Pastorale Stable's Ever Best, who led for about three sixteenths of a mile, faded to fourth place in the stretch drive, three and a half lengths out of the money.

Second choice with the crowd of 20,431, Cannon Fire returned mutuels of $6.50, $3.00 and $2.50. Dark Tale paid $2.70 and $2.30. Infantry was $3.10 to show.

It was the 16th victory of the meeting for Jockey Bailey, who now has a three-horse lead over his nearest competitor, Eddie Arcaro.

Favorites Cop Seven Races At Fairgo On Dapper Dan Day

Hours Later Is Victor In 7th On Card

Top Choices Set 50 Per Cent Mark In 56 Races Here

Top choices won seven of the eight races yesterday at Fairgo and hiked the average of winning favorites at the local half miler to the fantastic mark of 50 per cent for the first seven days of the Cumberland Fair Associations race meeting.

When Mrs. Sylvia's Gang Moll won the final race on the Dapper Dan Day program, it marked the 28th time in 56 races that a first choice in the wagering had finished on top and that's probably an all-time high for the Fairgo oval which has been in operation since 1925. The highest percentage for a 10-day meet here is 47 per cent. In the 12-day sessions of 1956 and 1957 the percentages were 36 and 35 per cent, respectively, for 96 races. The local meeting winds up on Saturday.

Air Warrior Pays $22.20

The only first choice that did not win yesterday was Yule Miss, which finished sixth in the fifth event. This race was won by Edward S. Voss, Jr.'s Air Warrior, a 10 to 1 shot. The 3-year-old Blue Warrior gelding, with Anthony Russo aboard, scored by three lengths over Jocelyn J., in the 6½ furlongs test, and was the first winner saddled by Mrs. George A. "Babe" Saportas, Jr., of Monkton, at this meeting. Introduced by J. Glenn Beall, Jr., treasurer of the Cumberland Fair Association, Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, of Bethesda, in whose honor the race was named, presented Juliar Robert Hale, assistant trainer of the winner, with a United States Savings Bond. Backers of Air Warrior in the mutuels received $22.20 for each $2 played on the nose.

Alfred W. Williams stepped to the winners' circle for the fourth time during the meeting when his Hours Later, 5-year-old bay son of Eight Thirty, captured the tenth running of The Dapper Dan Purse, the highlight of the seventh day's program which attracted a crowd of 3,388 persons. Hours Later scored by the margin of four lengths over Friendly Game and returned $5.40 for $2. The winner's time for the five panels was 57 4/5. Show money went to Notorious Lady.

William V. "Bill" Keegan, past president of the local chapter, introduced Al Abrams, of Pittsburgh, national president of the Dapper Dan organization, who presented a United States Savings bond to owner Williams, whose other winners at the local session were Delicious, Shamrock Green and La Villate.

Songai Is Repeater

William D. Thomas, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., saddled his third winner when Songai, a 9-year-old gelding, stepped off the 6½ furlongs in the sixth to edge Top Brass in the William V. "Bill" Keegan, named for the former Cumberland police and fire commissioner and horseman. Thomas received a bond from Keegan after the latter was introduced by Peter J. Carpenti.

Songai, incidentally, became the third two-times winner at the current session. The others are Salona, which copped a pair last week, and Kum On Doc, victor in yesterday's third.

The seven favorites that registered yesterday were En Queue ($4.40) in the first, Easter Bunny ($4.80) in the second, Kum On Doc ($3.80) in the third, Hoptoitboy ($6.00) in the fourth, Songai ($4.20) in the sixth, Hours Later ($5.40) in the seventh and Gang Moll ($4.80) in the final.

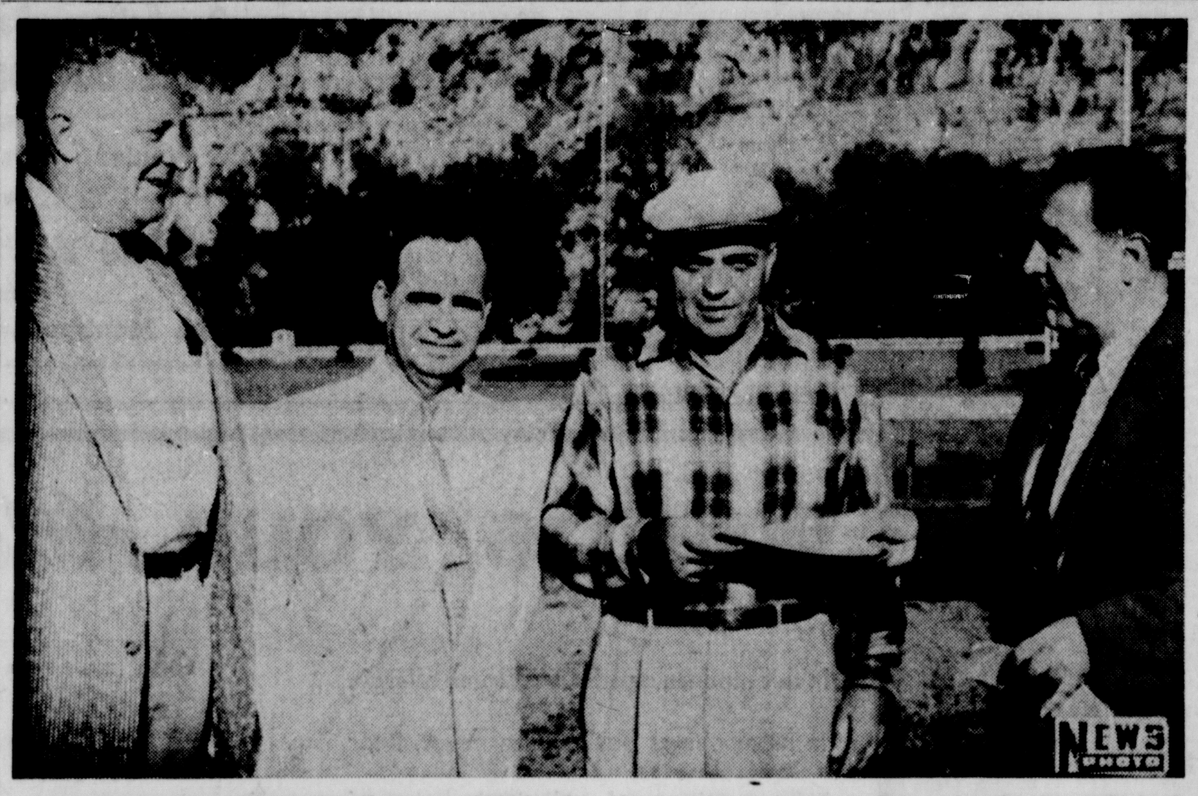

Those who played En Queue (1) and Easter Bunny (5) in the daily double received $11.60. The double pool was $20,464.

Lawrence "Larry" Reynolds, the classy apprentice rider, from Geneva, Ohio, registered a "double" yesterday and boosted his total winning mounts to 14. Carroll D. Lee picked up another win to up his total to five in the trainers' race.

Betting Up 7.45 Per Cent

Wagering on wash day amounted to $182,250 and soared the meet's handle to $1,383,242 which is $95,520 and 7.45 per cent more than the $1,287,72[illegible] that Bob Littleton's department handled for seven days in 1957. The day's handle topped the 7th day last year by $8,472 and 4.8 per cent and it was $5,582 better than the first Monday of this meeting.

Today is Baltimore Day at the races and the featured 7th event will be "The City of Baltimore." Post time for the opener is 2 p.m., EDT.

Fairgo Facts

By C. V. BURNS

The stewards yesterday announced the suspension of Jockey John Cruz during the remainder of the meeting and for ten days in addition—Monday, September 22 through October 9—for rough riding from the start to the first turn in the sixth race last Saturday.

Cruz was aboard Regal Pass which finished first but was disqualified, placed out of the money and Hugo You Go was moved into the win position.

Lawrence Reynolds, the top winning rider at Fairgo with 14 firsts to his credit, broke his maiden at Laurel on April 16, with Une Heure, owned by Alfred W. Williams, for whom he has won four races here.

"Larry" rode his first race at Bowie on St. Patrick's Day.

Last Saturday's program listed Carson Kirk as the rider of Tekram in the third race but Earl Phelps was aboard when the filly went postward.

Carson Kirk will be remembered as a great jockey in the 1940s. In fact, he was the riding ace here in 1943 with 22 winners and that record stood up until Bill Clark set an all-time high of 26 in 1955 at the last 10-day session.

Kirk excelled on the major tracks after leaving here. He rode The Doge, a good sprinter, who after being retired to the stud, sired such stars as Swoon's Son, a big money winner, and Dogoon. He also piloted Pilaster many times.

Carson has been trying to knock off enough weight so he can essay a comeback as a rider. There is a difference in the weight of colors and the heavy colors made him overweight last week so he was unable to ride.

Woody Kirk, a brother of Carson's, is riding here. He piloted his first winner at Charles Town in 1933.

Ralph, another brother, who rode his first winner at Fairgo at the age of 15, was fatally injured at the Charles Town track some years ago.

There were seven girls and three boys in the Kirk family, of Silver Spring, Md.

Guards, Chancellors Win In K. Of C. Loop

The Guards scored a 2-1 win over the Grand Knights and the Chancellors won by the same margin over the Recorders last night in the Knights of Columbus Duckpin League on the Club Recreation alleys.

Jack Steiner of the Grand Knights was high man for the evening with a 179-500. Norman Sell headed the Chancellors with 198-492, John Vocke paced the Recorders with 177-482, and "Ike" Law was high for the Guards with 194-435. The standings:

	W	L		W	L
Guards	7	2	Recorders	4	5
G. Knights	5	4	Chancellors	2	7

Campbell To Try For New Record

CONISTON, England (AP) — Donald Campbell Monday decided to risk his neck once again in his craving for speed on water.

He plans to try to smash his own world water speed record this week by piloting his jet hydroplane Bluebird at a speed of 250 m.p.h. over Lake Coniston in England's picturesque lake district.

It was at Coniston, on Nov. 7 last year, that the 37-year-old son of former speed king Sir Malcolm Campbell set the present record of 239.07 m.p.h. He hit that mark after narrowly missing death several times in previous high speed water runs.

Cannon Fire Is Belmont Park Victor

ELMONT, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP) — Brandywine Stable's Cannon Fire scored an easy victory in the Jericho Purse at Belmont Park today. With Paul Bailey in the irons, Cannon Fire zoomed to the lead in the middle of the back stretch and once in front was never menaced.

The 4-year-old son of Cochise-Place card, packing top weight of 122 pounds, stepped the mile and a sixteenth in the moderate time of 1:44 1/5 in winning by five lengths from Charfran Stable's Dark Tale, the 6-5 favorite, who took the place by a length from Sunny Side Stables' Infantry.

Pastorale Stable's Ever Best, who led for about three sixteenths of a mile, faded to fourth place in the stretch drive, three and a half lengths out of the money.

Second choice with the crowd of 20,431, Cannon Fire returned mutuels of $6.50, $3.00 and $2.50. Dark Tale paid $2.70 and $2.30. Infantry was $3.10 to show.

It was the 16th victory of the meeting for Jockey Bailey, who now has a three-horse lead over his nearest competitor, Eddie Arcaro.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — As soon as Debbie Reynolds gets a breathing spell, she will read "Rocket to the Moon," by Clifford Odets, which went to her by messenger. It is very interesting how this all came about. I was having dinner a few nights ago in a party which include ' Ross Hunter, Clifford and some other people.

Ross told Clifford how much he would like to work with him on one of the Odet plays. They discussed several and it ended with a decision to produce "Rocket to the Moon" and they both agreed that they would like to have Debbie Reynolds.

Van Johnson is off to Europe again for more of that foreign movie making loot. He'll co - star in England with Hildegarde Neff in the film version of the London stage hit, "Subway in the Sky." It's a mystery thriller, for Muriel and Sydney Box, and Van gets his money on a profit sharing basis.

He just completed a similar deal on "The Last Blitzkrieg" which Van made in Holland for Sam Katzman.

Evie joins him in Europe after she puts the children in boarding school here. The Johnsons may be abroad for a long time as Van has two more films on the fire over there.

The popularity of Elvis Presley has never waned. No matter what adverse criticism he has had his fans love him. Proof of that is the boxoffice. He had a participating deal with M-G-M for "Jailhouse Rock." After all expenses were paid, so far Elvis has taken in a half million dollars for his share.

Some of his most avid critics are now beginning to say the boy has talent. He certainly never showed one ounce of disagreeable temperament when he was making pictures and this holds good at every studio where he worked.

The stories that Rock Hudson has been holding hands with Cindy Robbins, pretty 21-year-old blonde, in Napa Valley on the set of "This Earth Is Mine," don't mean there is any romance. Rock introduced Cindy to Don Burnett, handsome, six-foot actor, and they are in love.

Don, who is in "Northwest Passage," at M-G-M, is a neighbor of the handsome Mr. Hudson at Malibu and that is where Rock and Don met and the three of them go skin diving. But "two is a company, three is a crowd." Cindy has been dating Don for seven months and it is the real thing in the romance department.

Right in the midst of a dancing lesson, Kim Novak paused to say her whole house isn't in lavender, as has been printed. One room is all lavender and while there is one note of lavender in each room, there are other colors combined with it.

I asked Kim about her love life. She said she has been dating Bobby Cohn, Jack's son and Harry's nephew, from Columbia Studio.

"How do you like being idle?" I asked her.

"Oh, I am not idle," she said. "I study, take dancing, singing and dramatic expression."

Nice to have our good friend Una Merkel back in Hollywood and all set, signed and delivered to play Debbie Reynolds' mother in "The Mating Game" at M-G-M.

"I've made so many pictures with Debbie, I guess they just couldn't start another without me" Una laughed. For the past 14 months she's been in New York doing both stage plays and TV, and she's a happy girl to be back in Hollywood and at M-G-M, where she's made many pictures.

"Remember, I made 'I Love Melvin' with Debbie and also I was her baby - sitting landlady in 'Bundle of Joy'." In "The Mating Game" Una is married to Paul Douglas and they are the parents of Debbie.

Lakes Below Crest

Lake Gordon is six feet two inches below the crest of the spillway and Lake Koon two feet three inches below, a report by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, to the Mayor and Council showed yesterday. Consumption for the week ending yesterday was 81,430,000 gallons compared to 83,690,000 the same period a year ago.

MOSLEM GRAVES FOUND

ALGIERS (UPI)—French troops have discovered mass graves with several dozen corpses of Moslems in the Djurdjura Mountains of western Constantine, the French Army reported Monday. Army officers believed the Moslems were slain by fellow Moslem rebels in a recent purge.

'SLEEP' DEATHS RISE

TOKYO (UPI) — The death toll in the sleeping sickness epidemic sweeping Japan and the Republic of Korea neared the 2,500-mark, according to unofficial estimates Monday. In Korea, the probable death toll was set at 1,568. The unofficial toll in Japan was estimated at 900.

ARMORED CAR ROBBED

PARIS (UPI) — Four masked bandits, one armed with a submachinegun, forced an armored bank truck to the curb in northeastern Paris Monday and robbed it of $34,000. The holdup of the National Bank of Commerce and Industry vehicle occurred on the Boulevard Rochechouart, near Montmartre. The bandits knocked the driver unconscious and threatened passersby with the machinegun before fleeing in their own car.

City Gets Bids For Paint Job

The Mayor and Council yesterday received two bids for painting of the 178-foot Municipal Airport homing beacon which is located in Constitution Park. Bidding are Stept Construction and Sales Company and J. E. Dennison and Son. Bids were referred to Mayor J. Edwin Keech, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Attorney Charles R. Nuzum.

Carscaden had read into the minutes a memo to Street Commissioner John J. Long in which he pointed out that C. L. Beck, present garbage contractor, has given notice he would renew the garbage contract for the year beginning October 1.

Carscaden, in answer to a question from Roy Lewis, 601 Quebec Avenue, about city control over house-to-house "hawkers" and canvassers, said the city does not issue such licenses or have authority to do so. He said such matters are handled by the clerk of court. Violation of licenses regulations in such cases is a state offense and not city, he said, adding that all the city could do was to inquire if they have a license.

Commissioner Fleming suggested that as violations are noted either the chief of police or himself should be called.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — As soon as Debbie Reynolds gets a breathing spell, she will read "Rocket to the Moon," by Clifford Odets, which went to her by messenger. It is very interesting how this all came about. I was having dinner a few nights ago in a party which include ' Ross Hunter, Clifford and some other people.

Ross told Clifford how much he would like to work with him on one of the Odet plays. They discussed several and it ended with a decision to produce "Rocket to the Moon" and they both agreed that they would like to have Debbie Reynolds.

Van Johnson is off to Europe again for more of that foreign movie making loot. He'll co - star in England with Hildegarde Neff in the film version of the London stage hit, "Subway in the Sky." It's a mystery thriller, for Muriel and Sydney Box, and Van gets his money on a profit sharing basis.

He just completed a similar deal on "The Last Blitzkrieg" which Van made in Holland for Sam Katzman.

Evie joins him in Europe after she puts the children in boarding school here. The Johnsons may be abroad for a long time as Van has two more films on the fire over there.

The popularity of Elvis Presley has never waned. No matter what adverse criticism he has had his fans love him. Proof of that is the boxoffice. He had a participating deal with M-G-M for "Jailhouse Rock." After all expenses were paid, so far Elvis has taken in a half million dollars for his share.

Some of his most avid critics are now beginning to say the boy has talent. He certainly never showed one ounce of disagreeable temperament when he was making pictures and this holds good at every studio where he worked.

The stories that Rock Hudson has been holding hands with Cindy Robbins, pretty 21-year-old blonde, in Napa Valley on the set of "This Earth Is Mine," don't mean there is any romance. Rock introduced Cindy to Don Burnett, handsome, six-foot actor, and they are in love.

Don, who is in "Northwest Passage," at M-G-M, is a neighbor of the handsome Mr. Hudson at Malibu and that is where Rock and Don met and the three of them go skin diving. But "two is a company, three is a crowd." Cindy has been dating Don for seven months and it is the real thing in the romance department.

Right in the midst of a dancing lesson, Kim Novak paused to say her whole house isn't in lavender, as has been printed. One room is all lavender and while there is one note of lavender in each room, there are other colors combined with it.

I asked Kim about her love life. She said she has been dating Bobby Cohn, Jack's son and Harry's nephew, from Columbia Studio.

"How do you like being idle?" I asked her.

"Oh, I am not idle," she said. "I study, take dancing, singing and dramatic expression."

Nice to have our good friend Una Merkel back in Hollywood and all set, signed and delivered to play Debbie Reynolds' mother in "The Mating Game" at M-G-M.

"I've made so many pictures with Debbie, I guess they just couldn't start another without me" Una laughed. For the past 14 months she's been in New York doing both stage plays and TV, and she's a happy girl to be back in Hollywood and at M-G-M, where she's made many pictures.

"Remember, I made 'I Love Melvin' with Debbie and also I was her baby - sitting landlady in 'Bundle of Joy'." In "The Mating Game" Una is married to Paul Douglas and they are the parents of Debbie.

I AM A FIAT OWNER

I bought my car last October and now I have 11,000 happy miles on it. The longer I keep this car, the better I like it. I've averaged 45 miles-per-gallon on my Fiat since new and still do the same. My sister Barbara and I both use this car constantly and the repairs are nil. The only expense is the fuel and the oil never drops a pint between changes. Mechanically she's still as good-as-new! Tires barely show any wear. Paint is still perfect and it has never been garaged. My most amazing experience is the ability to go through snow and mud without chains. Both rear wheels pushing gives so much better traction. Yes . . . believe if I ever buy another car it will be a Fiat.

And Power, you'd be surprised. My power increases with the miles I put on my Fiat. I always make better time in traffic too. The most maneuverable car I've ever driven. Parking is a cinch. Steering is as free as power steering and in all respects I think the car is tops.

I AM A FIAT OWNER

I bought my car last October and now I have 11,000 happy miles on it. The longer I keep this car, the better I like it. I've averaged 45 miles-per-gallon on my Fiat since new and still do the same. My sister Barbara and I both use this car constantly and the repairs are nil. The only expense is the fuel and the oil never drops a pint between changes. Mechanically she's still as good-as-new! Tires barely show any wear. Paint is still perfect and it has never been garaged. My most amazing experience is the ability to go through snow and mud without chains. Both rear wheels pushing gives so much better traction. Yes . . . believe if I ever buy another car it will be a Fiat.

And Power, you'd be surprised. My power increases with the miles I put on my Fiat. I always make better time in traffic too. The most maneuverable car I've ever driven. Parking is a cinch. Steering is as free as power steering and in all respects I think the car is tops.

"Getting him to work on time is the hardest job I have all day!"

Oystering Decision Set

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Dorchester County health officials have been notified that the state will decide next Friday whether the Little Choptank River can be opened to oystering.

The State Health Dept. has threatened to bar the October 1 opening for oystering because of pollution. County health officials have said the situation is being corrected.

The world's largest offshore fishing grounds are the Grand Banks, off Newfoundland.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals, addressed to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, and endorsed "Proposal for the Improvement of Fourth Street and Somerville Avenue in the City of Cumberland, Maryland," will be received at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, on or before 10:00 o'clock A. M., Local Time, September 29, 1958, on which date they will be publicly opened and read.

The work consists of the following: Furnishing all labor, equipment and material in the improvement of Fourth Street in the City of Cumberland, Maryland, between Wempe Drive and Blackiston Avenue, a distance of approximately one thousand and eight (1008) lineal feet; and in the improvement of Somerville Avenue from its intersection with Fourth Street northward for a distance of approximately five hundred thirty-nine (539) lineal feet, all as shown on the contract plans, which may be obtained at the office of the City Engineer, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the City. Each proposal must be accompanied by a Certified Check, drawn to the order of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, in the sum of Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250.00), which check will be forfeited as liquidated damages in the case of an award being made and the contract not properly executed within ten days after the mailing of the notice of award.

The checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned after the contract is awarded.

The Mayor and City Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The Swiss export the watches to the United States in exchange for Southern Maryland tobacco.

BLAST KILLS NINE

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) —At least nine workers were killed when an explosion shattered a four-story fabric-finishing plant in suburban Rubi Monday, police reported. Twelve other workers were hospitalized for injuries. Police said it was believed a boiler blew up.

The body's largest organ is the skin, which weighs just about twice as much as either the liver or the brain.

Armory Funds Are Released

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, head of the National Guard Bureau, announced Monday the release of federal funds totaling $380,000 for construction of armory and other facilities for National Guard units at Parkersburg and Dunbar, W. Va.

Sen. John D. Hoblitzell (R-W. Va.) said he was advised by Erickson that the National Guard Bureau could now proceed with necessary plans for letting contracts for the projects.

One calls for construction of an armory and a motor vehicle storage building at Parkersburg at cost to the federal government of $200,000. The other, for which $180,000 was released, entails construction of similar facilities at Dunbar.

Oystering Decision Set

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Dorchester County health officials have been notified that the state will decide next Friday whether the Little Choptank River can be opened to oystering.

The State Health Dept. has threatened to bar the October 1 opening for oystering because of pollution. County health officials have said the situation is being corrected.

The world's largest offshore fishing grounds are the Grand Banks, off Newfoundland.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals, addressed to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, and endorsed "Proposal for the Improvement of Fourth Street and Somerville Avenue in the City of Cumberland, Maryland," will be received at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, on or before 10:00 o'clock A. M., Local Time, September 29, 1958, on which date they will be publicly opened and read.

The work consists of the following: Furnishing all labor, equipment and material in the improvement of Fourth Street in the City of Cumberland, Maryland, between Wempe Drive and Blackiston Avenue, a distance of approximately one thousand and eight (1008) lineal feet; and in the improvement of Somerville Avenue from its intersection with Fourth Street northward for a distance of approximately five hundred thirty-nine (539) lineal feet, all as shown on the contract plans, which may be obtained at the office of the City Engineer, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the City. Each proposal must be accompanied by a Certified Check, drawn to the order of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, in the sum of Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250.00), which check will be forfeited as liquidated damages in the case of an award being made and the contract not properly executed within ten days after the mailing of the notice of award.

The checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned after the contract is awarded.

The Mayor and City Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Swiss Watch Exhibit

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) —A $100,000 exhibit of Swiss watches will be a feature attraction at the three-day Prince Georges County Fair and showcase opening here Thursday.

The Swiss export the watches to the United States in exchange for Southern Maryland tobacco.

BLAST KILLS NINE

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) —At least nine workers were killed when an explosion shattered a four-story fabric-finishing plant in suburban Rubi Monday, police reported. Twelve other workers were hospitalized for injuries. Police said it was believed a boiler blew up.

The body's largest organ is the skin, which weighs just about twice as much as either the liver or the brain.

Armory Funds Are Released

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, head of the National Guard Bureau, announced Monday the release of federal funds totaling $380,000 for construction of armory and other facilities for National Guard units at Parkersburg and Dunbar, W. Va.

Sen. John D. Hoblitzell (R-W. Va.) said he was advised by Erickson that the National Guard Bureau could now proceed with necessary plans for letting contracts for the projects.

One calls for construction of an armory and a motor vehicle storage building at Parkersburg at cost to the federal government of $200,000. The other, for which $180,000 was released, entails construction of similar facilities at Dunbar.

Profit-Taking Pressure Forces Market Decline

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks ran into profit - taking Monday which lopped off almost one billion dollars from market valuations. Trading failed to match Friday's pace.

The realizing came on the heel's of last week's advance to around the best levels in history in the general list. Some late support helped to lift the list from its worst levels, but at the close all major groups measured by the averages were lower.

Low-priced autos dominated the trading throughout the day. Studebaker Packard added a major fraction. Metals showed some wide changes as leaders in this group reacted differently to President Eisenhower's decision to limit imports of lead and zinc.

Miami Copper ran up 2 points to feature on the upside while National Lead lost more than a point. In the aluminums, Reynolds rose 1½ but Alcoa slipped 1⅝.

Some of the oils were under pressure, with losses of a point or more appearing in Gulf, Richfield, and Amerada. Leading steels also gave ground despite another increase in production to the best level since early last December. U. S. Steel, Youngstown and Lukens all lost more than a point.

Chance Vought featured the aircrafts with a gain of more than a point. Tire stocks were weak spots, with Firestone, Goodrich and Goodyear all off more than a point. General Electric, which is engaged in contract talks, lost a point in the electrical equipments. Zenith fell more than 3 in the televisions on a statement by its president that earnings may not be as good as some have expected.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 heart	Pass	2 hearts
Pass	4 hearts	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Diamond ace.

This column has on occasions presented examples of dummy reversals and less frequently a hand illustrating some type of squeeze.

Fancy my temerity today, therefore, when in a single offering I have Mr. South, in traditional fettle, bringing home a winner by means of a dummy reversal play combined with a squeeze. If this gets by the editor's desk, I promise never to risk it again.

Against four hearts, West opened the singleton ace of diamonds and shifted to a club in an effort to get partner in for the ruff. East obliged with the king of clubs and returned the queen of diamonds, West ruffing away declarer's king. The defense had gotten off to a three trick lead while declarer was still in the starting gate carrying excess weight in what appeared to be an inevitable diamond loser.

West led another club and declarer ruffed in his hand. South saw a chance to win the hand if East had the Q-J of spades. He led a heart to dummy and ruffed a club with the king of hearts, returned to the dummy with the jack of hearts to the queen, and ruffed the last club with the 10 of trumps.

Declarer now led his remaining trump to North's nine and followed with dummy's last trump. At this point East was left with the Q-J-7 of spades and the jack of diamonds—and found it impossible to make a safe discard. If he let go a spade South would shed the eight of diamonds. If he let go the diamond South would part with the spade and his eight of diamonds would be the 10th and fulfilling trick.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed mostly steady to firm today on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up ⅛ to off ¼ cent; corn (old) up ⅛ to ¼ cent; (new) up ¼ to ⅜ cent; oats off ⅛ to 1⅛ cents; rye up ¼ to ¾ cent; soybeans up ⅜ to 1 cent.

Trade in most grains was quiet, slow and rather dull.

Wheat prices retained part of their early advances, but early buying soon dwindled and the market became a dull affair. There was moderate selling by commercial houses. No one, however, seemed eager to press the selling side.

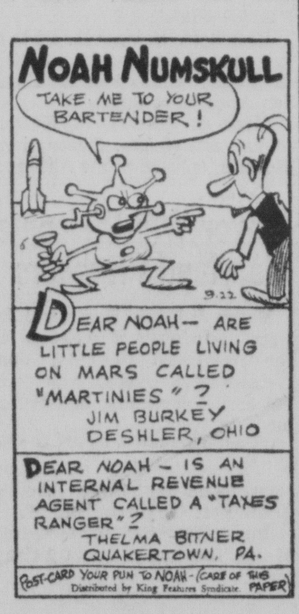

Light offerings and a buying of old December corn kept crop prices rather firm. Commercial houses again led the selling of new December deliveries.

Northwest brokers sold March oats, but trade remained quiet.

Large August crushings and international tension brought firmness into soybean futures. Commercial houses did some buying. New crop bookings were reported light at some local terminals, although heavy in St. Louis area markets. The range:

Profit-Taking Pressure Forces Market Decline

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks ran into profit - taking Monday which lopped off almost one billion dollars from market valuations. Trading failed to match Friday's pace.

The realizing came on the heel's of last week's advance to around the best levels in history in the general list. Some late support helped to lift the list from its worst levels, but at the close all major groups measured by the averages were lower.

Low-priced autos dominated the trading throughout the day. Studebaker Packard added a major fraction. Metals showed some wide changes as leaders in this group reacted differently to President Eisenhower's decision to limit imports of lead and zinc.

Miami Copper ran up 2 points to feature on the upside while National Lead lost more than a point. In the aluminums, Reynolds rose 1½ but Alcoa slipped 1⅝.

Some of the oils were under pressure, with losses of a point or more appearing in Gulf, Richfield, and Amerada. Leading steels also gave ground despite another increase in production to the best level since early last December. U. S. Steel, Youngstown and Lukens all lost more than a point.

Chance Vought featured the aircrafts with a gain of more than a point. Tire stocks were weak spots, with Firestone, Goodrich and Goodyear all off more than a point. General Electric, which is engaged in contract talks, lost a point in the electrical equipments. Zenith fell more than 3 in the televisions on a statement by its president that earnings may not be as good as some have expected.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 heart	Pass	2 hearts
Pass	4 hearts	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Diamond ace.

This column has on occasions presented examples of dummy reversals and less frequently a hand illustrating some type of squeeze.

Fancy my temerity today, therefore, when in a single offering I have Mr. South, in traditional fettle, bringing home a winner by means of a dummy reversal play combined with a squeeze. If this gets by the editor's desk, I promise never to risk it again.

Against four hearts, West opened the singleton ace of diamonds and shifted to a club in an effort to get partner in for the ruff. East obliged with the king of clubs and returned the queen of diamonds, West ruffing away declarer's king. The defense had gotten off to a three trick lead while declarer was still in the starting gate carrying excess weight in what appeared to be an inevitable diamond loser.

West led another club and declarer ruffed in his hand. South saw a chance to win the hand if East had the Q-J of spades. He led a heart to dummy and ruffed a club with the king of hearts, returned to the dummy with the jack of hearts to the queen, and ruffed the last club with the 10 of trumps.

Declarer now led his remaining trump to North's nine and followed with dummy's last trump. At this point East was left with the Q-J-7 of spades and the jack of diamonds—and found it impossible to make a safe discard. If he let go a spade South would shed the eight of diamonds. If he let go the diamond South would part with the spade and his eight of diamonds would be the 10th and fulfilling trick.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed mostly steady to firm today on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up ⅛ to off ¼ cent; corn (old) up ⅛ to ¼ cent; (new) up ¼ to ⅜ cent; oats off ⅞ to 1⅛ cents; rye up ¼ to ⅜ cent; soybeans up ⅜ to 1 cent.

Trade in most grains was quiet, slow and rather dull.

Wheat prices retained part of their early advances, but early buying soon dwindled and the market became a dull affair. There was moderate selling by commercial houses. No one, however, seemed eager to press the selling side.

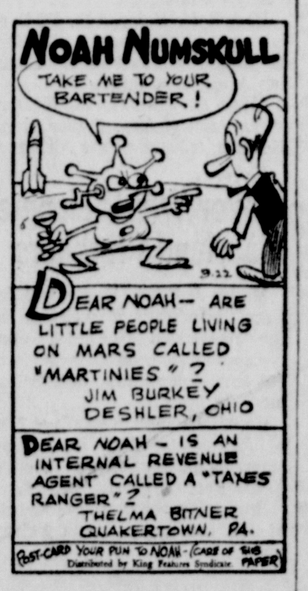

Light offerings and a buying of old December corn kept crop prices rather firm. Commercial houses again led the selling of new December deliveries.

Northwest brokers sold March oats, but trade remained quiet.

Large August crushings and international tension brought firmness into soybean futures. Commercial houses did some buying. New crop bookings were reported light at some local terminals, although heavy in St. Louis area markets. The range:

Jail Escapee Gets Year In Garrett Trial

Forger Is Given Suspended Term

Several criminal and appeal cases were heard yesterday during the opening session of the September term of the Garrett County Circuit Court in Oakland. Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley presided.

Wayne Erwin Pigott, of Deer Park, who was on trial for escaping from the county jail while awaiting grand jury action and also for breaking and entering, was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction on each of the two counts.

The judge said the two sentences would run concurrently. Pigott pleaded guilty yesterday.

In another criminal case, Robert Lichliter of Oakland, indicted for forgery by the grand jury, entered a plea of guilty and was given a two-year sentence in the Maryland Penitentiary. The sentence was suspended and Lichliter was placed on probation. He was charged with altering an auto title.

An appeal from a decision by Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders of Oakland, was also disposed of yesterday. The sentence passed by Magistrate Sanders was a year in the House of Correction.

He was sentenced to two years in the Maryland House of Correction. The sentence was suspended and Parrish was placed on probation. He was charged with larceny from a Deep Creek Lake cabin.

Garrett County Man Acquitted In Arson Case

A man who has served prison sentences for arson was acquitted of a statutory arson charge yesterday in Garrett County Circuit Court on his plea that he set fire to a brushy area at the owner's request.

The Department of Forests and Parks had brought charges against Lynn Morgan, 59, of Mt. Lake Park, for burning brush off land around a small lake owned by Ray Kight, also of Mt. Lake Park, last April 23.

At a hearing before a trial magistrate, Morgan pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction, the minimum sentence.

Horace P. Whitworth Jr., Westernport attorney, said a number of people in the Mt. Lake Park area felt the charge had been filed against Morgan largely because he had served time in the House of Correction and in the Maryland Penitentiary for arson.

They took up a collection for Morgan's defense and asked Whitworth to take the case.

Mr. Whitworth then filed an appeal in Circuit Court on the strength of Mr. Morgan's assertion that Mr. Kight had asked him to burn the brush and otherwise clean up the lake area. In return, Morgan was to receive the right to fish in the lake.

At the hearing on the appeal yesterday, several persons testified that this had been a standing arrangement between Mr. Kight and Mr. Morgan. Mr. Kight was not in court to testify.

The jury took about 30 minutes to sustain Morgan's appeal.

Two Persons Hurt In Crash

Treated at Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the nose, chin and knee was Marcella M. Adams, 18, of 310 Grand Avenue. Her father, William M. Adams, 42, sustained a deep laceration of the forehead in the collision. Neither was admitted, hospital attendants said.

Officer Carl Williams said the girl apparently became confused when she turned off Greenway Avenue onto Williams Street and pressed the accelerator, causing the car to swerve into the pole.

There was considerable damage to the car, he said. No charges were preferred.

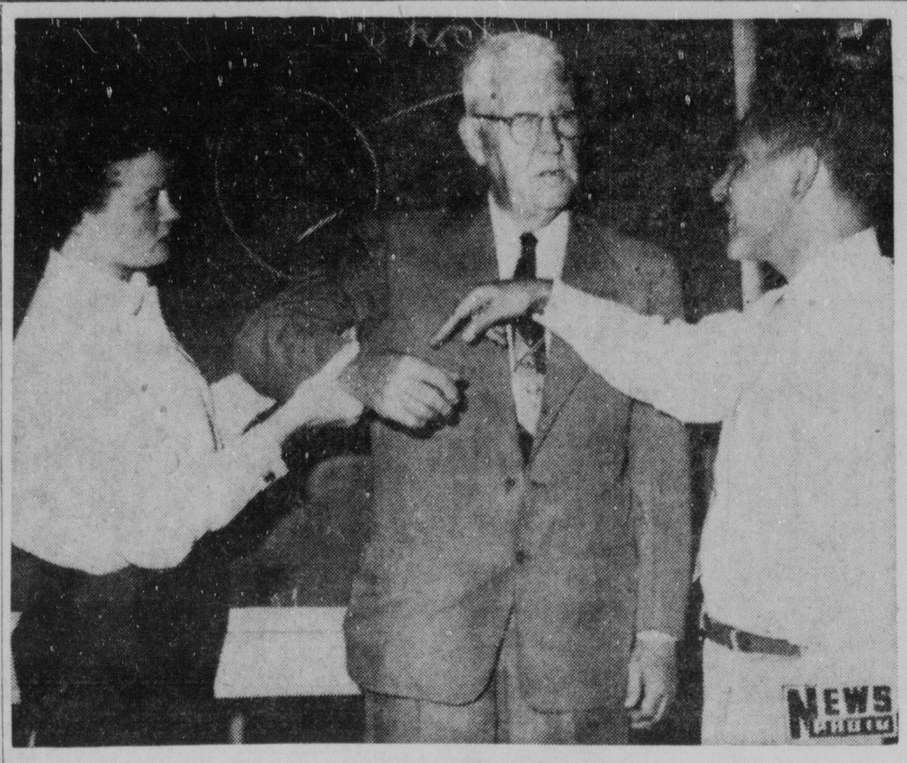

Births

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. James Herpick, 510 Necessity Street, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ringer, Washington, D. C., a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald G. Schad, Hyndman, Pa., a daughter last night.

First Aid Techniques

Allegany County Chapter American Red Cross is sponsoring this week a series of special classes for Red Cross instructors. New techniques and up-to-date methods are being emphasized, along with refresher work in other routine first aid treatments. Shown here are two local instructors, Mrs. Bertha Rice and Karl G. Perry, along with Eugene Husik, of Alexandria, Va., Eastern Area first aid and water safety director for the American Red Cross, who is conducting the course here.

Senior Scouts Planning Annual Washington Tour

The trip is being held under the auspices and organizational control of the Tri-Towns Senior Scout Council. Explorer Boy Scouts, Senior Girl Scouts, and adults connected with senior scouting in the area covered by Potomac Council are eligible to attend.

Alton Fortney, Luke, will be director of the trip and applications for the trip must be made through him not later than Tuesday, September 30. The number of reservations is limited and those interested in the trip are requested to make reservations as soon as possible.

The group will depart Friday, October 17, and will return home Sunday, October 19.

The itinerary for the trip is not yet complete, but the group will be housed at the National Girl Scout Camp in Bethesda. Girls will sleep indoors and the boys will camp out.

Plans are being made for the scouts to visit the Department of Justice, the Lincoln Memorial, Fort Myer and Bolling Air Force Base. If the weather permits, the Explorer Scouts may have an air flight from Bolling Field and the Senior Girl Scouts may fly from National Airport.

Mr. Fortney pointed out that those boys or girls who wish to take one of the flights will be required to fill out a special form before the tour group leaves here.

The group will leave from Westernport, and arrangements will be made to pick up other groups along the way. The scouts will travel by bus and the luggage will be carried by truck.

The scouts must be at least 14 years old and uniforms will be required while on the trip.

Around The World Minstrel Tickets Now Available

Tickets are now available for the Men of LaSalle production, "Around the World in Forty Minutes," a minstrel to be staged Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Carroll Hall.

John J. O'Donnell, director, said tickets may be purchased at the Coyle Furniture Store and Windsor Newsstand, Baltimore Street, and at Keech's Drugstores on Virginia Avenue.

They may also be purchased from Men of LaSalle, members of the cast, students of LaSalle High School and at the Brothers House.

The Sunday matinee begins at 2:30 p. m., and the evening performances will begin at 8:15 p. m.

County Hi-Y Council Holds First Meeting

The Allegany County Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Council held its first meeting of the year Sunday at Frostburg Methodist Church with 90 members in attendance.

Richard Aldstadt, LaVale, handwriting expert, spoke.

Carolyn Cook of Beall Tri-Hi-Y, president of the council, was in charge of the meeting at which a committee of one member from each school was appointed to plan details of an all-county Hi-Y dance to be held in November at Central YMCA in Cumberland.

Newly elected officers of the group were introduced and the group decided to hold its next meeting on October 12 at 2 p. m. at Central YMCA. The Allegany Tri-Hi-Y Club will be hostesses for the event.

A trio from Beall, Marcia Barclay, Patty Delbrook and Janet Nelson sang. Group singing was led by Marjorie Nicklin of Allegany Tri-Hi-Y. Becky Haines, also of Allegany, gave a brief report on the officers training camp held two weeks ago at Pleasant Grove, Garrett County.

Devotions were held by the chaplain, Dorothy Hill of Beall Tri-Hi-Y.

B. U. Smith, youth director of Central YMCA, attended the meeting at which Fort Hill, Allegany, Beall, Valley, and Bruce Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs were represented.

Legion To Meet

Juvenile Court Kept Busy Hearing Truancy Cases

Authorities in Juvenile Court were kept busy yesterday hearing truancy cases which were referred to the court by the Allegany County Board of Education.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson ordered a 15-year-old local boy sent to the Maryland Training School for violating his probation in connection with being truant from school.

Magistrate Anderson also heard eight other truancy cases which resulted in probation for several youths and warnings for the others.

The cases of the youths being truant from school were referred to the court by Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Board of Education.

A Flintstone area youth also was given a hearing yesterday for breaking and entering and theft of articles from cabins in the Town Creek area.

Magistrate Anderson found the youth guilty of being a delinquent minor and placed him on probation for at least six months. He also ordered the youth to surrender his auto driver's license.

The youth broke into several cabins and stole several guns, ammunition and a radio, but the court was informed that all the stolen articles had been recovered.

The investigation of the breaking and enterings and thefts was conducted by Tfc. Jack Browning of the State Police.

Holy Name Event Set

The Western Maryland Section of the Archdiocesan Holy Name Union will hold its annual communion mass and breakfast Sunday, October 26, at St. Mary's Catholic Church here.

Francis L. Werner, president of the section, asked that all members attend the 9 a. m. mass and the communion breakfast afterwards in the church social hall.

Rev. Francis E. Montgomery, pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church in Frostburg, has been appointed spiritual director of the Western Maryland Section, succeeding the late Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan.

His appointment was announced yesterday in Baltimore by Rev. John C. Griffith, director of the Archdiocesan Holy Name Society.

The next business meeting of the Western Maryland Section will be held December 14 at St. Michael's Church. Officers will be elected at that meeting. James L. Coyle is chairman of the nominating committee.

Pa. Man Given Hearing In Cigaret Theft

Harvey Posts Bond For October Court

Piney Harvey, 46, of Connellsville, Pa., was given a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court on a charge of receiving stolen goods in the theft of several cases of cigarets here last month.

At the hearing yesterday, City Police Detective James E. Van prayed a jury trial and Magistrate J. Milton Dick accepted bond of $1,000 for Harvey's appearance before the October term of the Allegany County Circuit Court.

Harvey was arrested here last Friday by City Police on a charge of receiving stolen goods, taken in the theft of eight cases of cigarets from the Harris Motor Express August 11.

Lt. Van said Harvey had received the stolen goods from Eugene Swick and Martin Luther Hare, city.

Swick was arrested by City Police August 17 and charged with burglary in the theft of the cigarets. He was released after posting $2,500 bond.

Hare, who was arrested here August 18, was charged with the theft of $200 worth of copper wire from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He is being held in Mineral County Jail in Keyser on $1,000 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury.

Lt. Van said yesterday he has sent a Maryland detainer warrant to Keyser against Hare. Hare also will be charged with breaking and entering and the theft from the motor express company.

County Issues Home Permits

Permits for three homes, which will cost a total of about $25,000 to construct, have been issued by the Allegany County Assessing Department.

George P. Davis, Walker Road, LaVale, was granted a permit to build a brick house with garage in the vicinity of Vocke Road in District 29. He said the house, which will cost about $12,000 to construct, will have a concrete block foundation, composition shingle roof and a cellar.

John B. Wentling, Route 3, Bedford Road, was issued a permit to build a $9,000 house in District 21. He said the 54 by 35 feet frame and brick house will have a concrete block foundation and composition shingle roof and cellar.

William Mathews, of Route 3, Keyser, plans to build a home at a cost of about $3,500 on land near Dawson in District 31. The 28 feet by 30 feet concrete block home will have a similar foundation and composition shingle roof with cellar.

City Police Check Number Of Thefts

City police are investigating a number of thefts which have been reported to them yesterday and Sunday.

James Collins, 413 Beall Street, reported an $85 portable radio was taken from a shelf of the kitchen at the Knights of Columbus picnic grounds on August 31. The radio had been placed on the shelf for safekeeping, he said, but when he returned it was missing.

Forrest B. Paige, 112 Spruce Street, reported a pair of tan trousers was taken from a clothesline in the rear yard at his home sometime Sunday night.

John Newcomb, 215 Virginia Avenue, reported two cigaret lighters and a chrome case pocket watch were taken from his store Saturday.

Traffic Plan Decision Is Due This Week

Merchants Differ On Solution

Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming said last night the Police Department will announce this week a decision on the North Mechanic and Centre Street traffic problem.

Mr. Fleming met yesterday afternoon with some 12 merchants who operate in the area to discuss the traffic situation in that section.

He said some of the merchants were for, and some against, a proposal to remove the 4-6 p. m. traffic ban.

Many of the merchants, he added, felt they would like to go back to the old system, at least for a trial period.

An alternative which was discussed was the use of double-headed parking meters which would give some relief as they would reduce the need of vehicles backing into parking spaces, according to plans.

Mr. Fleming said he will meet tomorrow with Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Attorney William R. Carscaden to discuss the situation and decide on a program.

The plan adopted, he said, will be acted on at Monday's meeting of the Mayor and Council.

Also slated for action Monday, he said, will be some adjustment in police fines for parking violations.

Driver Gets Six Months On 3 Counts

At a hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court a local man was fined a total of $400 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction on three motor violations.

Donald Owen Fuller, 32, of Oldtown Road, was fined $100 for operating a vehicle on a revoked license, $50 for reckless driving and $250 for operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor or drugs.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick, who conducted the hearing, also sentenced Fuller to six months on the third charge, but suspended the jail term. The $50 fine on the reckless driving charge also was suspended.

Magistrate Dick ordered Fuller committed to Allegany County Jail for 120 days in default of the two fines.

Fuller was operating a car owned by John R. Darr, 209 Bedford Street, who also was committed to jail in default of a fine on a motor violation.

Magistrate Dick fined Darr $50 for allowing an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle. He was jailed for 30 days in default.

City Police Officer Clarence Valentine arrested Fuller Saturday evening at the corner of Yale Street and Baltimore Avenue.

Magistrate Dick said yesterday that Fuller has a long list of motor violations.

Four Area Men Enlist In Army

Four area men have enlisted in the Army here, according to M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley, local recruiter.

Wilbur E. Hite, 20, this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin W. Hite, enlisted in the Military Police. He is a veteran of six months' prior Army service.

George A. Mycum, 19, Valley Road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Mycum, also enlisted in the Military Police. He recently served six months in the Army. He and Hite enlisted under the "Buddy Plan."

Hartell E. Haines, 17, RFD 4, city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E Haines, enlisted in the Regular Army unassigned.

Clyde C. Roberts, 19, Keyser, W.Va., son of Mrs. Sidney Irene Roberts, enlisted in the Airborne.

Mayor Will Welcome Maryland Plumbers

Mayor J. Edwin Keech will deliver the address of welcome as the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Maryland open their 73d annual convention here Saturday.

He is scheduled to speak at 9:30 a. m. as the state association opens its annual business meeting in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Boys Are Arrested For Shooting Rifle

Three young boys were picked up yesterday evening by City Police who said they were discharging firearms within the city limits.

Police lectured the three boys, 16, 13 and 11 years of age before releasing them after they admitted shooting a .22 calibre rifle on a playground near Princeton Street. The weapon, which belonged to an uncle of one of the boys, was confiscated by police.

29 Oak Wilt Areas Found In Western Maryland

A recent air reconnaissance over the four westernmost counties of Maryland disclosed that 29 woodland areas were infected with oak wilt.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the areas extended from the Savage River Dam section in Garrett County east to the Clear Spring area in Washington County.

To date, a total of 23 of the infected areas have been eradicated by a forestry crew led by Thomas Dixon, forest guard of Green Ridge state forest.

Some 812 man hours were spent in the eradication program and the men traveled a distance of 1,852 miles in a 28-day period.

Five of the infected areas, Mr. Johnson said, have been set up as a study plot for five years' investigation into the spread of the disease. It is hoped to prove or disprove the merits of respective control measures now used by agencies in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

In Maryland the practice has been to cut the infected trees and treat the logs with insecticides and fungicides, the premise being that this would prevent the formation of spores or fungalmats dispersing spores from the wood.

In addition all oak trees within 50 feet of infection have been either cut, or girdled and poisoned. This is done to prevent the spread of disease by root grafts. For the most part, he said, control measures used by Maryland have been successful in preventing immediate spread in the areas which were located.

A study by the U. S. Forest Service should determine whether detailed control methods used in Maryland are necessary in its entirety or whether the system used in West Virginia, where only infected trees are eradicated, can be used with equal success.

Baptist Mission School Planned Here Next Week

Different missionaries will speak on a rotating basis at the participating churches in the school of missions.

Foreign, home and state missionaries who will take part in the program are Mrs. Robert Bausum of Kentucky, missionary to Formosa; Richard Ledbetter of Baltimore; William R. Barkley, of Baltimore; Dallas C. Bivins, Smyrna, Ga.; C. F. Yarnell Tennessee missionary to Malaya; John P. Meiss, Plainview, N. Y.; Glen Grober, Missouri missionary to Brazil; Paul R. Becker, Syracuse, N. Y.; Luke Walter of Baltimore; Miss Lucy Smith, Oklahoma missionary to Japan; and Curtis E. Sanders, Columbia, Miss.

The missionary speakers will conduct morning and evening services Sunday at First Baptist Church, Cumberland; Second Baptist Church; Grace Baptist Church; Bedford Road Baptist Church; LaVale Baptist Church; Welsh Baptist Church; English Baptist Church; First Baptist Church of Westernport; Christ Memorial Baptist Church; Mt. Lake Baptist Church; and Deep Creek Baptist Church.

Services also will be held each evening at 7:30 p. m. in each of the churches.

John Humbird PTA Planning Amateur Night In November

An amateur night program is being planned for November by the PTA of John Humbird School. The program will be open to all pupils in the school, according to Mrs. Sarah Berry, president of the association.

During a recent meeting the budget was read and approved and committee chairmen were introduced by Mrs. Berry.

Miss Sara E. Wright, school principal, introduced the faculty members and urged parents to enroll in the adult education courses which began this week. The first and second grades of Mrs. Ruth Wolford won the first prize for having the most parents present.

Miss Georgia Russell gave a vocal selection and PTA members presented two skits. Refreshments were served.

344 Register To Vote On Final Day

Books To Reopen On November 20

Last-minute registrants yesterday kept the office force busy at the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors in the basement of the Court House. Some 344 persons registered in the county.

A total of 197 persons made the deadline at the office here and are included among those who are now eligible to cast ballots in the general election on November 4.

Registrars at Lonaconing, Frostburg, Mt. Savage and Westernport also had a busy day. Last night the registration books were officially closed, and they will not be reopened until November 20.

Irvin J. Neat, clerk of the board, said 120 Democrats and 76 Republicans, as well as one Independent, registered at the local office during the day.

Some 48 Republicans and nine Democrats inked their names to the books in Lonaconing. At Frostburg there were 31 Democrats, 14 Republicans and one Independent.

Figures at Mt. Savage show that 21 Republicans and 10 Democrats signed up in that community, while at Westernport 12 Democrats and one Republican were registered.

Mr. Neat said the overall total of registered voters in Allegany County is approaching the 38,000 mark. Of the total number of persons who registered yesterday in the county, 182 are Democrats, 160 Republicans, and two Independents.

County Is Third In Poultry Event At College Park

Allegany County fared well in the Maryland State 4-H Club Poultry Judging Contest Saturday at College Park.

The four-member team placed third in competition with eight teams throughout the state. Carroll County placed first, while Baltimore County took second place honors.

Some 27 young 4-H club members participated in the contest. Those representing Allegany County were David Norris and Tony Liller of Baltimore Pike and James Garland and James Heavener, Union Grove.

They were accompanied to the contest by James B. Arnold, assistant county farm agent, and Willys Wilson, Union Grove, local 4-H Club leader. This was their first attempt at judging in a state event.

Soil Supervisors Will Meet Friday

Soil Conservation district supervisors of Allegany County will meet Friday at 1 p. m. in the office of County Farm Agent Joseph M. Steger in the Court House.

Plans for a district cooperators' meeting will be discussed. The tentative date has been set for October 8 at 8 p. m. in the LaVale Fire Hall.

This is the first time such a meeting has been planned. The program will be lined up at the Friday meeting. Cooperators are those farmers in the county who are cooperating with the SCS in conserving the soil and water of the farmland.

Toy Collection Is Still Slow

The Associated Charities reported yesterday that the collection of toys for Christmas distribution has been slow.

Those who have repairable toys are urged to notify the CUF agency as soon as the toys are rounded up.

Considerable time is needed, it was pointed out, to repair and paint the toys and all work must be completed by early December.

Adults' Cooking Course Will Begin At Fort Hill

A course in cooking, which is available to adults of Allegany County, will have its opening session this evening at 7:15 in Room 225 at Fort Hill High School.

Miss Yola Hudson, home economics teacher at Fort Hill, will be instructor of the school, which is part of the adult education program of the Board of Education.

The course of 24 lessons will be conducted each Tuesday evening, according to Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics of county public schools.

She said there will be a series of demonstrations centering on meal planning and preparation, economic use of time, money and energy as well as the preparing of pastries.

The use of the stove and other cooking equipment will be stressed. And there will be unusual and different dishes included in the large number of recipes. Party and entertainment dishes will be prepared.

At the conclusion of each session the prepared dishes will be sampled by those in attendance. Interested persons may register this evening at the school.

Young Romney Man Charged With Assault

Luther D. Wolfe Held On $2,500 Bond

Luther D. Wolfe, 20-year-old Romney man, yesterday was formally charged with assault with attempt to rape a 25-year-old woman as she walked on a Romney street Saturday evening.

Held for action of the December grand jury in Hampshire County, W. Va., on $2,500 bond, young Wolfe is in the county jail at Romney.

Authorities said the man waived a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell, who then set bond on the charge.

Wolfe is charged with attacking Miss Lena Nazelrod, who lives about one-half mile east of Romney on U. S. Route 50, as she was strolling along the eastern limits of the city about 8:30 p. m. (EST) Saturday.

Miss Nazelrod told city and state police she was grabbed by the young man who had stopped to talk to her a few minutes earlier.

Her clothing was torn in the struggle and there were numerous scratches and bruises on her face, neck and legs, police said.

She was thrown to the ground in a nearby lawn during the assault but her attacker apparently was frightened away by residents in the area who heard her outcries and sounds of the struggle.

Wolfe was picked up a short time later at his home in Romney.

State Police said last night a doctor's examination indicated the woman had not been raped.

SRC, Council Will Discuss Local Thruway

The Mayor and Council will meet with the Maryland State Roads Commission here Friday to discuss the Cumberland Thruway project.

The meeting will open at 9:30 a. m. in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech and will end in time for all of the state and city officials to go to Polish Mountain for ribbon-cutting ceremonies scheduled at 11:30 a. m.

City officials expect to get a complete briefing on current plans of the SRC for the big Thruway project which was started this summer as a contract was let for a section of the Industrial Highway in South Cumberland.

All members of the Mayor and Council have been invited to attend the ceremony on Polish Mountain, where Governor McKeldin will officially open the 1.9 miles of Route 40 which is being modernized at a cost of $1,594,000.

Tax Collections Begin Rolling

About $40,000 was collected on Friday, the first day after bills were placed in the mails.

Yesterday's collections will be even better, as the total had reached the $35,000 mark by 2 p. m.

A steady stream of taxpayers came to City Hall yesterday to pay the tax and water-sewage bills.

Fire Destroys Large Barn

A large, apparently unused barn on the Lear Twigg farm on Christie Road was destroyed by flames late last night. The fire broke out about 10:15 p. m. and was discovered by occupants of a neighboring farm who called volunteer firemen to the scene.

Miss Janet Stegmaier, who resides at the Stegmaier Farm, said she returned from work about 10 p. m. and did not see any signs of a blaze when she passed the old barn.

About 15 minutes later, however, she noticed flames shooting skyward when she looked out a window of her home, and called volunteer firemen.

Jail Escapee Gets Year In Garrett Trial

Forger Is Given Suspended Term

Several criminal and appeal cases were heard yesterday during the opening session of the September term of the Garrett County Circuit Court in Oakland. Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley presided.

Wayne Erwin Pigott, of Deer Park, who was on trial for escaping from the county jail while awaiting grand jury action and also for breaking and entering, was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction on each of the two counts.

The judge said the two sentences would run concurrently. Pigott pleaded guilty yesterday.

In another criminal case, Robert Lichliter of Oakland, indicted for forgery by the grand jury, entered a plea of guilty and was given a two-year sentence in the Maryland Penitentiary. The sentence was suspended and Lichliter was placed on probation. He was charged with altering an auto title.

An appeal from a decision by Trial Magistrate Boyd Sanders of Oakland, was also disposed of yesterday. The sentence passed by Magistrate Sanders was a year in the House of Correction.

David Parrish, of Swanton, who had been found guilty by the magistrate, yesterday pleaded guilty in a jury trial and was found guilty.

He was sentenced to two years in the Maryland House of Correction. The sentence was suspended and Parrish was placed on probation. He was charged with larceny from a Deep Creek Lake cabin.

Garrett County Man Acquitted In Arson Case

A man who has served prison sentences for arson was acquitted of a statutory arson charge yesterday in Garrett County Circuit Court on his plea that he set fire to a brushy area at the owner's request.

The Department of Forests and Parks had brought charges against Lynn Morgan, 59, of Mt. Lake Park, for burning brush off land around a small lake owned by Ray Kight, also of Mt. Lake Park, last April 23.

At a hearing before a trial magistrate, Morgan pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction, the minimum sentence.

Horace P. Whitworth Jr., Westernport attorney, said a number of people in the Mt. Lake Park area felt the charge had been filed against Morgan largely because he had served time in the House of Correction and in the Maryland Penitentiary for arson.

They took up a collection for Morgan's defense and asked Whitworth to take the case.

Mr. Whitworth then filed an appeal in Circuit Court on the strength of Mr. Morgan's assertion that Mr. Kight had asked him to burn the brush and otherwise clean up the lake area. In return, Morgan was to receive the right to fish in the lake.

At the hearing on the appeal yesterday, several persons testified that this had been a standing arrangement between Mr. Kight and Mr. Morgan. Mr. Kight was not in court to testify.

The jury took about 30 minutes to sustain Morgan's appeal.

Two Persons Hurt In Crash

A young girl student driver and her father were injured yesterday evening when their car smashed into a utility pole on Williams Street near the intersection of Greenway Avenue.

Treated at Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the nose, chin and knee was Marcella M. Adams, 18, of 310 Grand Avenue. Her father, William M. Adams, 42, sustained a deep laceration of the forehead in the collision. Neither was admitted, hospital attendants said.

Officer Carl Williams said the girl apparently became confused when she turned off Greenway Avenue onto Williams Street and pressed the accelerator, causing the car to swerve into the pole.

There was considerable damage to the car, he said. No charges were preferred.

Senior Scouts Planning Annual Washington Tour

Applications are now being accepted for the tenth annual Senior Scouts' trip to the Washington, D. C., area next month.

The trip is being held under the auspices and organizational control of the Tri-Towns Senior Scout Council. Explorer Boy Scouts, Senior Girl Scouts, and adults connected with senior scouting in the area covered by Potomac Council are eligible to attend.

Alton Fortney, Luke, will be director of the trip and applications for the trip must be made through him not later than Tuesday, September 30. The number of reservations is limited and those interested in the trip are requested to make reservations as soon as possible.

The group will depart Friday, October 17, and will return home Sunday, October 19.

The itinerary for the trip is not yet complete, but the group will be housed at the National Girl Scout Camp in Bethesda. Girls will sleep indoors and the boys will camp out.

Plans are being made for the scouts to visit the Department of Justice, the Lincoln Memorial, Fort Myer and Bolling Air Force Base. If the weather permits, the Explorer Scouts may have an air flight from Bolling Field and the Senior Girl Scouts may fly from National Airport.

Mr. Fortney pointed out that those boys or girls who wish to take one of the flights will be required to fill out a special form before the tour group leaves here.

The group will leave from Westernport, and arrangements will be made to pick up other groups along the way. The scouts will travel by bus and the luggage will be carried by truck.

The scouts must be at least 14 years old and uniforms will be required while on the trip.

Around The World Minstrel Tickets Now Available

Tickets are now available for the Men of LaSalle production, "Around the World in Forty Minutes," a minstrel to be staged Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Carroll Hall.

John J. O'Donnell, director, said tickets may be purchased at the Coyle Furniture Store and Windsor Newsstand, Baltimore Street, and at Keech's Drugstores on Virginia Avenue.

They may also be purchased from Men of LaSalle, members of the cast, students of LaSalle High School and at the Brothers House.

The Sunday matinee begins at 2:30 p. m., and the evening performances will begin at 8:15 p. m.

County Hi-Y Council Holds First Meeting

The Allegany County Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Council held its first meeting of the year Sunday at Frostburg Methodist Church with 90 members in attendance.

Richard Aldstadt, LaVale, handwriting expert, spoke.

Carolyn Cook of Beall Tri-Hi-Y, president of the council, was in charge of the meeting at which a committee of one member from each school was appointed to plan details of an all-county Hi-Y dance to be held in November at Central YMCA in Cumberland.

Newly elected officers of the group were introduced and the group decided to hold its next meeting on October 12 at 2 p. m. at Central YMCA. The Allegany Tri-Hi-Y Club will be hostesses for the event.

A trio from Beall, Marcia Barclay, Patty Delbrook and Janet Nelson sang. Group singing was led by Marjorie Nicklin of Allegany Tri-Hi-Y. Becky Haines, also of Allegany, gave a brief report on the officers training camp held two weeks ago at Pleasant Grove, Garrett County.

Devotions were held by the chaplain, Dorothy Hill of Beall Tri-Hi-Y.

B. U. Smith, youth director of Central YMCA, attended the meeting at which Fort Hill, Allegany, Beall, Valley, and Bruce Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs were represented.

Legion To Meet

Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight, according to Paul Weisenmiller, post commander.

Holy Name Event Set

The Western Maryland Section of the Archdiocesan Holy Name Union will hold its annual communion mass and breakfast Sunday, October 26, at St. Mary's Catholic Church here.

Francis L. Werner, president of the section, asked that all members attend the 9 a. m. mass and the communion breakfast afterwards in the church social hall.

Rev. Francis E. Montgomery, pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church in Frostburg, has been appointed spiritual director of the Western Maryland Section, succeeding the late Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan.

His appointment was announced yesterday in Baltimore by Rev. John C. Griffith, director of the Archdiocesan Holy Name Society.

The next business meeting of the Western Maryland Section will be held December 14 at St. Michael's Church. Officers will be elected at that meeting. James L. Coyle is chairman of the nominating committee.

Juvenile Court Kept Busy Hearing Truancy Cases

Authorities in Juvenile Court were kept busy yesterday hearing truancy cases which were referred to the court by the Allegany County Board of Education.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson ordered a 15-year-old local boy sent to the Maryland Training School for violating his probation in connection with being truant from school.

Magistrate Anderson also heard eight other truancy cases which resulted in probation for several youths and warnings for the others.

The cases of the youths being truant from school were referred to the court by Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Board of Education.

A Flintstone area youth also was given a hearing yesterday for breaking and entering and theft of articles from cabins in the Town Creek area.

Magistrate Anderson found the youth guilty of being a delinquent minor and placed him on probation for at least six months. He also ordered the youth to surrender his auto driver's license.

The youth broke into several cabins and stole several guns, ammunition and a radio, but the court was informed that all the stolen articles had been recovered.

The investigation of the breaking and enterings and thefts was conducted by Tfc. Jack Browning of the State Police.

Pa. Man Given Hearing In Cigaret Theft

Harvey Posts Bond For October Court

Piney Harvey, 46, of Connellsville, Pa., was given a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court on a charge of receiving stolen goods in the theft of several cases of cigarets here last month.

At the hearing yesterday, City Police Detective James E. Van prayed a jury trial and Magistrate J. Milton Dick accepted bond of $1,000 for Harvey's appearance before the October term of the Allegany County Circuit Court.

Harvey was arrested here last Friday by City Police on a charge of receiving stolen goods, taken in the theft of eight cases of cigarets from the Harris Motor Express August 11.

Lt. Van said Harvey had received the stolen goods from Eugene Swick and Martin Luther Hare, city.

Swick was arrested by City Police August 17 and charged with burglary in the theft of the cigarets. He was released after posting $2,500 bond.

Hare, who was arrested here August 18, was charged with the theft of $200 worth of copper wire from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He is being held in Mineral County Jail in Keyser on $1,000 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury.

Lt. Van said yesterday he has sent a Maryland detainer warrant to Keyser against Hare. Hare also will be charged with breaking and entering and the theft from the motor express company.

County Issues Home Permits

Permits for three homes, which will cost a total of about $25,000 to construct, have been issued by the Allegany County Assessing Department.

George P. Davis, Walker Road, LaVale, was granted a permit to build a brick house with garage in the vicinity of Vocke Road in District 29. He said the house, which will cost about $12,000 to construct, will have a concrete block foundation, composition shingle roof and a cellar.

John B. Wentling, Route 3, Bedford Road, was issued a permit to build a $9,000 house in District 21. He said the 54 by 35 feet frame and brick house will have a concrete block foundation and composition shingle roof and cellar.

William Mathews, of Route 3, Keyser, plans to build a home at a cost of about $3,500 on land near Dawson in District 31. The 28 feet by 30 feet concrete block home will have a similar foundation and composition shingle roof with cellar.

City Police Check Number Of Thefts

City police are investigating a number of thefts which have been reported to them yesterday and Sunday.

James Collins, 413 Beall Street, reported an $85 portable radio was taken from a shelf of the kitchen at the Knights of Columbus picnic grounds on August 31. The radio had been placed on the shelf for safekeeping, he said, but when he returned it was missing.

Forrest B. Paige, 112 Spruce Street, reported a pair of tan trousers was taken from a clothesline in the rear yard at his home sometime Sunday night.

John Newcomb, 215 Virginia Avenue, reported two cigaret lighters and a chrome case pocket watch were taken from his store Saturday.

Traffic Plan Decision Is Due This Week

Merchants Differ On Solution

Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming said last night the Police Department will announce this week a decision on the North Mechanic and Centre Street traffic problem.

Mr. Fleming met yesterday afternoon with some 12 merchants who operate in the area to discuss the traffic situation in that section.

He said some of the merchants were for, and some against, a proposal to remove the 4-6 p. m. traffic ban.

Many of the merchants, he added, felt they would like to go back to the old system, at least for a trial period.

An alternative which was discussed was the use of double-headed parking meters which would give some relief as they would reduce the need of vehicles backing into parking spaces, according to plans.

Mr. Fleming said he will meet tomorrow with Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Attorney William R. Carscaden to discuss the situation and decide on a program.

The plan adopted, he said, will be acted on at Monday's meeting of the Mayor and Council.

Also slated for action Monday, he said, will be some adjustment in police fines for parking violations.

Driver Gets Six Months On 3 Counts

At a hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court a local man was fined a total of $400 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction on three motor violations.

Donald Owen Fuller, 32, of Oldtown Road, was fined $100 for operating a vehicle on a revoked license, $50 for reckless driving and $250 for operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor or drugs.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick, who conducted the hearing, also sentenced Fuller to six months on the third charge, but suspended the jail term. The $50 fine on the reckless driving charge also was suspended.

Magistrate Dick ordered Fuller committed to Allegany County Jail for 120 days in default of the two fines.

Fuller was operating a car owned by John R. Darr, 209 Bedford Street, who also was committed to jail in default of a fine on a motor violation.

Magistrate Dick fined Darr $50 for allowing an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle. He was jailed for 30 days in default.

City Police Officer Clarence Valentine arrested Fuller Saturday evening at the corner of Yale Street and Baltimore Avenue.

Magistrate Dick said yesterday that Fuller has a long list of motor violations.

Four Area Men Enlist In Army

Four area men have enlisted in the Army here, according to M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley, local recruiter.

Wilbur E. Hite, 20, this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin W. Hite, enlisted in the Military Police. He is a veteran of six months' prior Army service.

George A. Mycum, 19, Valley Road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Mycum, also enlisted in the Military Police. He recently served six months in the Army. He and Hite enlisted under the "Buddy Plan."

Hartell E. Haines, 17, RFD 4, city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E Haines, enlisted in the Regular Army unassigned.

Clyde C. Roberts, 19, Keyser, W.Va., son of Mrs. Sidney Irene Roberts, enlisted in the Airborne.

Mayor Will Welcome Maryland Plumbers

Mayor J. Edwin Keech will deliver the address of welcome as the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Maryland open their 73d annual convention here Saturday.

He is scheduled to speak at 9:30 a. m. as the state association opens its annual business meeting in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Registration and social events of the convention begin Friday night.

Boys Are Arrested For Shooting Rifle

Three young boys were picked up yesterday evening by City Police who said they were discharging firearms within the city limits.

Police lectured the three boys, 16, 13 and 11 years of age before releasing them after they admitted shooting a .22 calibre rifle on a playground near Princeton Street. The weapon, which belonged to an uncle of one of the boys, was confiscated by police.

29 Oak Wilt Areas Found In Western Maryland

A recent air reconnaissance over the four westernmost counties of Maryland disclosed that 29 woodland areas were infected with oak wilt.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the areas extended from the Savage River Dam section in Garrett County east to the Clear Spring area in Washington County.

To date, a total of 23 of the infected areas have been eradicated by a forestry crew led by Thomas Dixon, forest guard of Green Ridge state forest.

Some 812 man hours were spent in the eradication program and the men traveled a distance of 1,852 miles in a 28-day period.

Five of the infected areas, Mr. Johnson said, have been set up as a study plot for five years' investigation into the spread of the disease. It is hoped to prove or disprove the merits of respective control measures now used by agencies in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

In Maryland the practice has been to cut the infected trees and treat the logs with insecticides and fungicides, the premise being that this would prevent the formation of spores or fungalmats dispersing spores from the wood.

In addition all oak trees within 50 feet of infection have been either cut, or girdled and poisoned. This is done to prevent the spread of disease by root grafts. For the most part, he said, control measures used by Maryland have been successful in preventing immediate spread in the areas which were located.

A study by the U. S. Forest Service should determine whether detailed control methods used in Maryland are necessary in its entirety or whether the system used in West Virginia, where only infected trees are eradicated, can be used with equal success.

Baptist Mission School Planned Here Next Week

The Baptist churches of the Western Association of Maryland will conduct a school of missions beginning next Sunday and continuing through Friday, October 3.

Different missionaries will speak on a rotating basis at the participating churches in the school of missions.

Foreign, home and state missionaries who will take part in the program are Mrs. Robert Bausum of Kentucky, missionary to Formosa; Richard Ledbetter of Baltimore; William R. Barkley, of Baltimore; Dallas C. Bivins, Smyrna, Ga.; C. F. Yarnell Tennessee missionary to Malaya; John P. Meiss, Plainview, N. Y.; Glen Grober, Missouri missionary to Brazil; Paul R. Becker, Syracuse, N. Y.; Luke Walter of Baltimore; Miss Lucy Smith, Oklahoma missionary to Japan; and Curtis E. Sanders, Columbia, Miss.

The missionary speakers will conduct morning and evening services Sunday at First Baptist Church, Cumberland; Second Baptist Church; Grace Baptist Church; Bedford Road Baptist Church; LaVale Baptist Church; Welsh Baptist Church; English Baptist Church; First Baptist Church of Westernport; Christ Memorial Baptist Church; Mt. Lake Baptist Church; and Deep Creek Baptist Church.

Services also will be held each evening at 7:30 p. m. in each of the churches.

John Humbird PTA Planning Amateur Night In November

An amateur night program is being planned for November by the PTA of John Humbird School. The program will be open to all pupils in the school, according to Mrs. Sarah Berry, president of the association.

During a recent meeting the budget was read and approved and committee chairmen were introduced by Mrs. Berry.

Miss Sara E. Wright, school principal, introduced the faculty members and urged parents to enroll in the adult education courses which began this week. The first and second grades of Mrs. Ruth Wolford won the first prize for having the most parents present.

Miss Georgia Russell gave a vocal selection and PTA members presented two skits. Refreshments were served.

344 Register To Vote On Final Day

Books To Reopen On November 20

Last-minute registrants yesterday kept the office force busy at the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors in the basement of the Court House. Some 344 persons registered in the county.

A total of 197 persons made the deadline at the office here and are included among those who are now eligible to cast ballots in the general election on November 4.

Registrars at Lonaconing, Frostburg, Mt. Savage and Westernport also had a busy day. Last night the registration books were officially closed, and they will not be reopened until November 20.

Irvin J. Neat, clerk of the board, said 120 Democrats and 76 Republicans, as well as one Independent, registered at the local office during the day.

Some 48 Republicans and nine Democrats inked their names to the books in Lonaconing. At Frostburg there were 31 Democrats, 14 Republicans and one Independent.

Figures at Mt. Savage show that 21 Republicans and 10 Democrats signed up in that community, while at Westernport 12 Democrats and one Republican were registered.

Mr. Neat said the overall total of registered voters in Allegany County is approaching the 38,000 mark. Of the total number of persons who registered yesterday in the county, 182 are Democrats, 160 Republicans, and two Independents.

County Is Third In Poultry Event At College Park

Allegany County fared well in the Maryland State 4-H Club Poultry Judging Contest Saturday at College Park.

The four-member team placed third in competition with eight teams from throughout the state. Carroll County placed first, while Baltimore County took second piace honors.

Some 27 young 4-H club members participated in the contest. Those representing Allegany County were David Norris and Tony Liller of Baltimore Pike and James Garland and James Heavener, Union Grove.

They were accompanied to the contest by James B. Arnold, assistant county farm agent, and Willys Wilson, Union Grove, local 4-H Club leader. This was their first attempt at judging in a state event.

Soil Supervisors Will Meet Friday

Soil Conservation district supervisors of Allegany County will meet Friday at 1 p. m. in the office of County Farm Agent Joseph M. Steger in the Court House.

Plans for a district cooperators' meeting will be discussed. The tentative date has been set for October 8 at 8 p. m. in the LaVale Fire Hall.

This is the first time such a meeting has been planned. The program will be lined up at the Friday meeting. Cooperators are those farmers in the county who are cooperating with the SCS in conserving the soil and water of the farmland.

Toy Collection Is Still Slow

The Associated Charities reported yesterday that the collection of toys for Christmas distribution has been slow.

Those who have repairable toys are urged to notify the CUF agency as soon as the toys are rounded up.

Considerable time is needed, it was pointed out, to repair and paint the toys and all work must be completed by early December.

Adults' Cooking Course Will Begin At Fort Hill

A course in cooking, which is available to adults of Allegany County, will have its opening session this evening at 7:15 in Room 225 at Fort Hill High School.

Miss Yola Hudson, home economics teacher at Fort Hill, will be instructor of the school, which is part of the adult education program of the Board of Education.

The course of 24 lessons will be conducted each Tuesday evening, according to Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics of county public schools.

She said there will be a series of demonstrations centering on meal planning and preparation, economic use of time, money and energy as well as the preparing of pastries.

The use of the stove and other cooking equipment will be stressed. And there will be unusual and different dishes included in the large number of recipes. Party and entertainment dishes will be prepared.

At the conclusion of each session the prepared dishes will be sampled by those in attendance. Interested persons may register this evening at the school.

Young Romney Man Charged With Assault

Luther D. Wolfe Held On $2,500 Bond

Luther D. Wolfe, 20-year-old Romney man, yesterday was formally charged with assault with attempt to rape a 25-year-old woman as she walked on a Romney street Saturday evening.

Held for action of the December grand jury in Hampshire County, W. Va., on $2,500 bond, young Wolfe is in the county jail at Romney.

Authorities said the man waived a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell, who then set bond on the charge.

Wolfe is charged with attacking Miss Lena Nazelrod, who lives about one-half mile east of Romney on U. S. Route 50, as she was strolling along the eastern limits of the city about 8:30 p. m. (EST) Saturday.

Miss Nazelrod told city and state police she was grabbed by the young man who had stopped to talk to her a few minutes earlier.

Her clothing was torn in the struggle and there were numerous scratches and bruises on her face, neck and legs, police said.

She was thrown to the ground in a nearby lawn during the assault but her attacker apparently was frightened away by residents in the area who heard her outcries and sounds of the struggle.

Wolfe was picked up a short time later at his home in Romney.

State Police said last night a doctor's examination indicated the woman had not been raped.

SRC, Council Will Discuss Local Thruway

The Mayor and Council will meet with the Maryland State Roads Commission here Friday to discuss the Cumberland Thruway project.

The meeting will open at 9:30 a. m. in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech and will end in time for all of the state and city officials to go to Polish Mountain for ribbon-cutting ceremonies scheduled at 11:30 a. m.

City officials expect to get a complete briefing on current plans of the SRC for the big Thruway project which was started this summer as a contract was let for a section of the Industrial Highway in South Cumberland.

All members of the Mayor and Council have been invited to attend the ceremony on Polish Mountain, where Governor McKeldin will officially open the 1.9 miles of Route 40 which is being modernized at a cost of $1,594,000.

Tax Collections Begin Rolling

City tax collections began rolling along at a good clip yesterday.

About $40,000 was collected on Friday, the first day after bills were placed in the mails.

Yesterday's collections will be even better, as the total had reached the $35,000 mark by 2 p. m.

A steady stream of taxpayers came to City Hall yesterday to pay the tax and water-sewage bills.

Real estate tax bills were mailed last Thursday and statements for personal property of individuals went out Friday afternoon.

Fire Destroys Large Barn

A large, apparently unused barn on the Lear Twigg farm on Christie Road was destroyed by flames late last night. The fire broke out about 10:15 p. m. and was discovered by occupants of a neighboring farm who called volunteer firemen to the scene.

Miss Janet Stegmaier, who resides at the Stegmaier Farm, said she returned from work about 10 p. m. and did not see any signs of a blaze when she passed the old barn.

About 15 minutes later, however, she noticed flames shooting skyward when she looked out a window of her home, and called volunteer firemen.
